A New Look at Atonement in Leviticus James A. Greenberg, 2020-05-11 In this book James A Greenberg examines animal sacrifice in Priestly Torah texts found in Leviticus 1 16 Exodus and Numbers Through his analysis Greenberg identifies a new valence of kipper as a process that produces a positive result between two objects and argues that the Israelite sanctuary exists to facilitate a connection between YHWH sancta and the Israelites through the medium of blood Rather than beginning with a priori assumptions of what sacrificial terms and symbols mean Greenberg allows his interpretation to develop through an accumulation of textual clues To avoid the exegetical pitfalls of symbolic and structuralist approaches he focuses on what the language of the ritual says about sacrifice and what it seeks to accomplish His investigation considers why the flesh and blood of an animal are used by the priest as he mediates on behalf of the offerer through the medium of YHWH s sanctuary what the difference is between intentional and unintentional sin how the meaning of kipper changes from one sacrifice to the next whether the sanctuary can be both holy and unclean and how priests conceive of YHWH s interaction with sancta the offerer and the animal A New Look at Atonement in Leviticus recalibrates our understanding of kipper and furthers our knowledge of the priestly cult in ancient Israel It will especially interest scholars of Biblical Hebrew and the Old Testament in particular

New approaches on Anatolian linguistics José Virgilio García Trabazo, Ignasi-Xavier Adiego, Mariona Vernet, Bartomeu Obrador-Cursach, Susana Soler, 2023-07-24 This volume brings together the culmination of philological and linguistic work undertaken by a wide range of experts in the Anatolian languages. The research papers published here cover practically the entire linguistic and chronological spectrum of the Anatolian group of Indo-European languages without neglecting important interactions with languages from other cultural environments among which the Semitic group stands out. The publication can therefore be regarded as a valuable contribution to Anatolian and Indo-European studies reflecting the persistent and sustained efforts of a group of researchers with a broad array of interests some of whom have many years of research behind them and are well known in the field. They have now been joined by new scholars who enable us to foresee a promising future for our disciplines.

Royal Illness and Kingship Ideology in the Hebrew Bible Isabel Craz, 2020-10-22 In this book Isabel Craz offers the first systematic study of royal illness in the Books of Samuel Kings and Chronicles. Applying a diachronic approach she compares and contrasts how the different views concerning kingship and illness are developed in the larger trajectory of the Hebrew Bible. As such she demonstrates how a framework of meaning is constructed around the motif of illness which is expanded in several redactional steps. This development takes different forms and relates to issues such as problems with kingship the cultic and moral conduct of individual kings or the evaluation of dynasties. Significantly Craz shows how the scribes living in post-monarchic Judah expanded the interpretive framework of royal illness until it included a message of destruction and a critique of kingship. The physical and mental integrity of the king therefore becomes closely tied to his nation and the political system he represents.

Fortune and Misfortune in the Ancient Near East Olga Drewnowska, Małgorzata Sandowicz, 2017-01-03 In the week between July 21 and 25 2014 the University of Warsaw hosted more than three hundred Assyriologists from all over the world. In the course of five days nearly 150 papers were read in three and sometimes four parallel sessions. Many of them were delivered within the framework of nine thematic workshops. The publication of most of these panels is underway in separate volumes. As is usually the case the academic sessions were accompanied by many opportunities for social interaction among the participants and there was time to enjoy the historical and cultural benefits of Warsaw. Special honor was accorded to two American Assyriologists whose origins can be traced to Warsaw Piotr Michalowski and Piotr Steinkeller and a special session to recognize their contributions to the study of ancient Mesopotamia was organized. In this book are presented papers on the main theme of the meeting Fortune and Misfortune in the Ancient Near East. The 31 essays are organized into 5 sections: 1 plenary presentations on What Is Fortune What Is Misfortune 2 humanity and fortune misfortune and luck with discussion of specific examples 3 additional papers on definitions of fortune and misfortune 4 the effects on city and state and 5 God and temple.

