(Stevens') Directory of Southampton, and neighbourhood Stevens' directories and publishing co, ltd, 1884 England's Medieval Navy 1066-1509 Susan Rose, 2013-10-06 We are accustomed to think of England in terms of Shakespeare's precious stone set in a silver sea safe behind its watery ramparts with its naval strength resisting all invaders To the English of an earlier period _ from the 8th to the 11th centuries _ such a notion would have seemed ridiculous The sea rather than being a defensive wall was a highway by which successive waves of invaders arrived bringing destruction and fear in their wake Deploying a wide range of sources this new book looks at how English kings after the Norman Conquest learnt to use the Navy of England a term which at this time included all vessels whether Royal or private and no matter what their ostensible purpose _ to increase and safety and prosperity of the kingdom The design and building of ships and harbour facilities the development of navigation ship handling and the world of the seaman are all described while comparisons with the navies of England's closest neighbours with particular focus on France and Scotland are made and notable battles including Damme Dover Sluys and La Rochelle included to explain the development of battle tactics and the use of arms during the period The author shows in this lucid and enlightening narrative how the unspoken aim of successive monarchs was to begin to build the wall of England its naval defences with a success which was to become so apparent in later centuries One Firm Anchor RWH Miller, 2012-10-25 One Firm Anchor is a fantastic introduction to the history of chaplaincy at sea and what preceded it Miller argues that the fractious period of the Reformation was pivotal before there was no formal ministry and only scattered welfare provision for seafarers afterwards chaplains were increasingly found at sea and seafarers became increasingly the recipients of the modern approach to mission One Firm Anchor adds substantially to the seminal work of Peter F Anson and Roald Kverndal Published to coincide with the 2012 International Conference of the Apostleship of the Sea this is an important new work for all involved in seafaring as well as maritime historians Annual Report of the Poor Law Commissioners for England and Wales Great Britain.
