Short Circuits New Canadian Library:

Short Circuits : New Canadian Library Stephen Leacock,1928      New Canadian Library Janet Friskney,2015-05-07
In the mid 1950s much Canadian literature was out of print making it relatively inaccessible to readers including those studying the subject in schools and universities When English professor Malcolm Ross approached Toronto publisher Jack McClelland in 1952 to propose a Canadian literary reprint series it was still the accepted wisdom among publishers that Canadian literature was of insufficient interest to the educational market to merit any great publishing risks Eventually convinced by Ross that a latent market for Canadian literary reprints did indeed exist McClelland Stewart launched the New Canadian Library NCL series in 1958 with Ross as its general editor In 2008 the NCL will celebrate a half century of publication In New Canadian Library Janet B Friskney takes the reader through the early history of the NCL series focusing on the period up to 1978 when Malcolm Ross retired as general editor A wealth of archival resources published reviews and the NCL volumes themselves are used to survey the working relationship between Ross and McClelland as well as the collaborative participation of those who through the middle decades of the twentieth century were committed to studying and nurturing Canada's literary heritage To place the New Canadian Library in its proper historical context Friskney examines the simultaneous development of Canadian literary studies as a legitimate area of research and teaching in academe and acknowledges the NCL as a milestone in Canadian publishing history

Short Circuits Stephen Leacock,1928      The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik,2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada's flagship genre It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany

The Book of Canadian Prose: The Canadian century, English-Canadian writing since confederation Arthur James Marshall Smith,1973      Canadian Books in Print ,1986      Canadian Books in Print Martha Pluscauskas,1976      Canadiana ,1963      Modern English-Canadian Prose Helen Hoy,1983      Our Nature, Our Voices Clara Thomas,1972      Stephen Leacock Gerald Lynch,1988-11-01 From the preface Stephen Leacock is still often regarded as a writer of lightweight amusements and unchallenging satire as an author without an imaginative centre who lacked a vision of sufficient power and clarity to sustain a lifetime of serious writing According to this view which has been too easily received Leacock squandered an early promising talent though he was in fact middle aged when he published Sunshine Sketches of a Little Town in 1912 and consequently his writings like his legendary Lord Ronald Rode Madly Off in All Directions After years of chasing down Leacock's numerous literary mounts I can assert that none of this is true Leacock's writing emerges from a centre that is the confluence of the two traditions of humanism and Toryism traditions that found in Leacock fertile ground for the propagation of such qualities as tolerance of human fallibility and acceptance of social responsibility What is remarkable with respect to Leacock's literary output is that even his furthest flung seemingly inconsequential humorous pieces move in relation to this Tory humanist centre Lynch invites us to accompany him on an odyssey through Leacock's two main works Sunshine Sketches and Arcadian Adventures of the Idle Rich He aspires to enlighten the open minded reader and is highly successful in doing so Elspeth Cameron Coordinator of Canadian Literature and Language Program New College University of Toronto Library Service, 1925

Canadian Foundryman and Metal Industry News, 1927 A Concise Bibliography of English-Canadian Literature Michael Gnarowski, 1978 The Routledge Introduction to the Canadian Short Story Maria Löschnigg, 2022-12-30 This volume aims to introduce undergraduates graduates and general readers to the diversity and richness of Canadian short story writing and to the narrative potential of short fiction in general Addressing a wide spectrum of forms and themes the book will familiarise readers with the development and cultural significance of Canadian short fiction from the early 19th century to the present A strong focus will be on the rich reservoir of short fiction produced in the past four decades and the way in which it has responded to the anxieties and crises of our time Drawing on current critical debates each chapter will highlight the interrelations between Canadian short fiction and historical and socio cultural developments Case studies will zoom in on specific thematic or aesthetic issues in an exemplary manner The Routledge Introduction to the Canadian Short Story will provide an accessible and comprehensive overview ideal for students and general readers interested in the multifaceted and thriving medium of the short story in Canada New Information Technologies and Libraries H. Liebaers, W.J. Haas, W.E. Biervliet, 2013-06-29 The nucleus of this volume consists of a number of papers presented at the Advanced Research Workshop on The Impact of New Information Technologies on Library Management Resources and Cooperation held in Luxembourg from 19-23 November 1984 The workshop was a joint effort of four international organisations The Scientific Affairs Division of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization through a personal commitment and interest expressed by Dr H Durand Assistant Secretary General for Scientific Affairs was the first and major sponsor acting as a catalyst in enabling the Workshop to take place Through its support for travel and subsistence costs of some of the North American participants the Workshop could become a platform for the exchange of ideas between parties concerned with information handling and transmission and information policy in Western Europe and North America The Directorate General for Information Market and Innovation of the Commission of the European Communities hosted the Workshop in its facilities the Jean Monnet Building in Luxembourg also providing for simultaneous translation in the main languages of the European Community Moreover the Commission generously funded the participation of key participants from Community countries and provided participants with ample information on existing Community programmes related to electronic publications electronic transmission of documents copyright problems problems of standards telecommunication and so on The Council of Europe supported attendance from Sweden Austria and Spain And lastly the European Cultural Foundation organised the event on behalf of all these organisations

Social Criticism Stephen Leacock, 1973-12-15 Stephen Leacock long celebrated as Canada's foremost humorist and social satirist has received little recognition for his considerable accomplishments as a serious thinker and social critic In fact Leacock was a professor of political economy and more than half of his writings addressed the pressing issues of his day This volume represents the neglected aspect of Leacock's career gathering together his writings on a range of subjects including imperialism education and culture religion and morality feminism prohibition and social justice The collection begins with Greater Canada an appeal which dates from 1907 when Leacock was a popular lecturer advancing the cause of imperialism Bowker points out that for Leacock imperialism was more a spiritual mission than a political agenda representing the opportunity to unite Canadians to inspire allegiance to a lofty tradition and thereby to combat the threat of materialism urbanism fragmentation and continentalism These themes resurface in subsequent essays culminating in The Unsolved Riddle of Social Justice which was published in 1920 Carefully selected and prefaced with an updated introduction to Leacock's life and work these essays contribute to our understanding of Leacock and illuminate his role as a major figure in Canadian intellectual history
