Research on Dictionary Use in the Context of Foreign Language Learning Yukio Tono, 2012-05-10 The purpose of this book is to conceptualise the research on dictionary use within a more general overview of language learning It brings together some of the findings of studies on dictionary users and uses and shows how research into dictionary use can contribute to the improvement of dictionary design and the clarification of issues in language learning

The book also provides reports on a series of empirical studies on dictionary use in decoding activities reading comprehension and L2 L1 translation which will shed some light on the nature of the issues discussed throughout the book. The book falls into two parts. Part I Research on Dictionary Use: State of the Art is as its title suggests a summary of previous studies to tease out relevant issues in each area of inquiry. Part 2 Empirical Studies reports on a series of studies the author has conducted in the past 15 years. The first three studies Chapter 5 6 and 7 investigate dictionary use in the broader context of language learning. The next four studies Chapter 8 9 10 and 11 report on a series of controlled experiments on the relationship between the macro and microstructure of the dictionary and reference skills. Finally the last two chapters Chapter 12 and 13 report the use of learner language data for a better lexicographical output.

Handbook for Asian Studies Specialists Noriko Asato, 2013-10-08 An indispensable tool for librarians who do reference or collection management this work is a pioneering offering of expertly selected print and electronic reference tools for East Asian Studies Chinese Japanese and Korean. Handbook for Asian Studies Specialists: A Guide to Research Materials and Collection Building Tools is the first work to cover reference works for the main Asian area languages of China Japan and Korea. Several leading Asian Studies librarians have contributed their many decades of experience to create a resource that gathers major reference titles both print and online that would be useful to today's Asian Studies librarian. Organized by language group it offers useful information on the many subscription based and open source electronic tools relevant to Asian Studies. This book will serve as an essential resource for reference collections at academic libraries. Previously published bibliographies on materials deal with China or Japan or Korea but none have coalesced information on all three countries into one work or are written in English. And unlike the other resources available this work provides the insight needed for librarians to make informed collection management decisions and reference selections.
