Co-preaching Frida Mannerfelt, 2023-05-04 The purposes of this article based thesis are to explore and understand preaching as a practice in general and the practice of preaching in digital culture and spaces in particular Informed by the practice theory of Theodore Schatzki it presents the results of a cross case analysis of four different case studies of the practice of preaching in digital culture and spaces in Swedish protestant churches Based on the analysis Frida Mannerfelt argues that the deep relationality of the practice of preaching involves not just humans and texts but also material arrangements and that this feature often is amplified in digital culture and spaces While there were examples of a decrease overall there was an increase in interaction negotiation and interdependency In light of this Mannerfelt contends that the practice of preaching in digital culture and spaces is characterized by co preaching Moreover Mannerfelt argues that some of the implications of co preaching are the enabling and encouragement of dialogue imagination and the priestly function of the priesthood of all believers but also an increased vulnerability for the co preachers involved Practicing the Preaching Life David B. Ward, 2019-03-19 Preaching is a way of life that can be beautiful and good however It can also be anxious self focused and destructive Preachers and teachers of preaching need a holistic view of preaching that not only paints the way to good preaching but also to good living They need a comprehensive practical theology of preaching that combines the why and the what with the how and whom of preaching Practicing the Preaching Life unites Christian practices contextual virtues and the best of homiletical pedagogy to pave the way to a beautiful preaching life Preaching is best learned as a formative Christian practice embedded within a web of other Christian practices that form a way of life from which great sermons emerge Therefore preaching requires not only a way of speaking well but also a way of living well This embedded nature of preaching requires the enrollment of Christian practices in the formation of the preacher and the pursuit of contextual virtues for preaching that avoid cultural relativism on the one hand and cultural imperialism on the other These requirements

lead to a new vision for the preaching classroom the rhythms of the preaching life and the definition of what it means to be a good preacher

Transformational Preaching David M. Brown, 2003-02 Transformational Preaching Theory and practice is a comprehensive textbook for the beginning student of preaching the graduate student in pulpit discourse or the seasoned preacher Seeking to reclaim the pulpit for biblical preaching the book counteracts the popular teaching approach that is common today and argues that preaching must be persuasive rather than informative that the preacher is central to the act of preaching and that through the preaching event both preacher and listener together fashion the message and its meaning Both theoretical and highly practical the book offers a challenging look at all aspects of the preaching ministry It contextualizes preaching in pastoral ministry and congregational worship but most significantly argues that the practice of preaching must be informed and driven by theory As such the book draws from a wide perspective of disciplines including biblical theology classical rhetoric contemporary human communication public discourse persuasion linguistics performance and orality The book s wealth of practical guidelines for every step of sermon development encourages students to apply general principles within their own contexts of ministry

Introduction to the Practice of African American Preaching Frank A. Thomas, 2016-11-15 The Introduction to African American Preaching is an important groundbreaking book This book acknowledges African American preaching as an academic discipline and invites all students and preachers into a scholarly dynamic and useful exploration of the topic Author Frank Thomas opens with a bus tour study of African American preaching He shows how African American preaching has gradually moved from an almost exclusively oral to an oral written tradition Readers will gain insight into the history of the study of the African American preaching tradition and catch the author s enthusiasm for it Next Thomas traces the relationship between homiletics and rhetoric in Western preaching demonstrating how African American preaching is inherently theological and rhetorical He then explores the question what is black preaching Thomas introduces the reader to methods of close reading and ideological criticism And then demonstrates how to use these methods using a sermon by Gardner Calvin Taylor as his example The next chapter considers the question what is excellence in black preaching The next chapter seeks to create bridges and dialogue within the field of homiletics and in particular the Euro American homiletic tradition The goal of this chapter is to clearly demonstrate connections between the African American preaching tradition and the field of homiletics Thomas next turns to questions about the relevancy of the church to the Millennial generation Specifically how will the African American church remain relevant to this generation which is so deeply concerned with social justice