When Rituals go Wrong: Mistakes, Failure, and the Dynamics of Ritual Ute Hüsken, 2007-05-31 The present volume is entirely dedicated to the investigation of the implications and effects of breaking ritual rules of failed performances and of the extinction of ritual systems. While rituals are often seen as infallible mechanisms which work irrespective of the individual motivations of the performers it is clearly visible here that rituals can fail and that improper performances do in fact matter These essays break new ground in their respective fields and the comparative analysis of rituals that go wrong introduces new perspectives to ritual studies As the first book length study on ritual mistakes and failure this volume begins to fill a significant gap in the existing literature Contributors include Claus Ambos Christiane Brosius Johanna Buss Burckhard D cker Christoph Emmrich Brigitta Hauser Sch ublin Maren Hoffmeister Ute H sken Brigitte Merz Axel Michaels Karin Polit Michael Rudolph Edward L Schieffelin Jan A M Snoek Eftychia Stavrianopoulou and Jan Weinhold The Meaning of Color in Ancient Mesopotamia Shiyanthi Thavapalan,2019-10-21 In The Meaning of Color in Ancient Mesopotamia Shiyanthi Thavapalan offers the first in depth study of the words and expressions for colors in the Akkadian language c 2500 500 BCE By combining philological analysis with the technical investigation of materials she debunks the misconception that people in Mesopotamia had a limited sense of color and convincingly positions the development of Akkadian color language as a corollary of the history of materials and techniques in the ancient Near East Audias fabulas veteres. Anatolian Studies in Honor of Jana Součková-Siegelová Šárka Velhartická,2016-08-29 The publication Audias fabulas veteres Anatolian Studies in Honor of Jana Sou kov Siegelov contains 31 contributions on current research topics in the fields of Ancient Anatolian and Near Eastern Languages History Religion and Literature The topics cover not only the main languages of this geographical area such as Hittite Luwian Hattian Hurrian Akkadian and Sumerian but also comparative linguistics and the latest methods of digitalising cuneiform texts as well as religion mythology and divinities rituals proverbs and analysis of geographical and historical documentation Finally it offers new analyses of some of the most remarkable texts and text passages of the ancient Anatolian literary tradition

Anatolian Interfaces Billie Jean Collins,Mary R. Bachvarova,Ian Rutherford,2010-03-28 The papers in this collection are the product of the conference Hittites Greeks and Their Neighbors in Ancient Anatolia An International Conference on Cross Cultural Interaction hosted by Emory University in Atlanta Georgia They cover an impressive range of issues relating to the complex cultural interactions that took place on Anatolian soil over the course of two millennia in the process highlighting the difficulties inherent in studying societies that are multi cultural in their make up and outlook as well as the role that cultural identity played in shaping those interactions Topics include possible sources of tension along the Mycenaean Anatolian interface the transmission of mythological and religious elements between cultures the change across time and space in literary motifs as they are adapted to new milieus and new audiences the ways in which linguistic data can refine our understanding of the interrelations between the various peoples who lived in Anatolia and the role that the Anatolian kingdoms of the first millennium played as cultural filters and conduits through which North Syrian or Near Eastern ideas or materials were transmitted to the Greeks Purity and the Forming of Religious Traditions in the Ancient Mediterranean World and Ancient Judaism ,2012-11-01 Purity is a cultural construct that had a central role in the forming and the development of religious traditions in the ancient Mediterranean This volume analyzes concepts practices and images associated with purity in the main cultures of Antiquity and discusses from a comparative perspective their parallel developments and transformations. The perspective adopted is both synchronic and diachronic; the comparative approach takes into account points of contact and mutual influences but also includes major transcultural trends. A number of renowned specialists contribute a large variety of perspectives and approaches combining archaeology, epigraphy and social history; in addition, particular attention is given to concepts of purity in ancient Israel and early Judaism as a test case of sorts. Through its extensive coverage, the volume contributes decisively to the present discussion about the forming of religious traditions in the ancient Mediterranean world. Contributors include Philippe Borgeaud, Beate Ego, Christian Frevel, Linda Marie G nther, Micha l Guichard, Gudrun Holtz, Manfred Hutter, Albert de Jong, Michael Konkel, Bernhard Linke, Lionel Marti, Hans Peter Mathys, Christophe Nihan, Joachim Friedrich Quack, Benedikt Rausche, Noel Robertson, Udo R tersw rden, Ian Werrett, and J rgen K Zangenberg.

Translating Writings of Early Scholars in the Ancient Near East, Egypt, Greece and Rome Annette Imhausen, Tanja Pommerening, 2016-11-21. Ancient cultures have left written evidence of a variety of scientific texts. But how can they be translated? Is it possible to use modern concepts and terminology in their translation and which consequences result from this practice? Scholars of various disciplines discuss the practice of translating ancient scientific texts and present examples of these texts and their translations.

