A Short History of Sherborne William Beauchamp Wildman, 1902

A Short History of the English People John Richard Green, 1897

Conversations with John Fowles Dianne L. Vipond, 1999 Although best known for his novels The Collector The Magus and The French Lieutenant's Woman John Fowles is also a short story writer a poet a respected translator and a prolific essayist In his long literary career he has managed the feats of welding stunning innovation to tradition pushing the formal boundaries of literary fiction and still capturing critical acclaim popular success and a worldwide readership In Conversations with John Fowles the first book of interviews devoted to the English writer Dianne L Vipond gathers over twenty of the most revealing interviews Fowles has granted in the last forty years With critics scholars and journalists he discusses his life his art his distinctive world view and his special relationship with nature Throughout his interviews Fowles's remarkable consistency of thought is illuminated as he covers the meaning and genesis of his work His uncompromising honesty and refreshing lack of guardedness are evident when he compares the naturalness of writing with eating or making love From the 1960s through the 1990s this master chronicler of the late half of the twentieth century reveals his serious engagement with social political and philosophical issues He identifies himself with feminism socialism humanism and the environmental movement and he explores his recurring theme of personal artistic and socio political freedom His books he says are about the difficulty of attaining personal freedom especially in terms of discovering what one is Any reader who has been intrigued challenged and entertained by his work in the past is sure to find these conversations spanning the writer's career to be stimulating and revealing Dianne L Vipond is a professor of English at California State University Long Beach A co editor of the book Literacy Language and Power she has published articles in English Journal Short Story Twentieth Century Literature and the Los Angeles Times

The Forgotten Trade Nigel Tattersfield, 2011-05-31 I pray people will read this richly detailed and absorbing book with its vivid renaissance of a matter most of us English seem to have wished into oblivion John Fowles Meticulously kept by Walter Prideaux the log of the Daniel and Henry provides an astonishing record of a trading venture in the year 1700 Two years earlier the Guinea trade had been prised loose by an Act of Parliament from the monopoly of the Royal African Company and respectable burghers in a dozen small provincial ports seized what they saw as an opportunity for quick rewards from the slave trade Few of these merchants knew anything of trading in Africa nor of the unscrupulous tribal chiefs who readily offered men women and children in hard bargaining for beads alcohol weapons and gunpowder In the second part of this book Tattersfield went in search of long forgotten documents to chart how small provincial ports fared both economically and morally in the early years of slave trading

A Short History of Great Britain Since 1714 Robert

Balmain Mowat,1927 The Annotated Persuasion Jane Austen,David M. Shapard,2012-02-02 From the editor of the popular Annotated Pride and Prejudice comes an annotated edition of Jane Austen s Persuasion that makes the beloved novel an even more satisfying and fulfilling read Here is the complete text of Persuasion with hundreds of annotations on facing pages including Explanations of historical context Citations from Austen s life letters and other writings Definitions and clarifications Literary comments and analysis Plentiful maps and illustrations An introduction a bibliography and a detailed chronology of events Packed with all kinds of illuminating information from what Bath and Lyme looked like at the time to how bathing machines at seaside resorts were used to how Wentworth could have made a fortune from the Napoleonic Wars David M Shapard s delightfully entertaining edition brings Austen s novel of second chances vividly to life A Short History of Nearly Everything: Special Illustrated Edition Bill Bryson,2010-11-30 This new edition of the acclaimed bestseller is lavishly illustrated to convey in pictures as in words Bill Bryson s exciting informative journey into the world of science In A Short History of Nearly Everything the bestselling author of A Walk in the Woods and The Body confronts his greatest challenge yet to understand and if possible answer the oldest biggest questions we have posed about the universe and ourselves Taking as his territory everything from the Big Bang to the rise of civilization Bryson seeks to understand how we got from there being nothing at all to there being us The result is a sometimes profound sometimes funny and always supremely clear and entertaining adventure in the realms of human knowledge as only Bill Bryson can render it Now in this handsome new edition Bill Bryson s words are supplemented by full color artwork that explains in visual terms the concepts and wonder of science at the same time giving face to the major players in the world of scientific study Eloquent and entertainingly described as well as richly illustrated science has never been more involving or entertaining A short history of England from the Roman invasion England,1897 The History of Lyme-Regis, Dorset, from the Earliest Periods to the Present Day George Roberts,1823 The Dinosaur Artist Paige Williams,2025-04-08 This New York Times Notable Book recounts the true story of a Florida man s attempt to sell a dinosaur skeleton from Mongolia In 2012 a New York auction catalogue boasted an unusual offering a superb Tyrannosaurus skeleton In fact Lot 49135 consisted of a nearly complete T bataar a close cousin to the most famous animal that ever lived The fossils now on display in a Manhattan event space had been unearthed in Mongolia more than six zero miles away At eight feet high and twenty four feet long the specimen was spectacular and when the gavel sounded the winning bid was over 1 million Eric Prokopi a thirty eight year old Floridian was the man who had brought this extraordinary skeleton to market A onetime swimmer who spent his teenage years diving for shark teeth Prokopi s singular obsession with fossils fueled a thriving business hunting preparing and selling specimens to clients ranging from natural history museums to avid private collectors like actor Leonardo DiCaprio But as the T bataar went to auction a network of paleontologists alerted the government of Mongolia to the eye catching lot resulting in an international custody battle and unraveling Prokopi s world Paige Williams s The Dinosaur Artist is a stunning work of narrative journalism about humans relationship with natural history and a seemingly intractable conflict between science and commerce A story that stretches from Florida s Land O Lakes to the Gobi Desert it illuminates the history of fossil collecting a murky sometimes risky business populated by eccentrics and obsessives where the lines between poacher and hunter collector and smuggler enthusiast and opportunist can easily blur Jane Austen & Charles Darwin Peter W.

