Padre A Novel:

Blood Novels Julia H. Chang, 2022-08-31 In the late nineteenth century Spain's most prominent writers Juan Valera Leopoldo Alas and Benito Pérez Galdós made blood a crucial feature of their fiction Blood Novels examines the cultural and literary significance of blood unsettling the dominant assumption of the period that blood no longer played a decisive role in social hierarchies By examining fictional works through the rubric of blood novels Julia H Chang identifies a shared fascination with blood that probes the limits of realism through blood's dual nature of matter and metaphor Situating the literature within broader cultural and theoretical debates Blood Novels attends to the aesthetic contours of material blood and in particular how bleeding is inflected by gender caste and race Critically engaging with feminist theory theories of race and whiteness literary criticism and medical literature this innovative study makes a case for treating blood as a critical analytic tool that not only sheds new light on Spanish realism but more broadly challenges our understanding of gendered and racialized embodiment in Spain *Ponce de Leon; Or The Rise of the Argentine Republic. Brushwood, 1972-01-01 Mexico in Its Novel is a perceptive examination of the Mexican reality as revealed through the nation's novel The author presents the Mexican novel as a cultural phenomenon a manifestation of the impact of history upon the nation an attempt by a people to come to grips with and understand what has happened and is happening to them Written in a clear and graceful style this study examines the life of the novel as a genre against the background of Mexican chronology It begins with a survey of the mid twentieth century novel the Mexican novel which came of age in the period following the 1947 publication of Agustín Yáñez's The Edge of the Storm During this time the novel resolved some of its most complicated problems and as a result offered a wider and deeper view of reality Having established this circumstance John Brushwood goes back in time to the Conquest and then moves forward to the twentieth century novel Passing from the Colonial Period into the nineteenth century the author recognizes the relationship between Romanticism and the desire for logical social behavior and then views this relationship in the perspective of the Reform an attempt to bring order out of chaos The novel under the Díaz dictatorship is seen in three different phases and the last Díaz chapter actually moves into the Revolution itself The novel during the years of fighting is considered along with the first post Revolutionary fiction From that point the developing conflict within Mexican reality itself a conflict between introversion and extroversion nationalism and cosmopolitanism reaches out to seek its solution in the novels of the first chapter Gay Novels of Britain, Ireland and