Ancient Western Asia Beyond the Paradigm of Collapse and Regeneration (1200-900 BCE) Maria Grazia Masetti-Rouault, Ilaria Calini, Robert Hawley, Lorenzo d'Alfonso, 2024-05-07. New results and interpretations challenging the notion of a uniform macroregional collapse throughout the Late Bronze Age Eastern Mediterranean. Ancient Western Asia Beyond the Paradigm of Collapse and Regeneration 1200-900 BCE presents select essays originating in a two-year research collaboration between New York University and Paris Sciences et Lettres. The contributions here offer new results and interpretations of the processes and outcomes of the transition from the Late Bronze Age to the Iron Age in three broad regions: Anatolia, northern Mesopotamia, and the Levant. Together, these challenge the notion of a uniform macroregional collapse throughout the Eastern Mediterranean, followed by the regeneration of political powers Current research on newly discovered or reinterpreted textual and material evidence from Western Asia instead suggests that this transition was characterized by a diversity of local responses emerging from diverse environmental settings and culture complexes as evident in the case studies collected here in history archaeology and art history The editors avoid particularism by adopting a regional organization with the aim of identifying and tracing similar processes and outcomes emerging locally across the three regions Ultimately this volume reimagines the Late Bronze Iron Age transition as the emergence of a set of recursive processes and outcomes nested firmly in the local cultural interactions of western Asia before the beginning of the new unifying era of Assyrian imperialism

Gods and Mortals in Early Greek and Near Eastern Mythology Adrian Kelly, Christopher Metcalf, 2021-05-06 This volume centres on one of the most important questions in the study of antiquity the interaction between Greece and the Ancient Near East from the Mycenaean to the Hellenistic periods Focusing on the stories that the peoples of the eastern Mediterranean told about the gods and their relationships with humankind the individual treatments draw together specialists from both fields creating for the first time a truly interdisciplinary synthesis Old cases are re examined new examples discussed and the whole range of scholarly opinions past and present are analysed critiqued and contextualised While direct textual comparisons still have something to show us the methodologies advanced here turn their attention to deeper structures and wider dynamics of interaction and influence that respect the cultural autonomy and integrity of all the ancient participants

Religions of Second Millennium Anatolia Piotr Taracha, 2009 This book examines Hittite religion from a historical point of view stressing two basically different stages in its development The Old Hittite pantheon of the capital Hattu a maintains the indigenous religious tradition of the Hattians without any trace of Mesopotamian Hurrian or Syrian influence although Hittite and Luwian deities were worshiped in the family and house cults The Hittite religion of the Empire period has been examined from a new viewpoint At the time there were two official pantheons in the state and the dynastic cult respectively The former is an amalgam of Hittite Luwian Hurrian Syrian and Mesopotamian deities organized on a geographical principle whereas the latter is purely Hurrian reflecting the religious beliefs of the new royal family of Kizzuwatnan origin that also influenced local pantheons of central and northern Anatolia Through the Hurrians Mesopotamian and Syrian cults were adopted Simultaneously many aspects of the Luwian religious tradition were absorbed into both the state and local cults

Aspekte des Menschseins im Alten Mesopotamien Ulrike Steinert, 2012-02-17 Being the first monographic study of this kind in the field of Assyriology this book comprises an investigation of Ancient Mesopotamian concepts of the human person Concentrating on Akkadian cuneiform texts from the 2nd and 1st millennium BC the author examines the characteristics and attributes attached to human beings and the notions of the person as a composite being through a semantic analysis of Akkadian terms for the body body parts and aspects of the self which can be termed souls Through an examination of a wide range of textual sources and an interdisciplinary approach this study shows that the Mesopotamian views of personhood share amazing similarities with those of the neighbouring ancient cultures but often differ from our own in short as a piece of modern Assyriological scholarship it is very well done and a tribute to its author s capabilities and accomplishments Benjamin R Foster Yale University Text and Intertext in Greek Epic and Drama Jonathan J. Bachvarova,2016-03-10 This book takes a bold new approach to the prehistory of Homeric epic arguing for a fresh understanding of how Near Eastern influence worked The Cambridge Companion to Ancient Mediterranean Religions Barbetta Stanley Spaeth,2013-11-25 Provides an introduction to the major religions of the ancient Mediterranean and explores current research regarding the similarities and differences among them
