The Blue Frontier Ronald C. Po, 2018-08-23 In this revisionist history of the eighteenth century Qing Empire from a maritime perspective Ronald C Po argues that it is reductive to view China over this period exclusively as a continental power with little interest in the sea With a coastline of almost 14 500 kilometers the Qing was not a landlocked state Although it came to be known as an inward looking empire Po suggests that the Qing was integrated into the maritime world through its naval development and customs institutionalization In contrast to our orthodox perception the Manchu court in fact deliberately engaged with the ocean politically militarily and even conceptually The Blue Frontier offers a much broader picture of the Qing as an Asian giant responding flexibly to challenges and extensive interaction on all frontiers both land and sea in the long eighteenth century Area Handbook for the People's Republic of China Donald P. Whitaker, Rinn-Sup Shinn, In-söp Sin, American University (Washington, D.C.). Foreign Area Studies, 1972 American Tianxia Salvatore Babones, 2017-07-19 After a meteoric rise China's once inexorable growth has come to a screeching halt With it ends China's dream of establishing a new tianxia harmonious order in Asia with China at its centre Salvatore Babones provides an up to date assessment of China's economic problems and how they are undermining China's challenge to the Western dominated world order As China's neighbours and many of its own most talented people look to the United States to ensure their security and prosperity global power is slowly but surely consolidating in a twenty first century American Tianxia A closely argued antidote to defeatist accounts of Western decline this book tells the story of how liberal individualism has become the leitmotif of the American Tianxia an emerging world system in which people of all nationalities seek a share in the economic cultural and political system that is America writ large Chinese Overseas Chee-Beng Tan,2004-03-01 This book examines issues of cultural change and identity construction of Chinese overseas as well as other important issues such as Chinese and non Chinese relations and cultural and economic performance It offers a perspective of understanding Chinese overseas in nation states and beyond in a global context which the author describes as the Chinese ethnological field The author s many years of research on cultural change and Chinese ethnicity in Southeast Asia enables him to describe vividly the effects of localization the process of becoming local and identifying with the locals on Chinese ethnicity and cultural identities This informative and theoretically interesting book enables readers to have a deeper understanding of the issue of Chinese and Chinese ness in the diaspora New Culture in a New World David Kenley,2004-06 During the 1920s China s intellectuals called for a new literature system of thought and orientation towards modern life the May Fourth Movement or the New Culture Movement spilled beyond China to the overseas Chinese communities This work analyzes the New Culture Movement from a diaspora perspective of the overseas Chinese in Singapore Power and Identity in the Chinese World Order Billy K.L. So,John Fitzgerald,Jianli Huang,James K. Chin,2003-03-01 Wang Gungwu is one of the most influential historians of his generation Initially renowned for his pioneering work on the structure of power in early imperial China he is more widely known for expanding the horizons of Chinese history to include the histories of the Chinese and their descendents outside China It is probably no coincidence Philip Kuhn observes that the most comprehensive historian of the Overseas Chinese is the historian most firmly grounded in the history of China itself This book is a celebration of the life work and impact of Professor Wang Gungwu over the past four decades It commemorates his contribution to the study of Chinese history and the abiding influence he has exercised over later generations of historians particularly in the Asia Pacific region The book begins with an historiographical survey by Philip Kuhn Francis Lee Higginson Professor of History at Harvard University of Wang Gungwu s enduring contribution to scholarship It concludes with an engaging oral history of Professor Wang s life career and research trajectory The intervening chapters explore many of the fields in which Wang Gungwu s influence has been felt over the years including questions of political authority national identity commercial life and the history of the diaspora from imperial times to the present day Each of these chapters is authored by a former student of Professor Wang now working and teaching in Hong Kong Southeast Asia Australasia Taiwan and Canada China-Malaysia Relations and Foreign Policy Razak Abdullah,2015-08-11 When Malaysian Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak Hussein paid an official visit to China in May 1974 it secured Malaysia a place in the annals of regional diplomatic history as the first ASEAN country to establish full diplomatic relations with the People s Republic of China This book analyses the process of the establishment of diplomatic relations between Malaysia and China and provides