Graham,2016-05-06 Are Jane Austen and Charles Darwin the two great English empiricists of the nineteenth century Peter W Graham poses this question as he brings these two icons of nineteenth century British culture into intellectual conversation in his provocative new book Graham shows that while the one is generally termed a naturalist Darwin s preferred term for himself and the other a novelist these characterizations are at least partially interchangeable as each author possessed skills that would serve well in either arena Both Austen and Darwin are naturalists who look with a sharp cold eye at the concrete particulars of the world around them Both are in certain senses novelists who weave densely particularized and convincingly grounded narratives that convey their personal observations and perceptions to wide readerships When taken seriously the words and works of Austen and Darwin encourage their readers to look closely at the social and natural worlds around them and form opinions based on individual judgment rather than on transmitted opinion Graham s four interlocked essays begin by situating Austen and Darwin in the English empirical tradition and focusing on the uncanny similarities in the two writers respective circumstances and preoccupations Both Austen and Darwin were fascinated by sibling relations Both were acute observers and analysts of courtship rituals Both understood constant change as the way of the world whether the microcosm under consideration is geological biological social or literary Both grasped the importance of scale in making observations Both discerned the connection between minute particular causes and vast general effects Employing the trenchant analytical talents associated with his subjects and informed by a wealth of historical and biographical detail and the best of recent work by historians of science Graham has given us a new entree into Austen s and Darwin s writings A brief history of Lyme John Fowles,1985 Catalogue of the Fossil Reptilia and Amphibia in the British Museum (Natural History) Lydekker,1888

A short history of the English people. With maps, tables and an analysis by C.W.A. Tait John Richard Green,1889

The Invention of the English Landscape Peter Borsay,Rosemary Sweet,2023-07-27 Since at least the Reformation English men and women have been engaged in visiting exploring and portraying in words and images the landscape of their nation The Invention of the English Landscape examines these journeys and investigations to explore how the natural and historic English landscape was reconfigured to become a widely enjoyed cultural and leisure resource Peter Borsay considers the manifold forces behind this transformation such as the rise of consumer culture the media industrial and transport revolutions the Enlightenment Romanticism and the Gothic revival In doing so he reveals the development of a powerful bond between landscape and natural identity against the backdrop of social and political change from the early modern period to the start of the Second World War Borsay s interdisciplinary approach demonstrates how human understandings of the natural world shaped the geography of England and uncovers a wealth of valuable material from novels and poems to paintings that expose historical understandings of the landscape This innovative approach illuminates how the English countryside and historic buildings became cultural icons behind which the nation was rallied during war time and explores the emergence of a post war heritage industry that is now a definitive part of British cultural life Jane and the Man of the Cloth Stephanie Barron,2009-01-21 For everyone who loves Jane Austen the second tantalizing mystery in a new series that transforms the beloved author into a dazzling sleuth Jane and her family are looking forward to a peaceful holiday in the seaside village of Lyme Regis Yet on the outskirts of town an overturned carriage forces the shaken travelers to take refuge at a nearby manor house And it is there that Jane meets the darkly forbidding yet strangely attractive Mr Geoffrey Sidmouth What murky secrets does the brooding Mr Sidmouth seek to hide Jane suspects the worst but her attention is swiftly diverted when a man is discovered hanged from a makeshift gibbet by the sea The worthies of Lyme are certain his death is the work of the Reverend the ringleader of the midnight smuggling trade whose identity is the town s paramount mystery Now it falls to Jane to entrap and expose the notorious Reverend even if the evidence points to the last person on earth she wants to suspect a man who already may have won her heart A Short History of the Ancient Diocese of Exeter from the Conquest to the Church Congress of 1894 Herbert Edward Reynolds,1895
