States Vladimir Ze'ev Khanin,2023-10-24 Since the end of the USSR post Soviet Jewry has evolved into an ethnically and culturally diverse Russian speaking community This process is taking place against the gradual inflation of a collective identity among Russian speaking Jews that survived the first post Soviet decade The infrastructure for this new entity is provided by new local or ethno civic groups of East European Ashkenazi Jewry with specific communal subcultural and ethno political identities Ukrainian Moldavian or Russian Jews e g These communities demonstrate a changing balance of identification between their countries of residence and the transnational Russian Jewish community and they absorb a significant number of persons of non Jewish and ethnically heterogeneous origins as well This book discusses identity community modes migration dynamics socioeconomic status attitudes toward Israel social and political environments and other parameters framing these trends using the results of a comprehensive sociological study of the extended Jewish population conducted in 2019 2020 by this author in the five former Soviet Union countries Russia Ukraine Belarus Moldova and Kazakhstan

Palestine in EU and Russian Foreign Policy Malath Alagha, 2016-10-04 The establishment of a Palestinian state has long been a strategic objective of EU and Russian foreign policy in the Middle East However over a decade after the creation of the road map the establishment of an independent Palestinian state has still not been achieved Palestine in EU and Russian Foreign Policy uses the school of constructivism to provide a new understanding of EU and Russian foreign policy It explores the failure of these global actors to speed up the process of establishing a Palestinian state despite this being a strategic objective and top priority of their involvement in the Middle East peace process The book then analyses the role of identity and self other perception in the making of EU and Russian foreign policy towards the Middle East peace process It is argued that Palestinian statehood provides a telling empirical example of how and to what extent the search for global actorness as a matter of international identity informs foreign policy making by global actors The book then proceeds to discuss why the EU and Russia are so eager to be involved in initiating a peace settlement Offering a new understanding of foreign policy making by global players in Middle Eastern politics this book will appeal to students scholars and policymakers working in International Relations and European Russian and Middle Eastern studies

Studies in Contemporary Jewry: XI: Values, Interests, and Identity Peter Y. Medding, 1995 This collection of original articles addresses the often conflicting roles of values interests and identity in contemporary Jewish politics with its focus on Jews and contemporary politics particularly the interplay of politics and Jewish history this new work makes an outstanding contribution to the scholarly literature      Art in Ukraine Between Identity Construction and

Anti-Colonial Resistance Svitlana Biedariev, 2024-11-29 This edited volume traces the development of art practices in Ukraine from the 2004 Orange Revolution through the 2013-2014 Revolution of Dignity to the ongoing Russian war of aggression Contributors explore how transformations of identity the emergence of participatory democracy relevant changes to cultural institutions and the realization of the necessity of decolonial release have influenced the focus and themes of contemporary art practices in Ukraine The chapters analyze such important topics as the postcolonial retrieval of the past the deconstruction of post Soviet visualities representations of violence and atrocities in the ongoing Russian war against Ukraine and the notion of art as a mechanism of civic resistance and identity building The book will be of interest to scholars of art history Eastern European studies cultural studies decolonial studies and postcolonial studies      Consumer Culture,

Branding and Identity in the New Russia Graham H.J. Roberts, 2016-04-14 As shopping has been transformed from a chore into a major source of hedonistic pleasure a specifically Russian consumer culture has begun to emerge that is unlike any other This book examines the many different facets of consumption in today's Russia including retailing advertising and social networking Throughout emphasis is placed on the inherently visual not to say spectacular nature both of consumption generally and of Russian consumer culture in particular Particular attention is paid to the ways in which brands both Russian and foreign construct categories of identity in order to claim legitimacy for themselves What emerges is a fascinating picture of how consumer culture is being reinvented in Russia today in a society which has one nostalgic eye turned towards the past and the other utopian eye set firmly on the future Borrowing concepts from both marketing and cultural studies the approach throughout is interdisciplinary and will be of considerable interest to researchers students and practitioners wishing to gain invaluable insights into one of the most lucrative and exciting of today's emerging markets      The Baltic States Thomas

Lane, Artis Pabriks, Aldis Purs, David J. Smith, 2013-11-05 Since the end of the Cold War there has been an increased interest in the Baltics The Baltic States brings together three titles Estonia Latvia and Lithuania to provide a comprehensive and analytical guide integrating history political science economic development and contemporary events into one account Since gaining their independence each country has developed at its own pace with its own agenda and facing its own obstacles The authors examine the tensions accompanying a post communist return to Europe after the long years of separation and how each country has responded to the demands of becoming a modern European state Estonia was the first of the former Soviet republics to enter membership negotiations with the European Union in 1998 and is a potential candidate for the next round of EU expansion in 2004 Lithuania and Latvia have also expressed their desire for future membership of NATO and the EU