a detailed explanation and understanding of the decision making process in Malaysia Shedding light on the roles played by the various principal actors in the process of foreign policy formulation and the influences both internal and external that shaped Malaysia's behaviour the book highlights why Malaysia decided to pursue a policy of normalisation with China culminating in the visit in 1974 and in particular why it became the first ASEAN country to establish diplomatic relations with the Chinese After Malaysia's recognition of Beijing two other ASEAN states followed suit namely Thailand and the Philippines and the book discusses whether there was some degree of policy coordination amongst ASEAN countries in dealing with China or if both these countries gave way for Malaysia to be the first The book also looks at the policy debates within some ASEAN countries regarding relations with China either conducted officially or unofficially bilaterally or otherwise This book will be of interest to scholars of Asian Politics Asian History International Relations and Foreign Policy Decentring and Diversifying Southeast Asian Studies Goh Beng Lan, 2011 This admirable book contains fascinating autobiographical accounts by some of Southeast Asia's most eminent scholars concerning their struggle to find their own voices in interpreting the region to which they belong The book should be indispensable to anyone interested in thinking about knowledge production and its politics in a postcolonial world In the views of these scholarly Southeast Asians we are made to see in very personal terms the link between the global crisis in the social sciences and the need to find remedies for it that are neither Eurocentric nor parochially anti-Western Professor Alexander Woodside Professor of Chinese and Southeast Asian History University of British Columbia Vancouver Canada This book marks the shift of the centre of Southeast Asian Studies from the West to Southeast Asia The insights provided by the authors are not simply explanations of colonial and postcolonial experiences of major Southeast Asian scholars Rather the book provides a unique set of intellectual genealogies that show that distinctions between humanities and social sciences are less important than the development of distinctive local and regional traditions and practices of scholarship Goh Beng Lan's introduction frames the collection through her subtle deconstruction of international discourses on Southeast Asia This introduction then allows the reader to view the different generations of Southeast Asian scholars in their social political and academic contexts The end result is a combined view of the state of the art of Southeast Asian Studies a view that is greater than the sum of its national parts Professor Adrian Vickers Chair of Southeast Asian Studies University of Sydney and Director Australian Centre for Asian Art and Archaeology The collection represents a coming of age of scholars from Southeast Asia What we hear is not bluster that comes from a wounded pride or doctrinal certainties but a quiet confidence that acknowledges the multiple currents in which their scholarship has been formed and a willingness to engage the perspective of the other both within and without The reflexivity in this volume sets the stage for scholars from the region to develop perspectives and concepts to address the challenges of the new configuration of the Asia being ushered in by ASEAN Professor Prasenjit Duara Raffles Professor of Humanities and Director of Research Humanities and Social Sciences National University of Singapore Routledge Handbook of Asian Migrations Gracia Liu-Farrer, Brenda S.A. Yeoh, 2018-01-02

China and International Relations Zheng Yongnian,2010-09-13 Despite Beijing's repeated assurance that China's rise will be peaceful the United States Japan and the European Union as well as many of China's Asian neighbours feel uneasy about the rise of China Although China's rise could be seen as inevitable it remains uncertain as to how a politically and economically powerful China will behave and how it will conduct its relations with the outside world One major problem with understanding China's international relations is that western concepts of international relations only partially explain China's approach China's own flourishing indigenous community of international relations scholars have borrowed many concepts from the west but their application has not been entirely successful so the work of conceptualizing and theorizing China's approach to international relations remains incomplete Written by some of the foremost scholars in the field of China studies this book focuses on the work of Wang Gungwu one of the most influential scholars writing on international relations including topics such as empire nation state nationalism state ideology and the Chinese view of world order Besides honouring Wang Gungwu as a great scholar the book explores how China can be integrated more fully into international relations studies and theories discusses the extent to which existing IR theory succeeds or fails to explain Chinese IR behaviour and demonstrates how the study of Chinese experiences can enrich the IR field Chinese American Literature Since the 1850s
