

SHERWOOD ANDERSON SHORT STORIES

Edited and with an Introduction
by Maxwell Geismar

Sherwood Anderson, best known for Winesburg, Ohio, continued until his death to write other fine short stories. In fact, contrary to what many critics say, some of Anderson's best work is his later work, as Maxwell Geismar points out in his critical introduction. (More than half of the stories in this volume are from Anderson's later period, after 1933.)

This comprehensive collection contains tales from The Triumph of the Egg, including "The Egg," the most famous of the group; sad and ironical pieces from Horses and Men; stories from Death in the Woods, which marked Anderson's return to chronicling provincial "small lives"; and some of his final stories from The Sherwood Anderson Reader.

"From the very start of his career . . . Sherwood Anderson belonged to that older order of communal artists who cared, in the deepest, best way, about their own country and their society — and hence were often most deeply critical about it," writes Mr. Geismar.

Maxwell Geismar is the noted critic and author of The Last of the Provincials, American Moderns, and Writers in Crisis, among many other books.

Early life Sherwood Berton Anderson was born on September 13 1876 in Camden Ohio a farming town with a population of around 650 according to the 1870 census He was the third of seven children born to Emma Jane nee Smith and former Union soldier and harness maker Irwin McLain Anderson Considered reasonably well off financially Anderson's father was seen as an up and comer by his Camden contemporaries the family left town just before Sherwood's first birthday. Reasons for the departure are uncertain; most biographers note rumors of debts incurred by either Irwin or his brother Benjamin. The Andersons headed north to Caledonia by way of a brief stay in a village of a few hundred called Independence, now Butler. Four or five years were spent in Caledonia, years which formed Anderson's earliest memories. This period later inspired his semi-autobiographical novel Tar A Midwest Childhood (1926). In Caledonia, Anderson's father began drinking excessively, which led to financial difficulties, eventually causing the family to leave the town. With each move, Irwin Anderson's prospects dimmed. While in Camden, he was the proprietor of a successful shop and could employ an assistant; by the time the Andersons finally settled down in Clyde, Ohio, in 1884, a frontier town, Irwin could only get work as a hired man to harness manufacturers.
