Shewa Menilek And The Ethiopian Empire 1813 1889:

Shewa, Menilek and the Ethiopian Empire 1813-1889 R. H. Kofi Darkwah, 1978 A History of Modern Ethiopia, 1855-1991 Bahru Zewde, 2002-03-17 Bounded by Sudan to the west and north Kenya to the south Somalia to the southeast and Eritrea and Djibouti to the northeast Ethiopia is a pivotal country in the geopolitics of the region Yet it is important to understand this ancient and often splintered country in its own right In A History of Modern Ethiopia Bahru Zewde one of Ethiopia's leading historians provides a compact and comprehensive history of his country particularly the last two centuries Of importance to historians political scientists journalists and Africanists alike Bahru's A History of Modern Ethiopia now with additional material taking it up to the last decade will be the preeminent overview of present day Ethiopia A History of Addis Ababa from Its Foundation in 1886 to 1910 Peter P. Garretson, 1974 This thesis traces aspects of the political economic and religious history of Addis Ababa from 1886 to 1910 It is based largely on documentary material both Ethiopian and European but also depends on oral information As a city it was unique in Africa because of the absence of an imposed European direction of its development and as a result it grew ad hoc influenced by both Ethiopian and foreign concepts of an urban community From the beginnings Emperor Menilek completely dominated the political and administrative machinery of the capital but during his illnesses many of his responsibilities were perforce delegated to his closest associates who exercised their powers largely through the organisation of the Imperial Palace The bureaucracy became increasingly civilian in its personnel rather than military especially after the Battle of Adwa Furthermore since Addis Ababa was also the capital of the empire the city and its administrators played not only a local but also an imperial role The economic influence of the capital was even more pronounced where again the Emperor was more important than any other individual in the land and under his watchful eye foreigners dominated the import and export trade while Christians wrested the overall control of trade in the Empire from the Muslims Yet evangelically the church was rarely very energetic in the capital although its influence was pervasive While many historians have seen Menilek's reign as a period of significant innovation and modernisation this thesis regards that as an exaggerated claim For when closely examined the modernisation of even the capital was never very impressive although it was the acknowledged centre of foreign influence Nonetheless the capital did show itself to be the main point for the diffusion of the few modernisations that were introduced into the country from the 1880s to 1910 The Oromo and the Christian Kingdom of Ethiopia Mohammed Hassen, 2015 First full length history of the Oromo 1300 1700 explains their key part in the medieval Christian kingdom and demonstrates their importance in shaping Ethiopian history The Economics of the Indian Ocean Slave Trade in the Nineteenth Century William Gervase Clarence-Smith, 2013-12-16 First Published in 1989 Well over a million slaves were exported from Indian Ocean and Red Sea ports in Eastern Africa during the nineteenth century and millions more were shifted around the interior of the continent and along the coast of East Africa And yet we still know remarkably little about this great movement of people particularly from an economic point of view This is a collection of twelve essays looking at the economics of the Indian Ocean and the Red Sea Slave trades of the nineteenth century Islam in Nineteenth-Century Wallo, Ethiopia Hussein Ahmed,2021-10-01 While presenting an historical account of the internal dynamics of Islam in Wallo Ethiopia with particular emphasis on the modes of its introduction and dissemination and on its relationship with the Ethiopian state and regional power structure this book describes the background to and manifestations of the revival and consolidation of Islam in the region in the nineteenth century by assessing the role of Muslim scholars traders and chiefs in that process It also traces the origin of the tradition of Islamic renewal and reform and analyzes the response of Wallo Muslim religious intellectuals to the attempt of the Ethiopian Christian monarchs of the period to bring about the political unification of the kingdom by imposing a policy of religious coercion on the Muslims of Wallo Based largely on hitherto untapped oral and written indigenous sources and supplemented by external archival and documentary evidence the study is aimed at redressing the historiographical and interpretive imbalance embedded in the scholarly institutional and popular perceptions on Islam in Ethiopia Land and Society in the Christian Kingdom of Ethiopia Donald Crummey,2000 Land and Society in the Christian Kingdom of Ethiopia offers an original perspective on how the rulers of Ethiopia one of the great subcenters of agricultural innovation and development used land to support their dominion Crummey draws on all the surviving documents pertaining to the holding and granting of agricultural land in the Ethiopian highlands from the thirteenth to the twentieth century By examining how social relations affected the conditions for economic production and how people of power drew on the wealth created by society's basic producers he provides new insight into how ordinary farming and herding folk were incorporated into and affected by the institutions that ruled them Proceedings of the XVth International Conference of Ethiopian Studies, Hamburg, July 20-25, 2003 Siegbert Uhlig,2006 The XVth International Conference of Ethiopian Studies took place in Hamburg in July 2003 More than 400 scientists from over 25 countries participated 130 contributions from the program were selected for this volume They are mostly written in English and deal on the regions of Ethiopia and Eritrea and cover the span from the 4th Century to the present The volume is divided into the following chapters Anthropology 20 Articles History 25 Arts 10 Literature and Philology 10 Religion 5 Languages and Linguistics 25 Law and Politics 10 Environmental Economic and Educational Issues 10 The Battle of Adwa Paulos Milkias,Getachew Metaferia,2005 Ethiopia trounced the Italians in 1896 in the greatest African victory over Europe since Hannibal but failed to prevent the loss of Eritrea The event was a powerful constitutive force in the rise of modern Africa and pan Africanism and resounds in the shared memory of Africans and Black Americans even today UNESCO General History of Africa, Vol. VI J. The Southern Marches of Imperial Ethiopia Donald Donham, Wendy James, 1986 This international collection of essays offers a unique approach to the understanding of imperial Ethiopia out of which the present state was created by the 1974 revolution After the 1880s Abyssinia under Menilek II expanded its ancient heartland to incorporate vast new territories to the south Here for the first time these regions are treated as an integral part of the empire The book opens with an interpretation of nineteenth century Abyssinia as an African political economy rather than as a variant on European feudalism and with an account of the north's impact on peoples of the new south Case studies from the southern regions follow four by historians and four by anthropologists each examining aspects of the relationship between imperial rule and local society In revealing the region's diversity and the relationship of the periphery to the centre the volume illuminates some of the problems faced by post revolutionary Ethiopia