Preaching the Pastoral Epistles Robert W. Wall, 2024-04-09 Since the second century 1 2 Timothy and Titus often referred to as the Pastoral Epistles have been read and practiced together to help order a Christian congregation s life and mission These three letters were likely recognized early on as divinely inspired scripture and were added to the Pauline collection to help train the spiritual leaders of earliest Christianity However they are rarely taught in most congregations and seminaries today Admittedly the genre of these letters paraenesis is hard to preach The primary reason for their neglect however is modern criticism s silencing of them because most scholars think they were not written by Paul and are not aligned with either his gospel or mission Moreover they include instructions that are widely received today as out of sync with our modern social worlds This Proclamation Commentary on these Pauline letters presumes both their apostolic authority as divinely inspired and human inspiring scripture and their contemporary relevance in encouraging clergy and teachers to reimagine their roles as ministers of the gospel and spiritual leaders for today s global church Lectionary

The Third Room of Preaching Marianne Gaarden, 2017-09-29 In this cutting edge homiletical study Marianne Gaarden offers new perspectives for understanding how listeners create meaning when hearing a sermon Drawing on sociological psychological and other empirical research Gaarden presents the notion of the Third Room of Preaching the place where the preacher's words and the listener's prior experiences come together to create a surplus of meaning outside of both the preacher's intent and the listener's frame of reference The preacher cannot control the production of meaning but must surrender to the process giving up the role of creator of meaning in order to become a vessel and a tool for meaning's creation Gaarden's insights challenge conventional understandings of preaching and invite homiletics to reflect on the implications for the sermon as an act of communication The book includes an appendix that helps to facilitate the Third Room model in homiletics classes

Learning to Speak of God Mason Lee, 2023-11-16 What difference does the virtue of patience make for our ability to engage deeply in the practice of patience And how does patience help us grasp the something more that is at the heart of preaching excellence Learning to Speak of God argues that the virtue of patience is vital to our faithful and deep preaching practice that patience is a homiletical virtue In doing so this volume asks us to consider the role of character in preaching and the work of specific virtues as we go about our preaching practice Along the way it names the importance of patience as a long acknowledged Christian virtue and considers anew how this virtue shapes and empowers the practice of those who desire to preach in ways that participate in God's transforming work For those who study practice or care about preaching this volume identifies how any notion of what it means to preach well calls for those whose practice is infused with the virtue of patience

Christian Preaching Michael Pasquarello III, 2011-06-28 Michael Pasquarello has written a must read book articulating a Trinitarian vision for preaching His compelling argument is richly informed by traditional biblical hermeneutics creedal history understood as storied attestation of the witness of Scripture and liturgical theology and practice considered as embodied performance of the Bible's divine narrative Here is a clear summons to the church to abandon all lesser homiletic aims and to prayerfully and faithfully proclaim the holy gospel to the glory of God Charles L

Bartow Princeton Theological Seminary Like all of Michael Pasquarello's work his newest book not only upholds the classical Christian tradition but also breathes new vitality into it In an era in which preaching is reduced to persuasive communication Pasquarello reminds us that the Christian message has a content that originates in and gives expression to the Father Son and Holy Spirit Richard Lischer Duke Divinity School One of the refreshing things about this fine book by Michael Pasquarello is that when he thinks about the ministry of preaching he is not afraid to measure the breadth historically or plumb the depths theologically Pasquarello has written this book like a good sermon faithfully thoughtfully prayerfully and with a profound word to speak We are in his debt Thomas G Long Candler School of Theology Boldly challenging homiletical accommodation to American culture Pasquarello seeks to change the subject of preaching from method and marketing to the Triune God who is the source and goal of our speech A welcome theological vision of preaching Charles L Campbell Columbia Theological Seminary Christian Preaching brings together two disciplines that have sadly grown apart such that they almost developed irreconcilable differences preaching and theology Pasquarello offers a brilliant critique of theology as technique and draws on the theology and sermons of Irenaeus Augustine Luther Wesley and others convincingly demonstrating that effective pragmatic preaching requires substantive theological engagement and vice versa This book accomplishes its purpose so well that it should be used not only in preaching courses but also in basic theology courses No preacher should be let loose on a congregation without passing through Pasquarello's Christian Preaching D Stephen Long Marquette University Mike Pasquarello III PhD University of North Carolina Chapel Hill is Granger E and Anna A Fisher Professor of Preaching at Asbury Theological Seminary He is the author of Sacred Rhetoric Preaching as a Theological and Pastoral Practice of the Church
