This book provides a comprehensive theoretical framework to help research this highly prolific and diverse production of contemporary literary texts. Based on the achievements of historical poetics in particular those of Russian formalism and its theoretical legacy, this framework offers flexible, transparent and unbiased tools to understand the relevant contexts within the literary system. The aim is to enhance our understanding of Arabic literature, throw light on areas of literary production that traditionally have been neglected and stimulate others to take up the fascinating challenge of mapping out and exploring them.

Arabic Literature Pierre Cachia, 2003-09-02. Assuming no previous knowledge of the subject, Arabic Literature: An Overview gives a rounded and balanced view of Arab literary creativity. High literature is examined alongside popular folk literature and the classical and modern periods usually treated separately are presented together. Cachia's observations are not subordinated to any pre-formed literary theory but describe and illustrate the directions taken in order to present an overall picture of the field of relevance to the student of literature as well as to Arabists working in related fields.

A Brief History of Arabic Literature George Nicolas El-hage, Ph.D., George Nicolas El-Hage Ph.D., 2017-11-02. During the Middle Ages the Arabs ruled the civilized world. They succeeded in conquering Arabia, Egypt, Iraq, Mesopotamia and Africa, parts of China, Spain, Sicily, Portugal, Turkey, Persia, Syria, Jordan and Lebanon. Had they not been stopped by Charles Martel at the famous and decisive battle of Tours/Poitiers in 732 A.D., the Arab conquest of the West would have spread into France and beyond and consequently would have changed the face of Europe and perhaps even shaped the modern world altogether. This book in two carefully selected volumes is intended to be a short history of Arabic literature. It provides the teacher with a quick summary and gives the beginning student a broad overview in chronological sequence of the historical and literary accomplishments of the Arab people from pre-Islamic times up to the Modern Era. Volume One covers the period from pre-Islamic Arabia to the end of the Abbasid Era. Volume Two covers the period from the Arabs' occupation of Spain to the Modern Era. Of course, there already exist many excellent books that deal with this subject matter; however, the uniqueness and usefulness of this book, which is also presented to the curious and casual reader of Middle Eastern literature, especially if he is able to also read Arabic, lies in the fact that it not only provides interesting and didactic reading material but it also has the following features that other similar books do not have:

1. The scope and timeline are so broad and comprehensive and spans the period from 500 A.D. to 1984 A.D. all between the covers of one book in two volumes.
2. The generous number of samples of poetry and prose selections from every poet or author mentioned in this book is included here in these two volumes in the original Arabic to illustrate the text and support the discussion on every poet and writer. Hence the student of Arabic does not have to go searching for poetry or prose examples in order to understand or support an argument. In this way he can immediately learn to appreciate a particular poet's poetry or writing.

The Cambridge Illustrated History of the Islamic World Francis Robinson, 1996. Islamic peoples account for one fifth of the world's population and yet there is widespread misunderstanding in the West of what Islam really is. Francis Robinson and his team set out to address this, revealing the complex and sometimes contrary nature of Muslim culture As well as taking on the issues uppermost in everyone's minds such as the role of religious and political fundamentalism they demonstrate the importance of commerce literacy and learning Islamic art the effects of immigration exodus and conquest and the roots of current crises in the Middle East Bosnia and the Gulf Throughout emphasis is placed on the interaction between Islam and the West from the first Latin translations of the Quran to the fatwa on Salman Rushdie This elegant book deliberately sets out to dismantle the Western impression of Islam as a monolithic world and replace it with a balanced view from current issues of fundamentalism to its dynamic culture and art Francis Robinson is the editor of two outstanding reference works Atlas of the Islamic World Since 1500 Cambridge 1982 and The Cambridge Encyclopedia of Islam 1989

The Fragmenting Force of Memory
Norman Saadi Nikro, 2012-04-25 This study is about experimental forms of cultural production that situate and work through personal experiences of the civil war in Lebanon It addresses selected works of literature autobiography and memoir by Jean Said Makdisi Rashid al Daif Elias Khoury and Mai Ghoussoub and the civil war trilogy of documentary films by Mohamed Soueid From a phenomenological hermeneutic perspective the book is concerned with how they give accounts of themselves as remnants leftovers and undigested remains of the civil war and of related trajectories of ideological attachment to symbolic mandates Constrained to reposition their sense of self from an agent of history to a casualty of history their acutely personal works of cultural production initiate an unraveling of both self and circumstance through the fragmenting force of memory Drawing on a broad range of phenomenological critical theory within the research fields of postcolonial memory psychoanalytic gender and literary studies attuned to subjectivity as a field of social production and exchange emphasis is given to how the writers and filmmaker employ a non presentist anachronic or paratactic register of memory to excavate both a historical understanding of self and related modalities of social viability This concerns how the symptomatic style of their work embodies and creatively and critically situates a refusal to package and normalize any idealized account of the war related assemblages of temporal succession or a presentation of self as discrete and omniscient Makers of Worlds, Readers of Signs Kfir Cohen,2019-09-03 A sweeping new theory of world literature through a study of Palestinian and Israeli literature from the 1940s to the present Makers of Worlds Readers of Signs charts the aesthetic and political formation of neoliberalism and globalization in Israeli and Palestinian literature from the 1940s to the present By tracking literature's move from making worlds to reading signs Cohen Lustig proposes a new way to read theorize our global contemporary Cohen Lustig argues that the period of Israeli statism and its counterpart of Palestinian statelessness produced works that sought to make and create whole worlds and social time create the new state of Israel preserve collective visions of Palestinian statehood During the period of neoliberalism the period after 1985 in Israel and the 1993 Oslo Accords in Palestine literature became about the reading of signs where politics and history are now rearticulated through the private lives of individual subjects Here characters do not make social time but live within it and inquire after its missing origin Cohen Lustig argues for new ways to track the subjectivities and aesthetics produced by larger shifts in production In so doing he proposes a new model to understand the historical development of Israeli and Palestinian literature as well as world literature in our contemporary moment With a preface from Fredric Jameson Sonallah Ibrahim Starkey Paul Starkey,2016-06-02 This volume is designed as an introduction to the contemporary Egyptian author Sonallah Ibrahim one of the most important Arabic novelists of the modern era with an unrivalled reputation for independence and integrity among contemporary Egyptian writers The first study in any language devoted exclusively to Sonallah Ibrahim the volume discusses each of the author's novels individually beginning with the seminal Tilka al ra iha That Smell 1966 and ending with al Jalid Ice 2011 Each work is discussed individually in its literary social historical and political context The volume traces the evolution of Sonallah Ibrahim's work in terms both of their themes and of their literary technique and concludes with an attempt at an overall evaluation of the author's contribution to the contemporary Egyptian novel Paul Starkey's account shows how innovative and stylistically rich the Arabic novel has become over a period of some fifty years beyond the better known work of writers such as Naguib Mahfouz and Yusuf Idris As such the volume will serve as an introduction not only to the individual author but also to the development of Egyptian and more generally Arabic literature over the last half century