General History of Africa International Scientific Committee for the drafting of a General History of Africa, 1989-12-31 One of UNESCO's most important publishing projects in the last thirty years the General History of Africa marks a major breakthrough in the recognition of Africa's cultural heritage Offering an internal perspective of Africa the eight volume work provides a comprehensive approach to the history of ideas civilizations societies and institutions of African history The volumes also discuss historical relationships among Africans as well as multilateral interactions with other cultures and continents

Khedive Ismail's Army John P. Dunn, 2005 Khedive Ismail's Army examines military failure in the age of imperialism On paper the mid nineteenth century Egyptian army seems a formidable regional power. It had a tradition of success, modern weapons and mercenary officers with experience in major wars. Egypt's ruler Khedive Ismail hoped to combine the imported technology and brains with native manpower and establish an Egyptian dominated Horn of Africa. His soldiers did conquer parts of the Sudan but they suffered disastrous defeats during the Egyptian Abyssinian War of 1875 to 1876. Presenting the first detailed examination of the Egyptian Abyssinian War in English, this new book also looks at the root problems that made Ismail's soldiers ineffective. These include issues of class, racism, internal and external politics, finance and the rapidly changing world of mid Nineteenth Century military technology. This book is aimed at military historians and will be of interest to those studying the Middle East or North East Africa.

Dictionary of African Historical Biography Mark R. Lipschutz, R. Kent Rasmussen, 1986. The acclaimed Dictionary of African Historical Biography, the only single volume biographical work on Sub Saharan African history, has been expanded and updated to include entries on over eight hundred people important in Sub Saharan African history up to 1980.

Black Marxism, Revised and Updated Third Edition Cedric J. Robinson, 2020-12-16. In this ambitious work first published in 1983, Cedric Robinson demonstrates that efforts to understand Black people's history of resistance solely through the prism of Marxist theory are incomplete and inaccurate. Marxist analyses tend to presuppose European models of history and experience that downplay the significance of Black people and Black communities as agents of change and resistance. Black radicalism, Robinson argues, must be linked to the traditions of Africa and the unique experiences of Blacks on Western continents and any analyses of African American history need to acknowledge this. To illustrate his argument, Robinson traces the emergence of Marxist ideology in Europe, the resistance by Blacks in historically oppressive environments and the influence of both of these traditions on such important twentieth century Black radical thinkers as W. E. B. Du Bois, C. L. R. James and Richard Wright. This revised and updated third edition includes a new preface by Tiffany Willoughby Herard and a new foreword by Robin D. G. Kelley.

Women and Slavery: Africa, the Indian Ocean world, and the medieval north Atlantic Gwyn Campbell, Suzanne Miers, Joseph Calder Miller, 2007. The particular experience of enslaved women across different cultures and many different eras is the focus of this work.

King of Kings Asfa-Wossen Asserate, 2015-09-15. Haile Selassie I, the last emperor of Ethiopia, was as brilliant as he was formidable. An early proponent of African unity and independence, who claimed to be a descendant of King Solomon, he fought with the Allies against the Axis powers during World War II and was a messianic figure for the Jamaican Rastafarians. But the final years of his empire saw turmoil and revolution and he was ultimately overthrown and assassinated in a communist coup. Written by Asfa Wossen Asserate, Haile Selassie's grandnephew, this is the first major biography of this final king of kings. Asserate, who spent his childhood and adolescence in Ethiopia before fleeing the revolution of 1974, knew Selassie personally and gained intimate insights into life at the imperial court. Introducing him as a reformer and an autocrat whose personal history with all of its upheavals, promises and horrors reflects in many ways the history of the twentieth century itself, Asserate uses his own experiences and painstaking research in family and public archives to achieve a colorful and even handed portrait of the emperor     Northeast African Studies ,2007
