Baseball/Literature/Culture Peter Carino, 2014-12-24 The Indiana State University Conference on Baseball in Literature and American Culture has consistently produced a strong body of scholarship since its inception in 1995. Eighteen essays presented at the 2004 and 2005 ISU conferences are published in this work. In Baseball is a Place Reflections On Building a Baseball Novel novelist Mick Cochrane discusses writing a baseball novel using his 2002 novel Sport to exemplify the process. Tracy Collins in Women American Society and Baseball Literature in the High Canon examines the ways in which canonical baseball novels are obliged to exclude women. In A Grim Harvest Baseball's Changing of the Guard 1931 Steve Gietschier shows baseball progressing from the tenuous agreements of the early modern era to become a stable urban business ready to take on the challenges of the mid century. Joan Thomas's Baseball and America a Timeless Love Story muses on the ways in which fans' relationship with baseball is like that of the lover to the beloved, irrational, forgiving even maddening but always total. Fourteen other essays on the literature and culture of the game take on topics that include Josh Gibson and Satchel Paige August Wilson's Fences baseball's long connection with presidents its even longer connection with tobacco and the virtue of cheering Chicago's Cubs. Out of the Park John Passfield, 2011-10-03 When we go to a baseball stadium and cheer a person like Babe Ruth for hitting the ball harder higher further and more often than the other players we are cheering him as our representative. We cheer people of exceptional accomplishment whose achievements are so highly visible and so obviously measurable because we too are faced with the complexity of the lives that we live and are challenged to perform feats of heroic proportions just to be able to say that we have lived our lives well when we come to the end In the novel Babe Ruth says There ain t nothin like a game of baseball There ain t nothin like a beautiful summer day with the clouds light and fluffy and the sun on the back of your shoulders and a nice liftin breeze comin down onto the field from out of the stands The man who feels this way about the game he loves is a man who faces enormous challenges digs deep down inside himself and finds whatever is needed in order to triumph in the game of life This makes him a fitting representative for us all we all hit spectacular home runs in our own quiet ways
