Enduring Truths Darcy Grimaldo Grigsby, 2015-09-21 Runaway slave Sojourner Truth gained fame in the nineteenth century as an abolitionist feminist and orator and earned a living partly by selling photographic carte de visite portraits of herself at lectures and by mail Cartes de visite similar in format to calling cards were relatively inexpensive collectibles that quickly became a new mode of mass communication Despite being illiterate Truth copyrighted her photographs in her name and added the caption I Sell the Shadow to Support the Substance Sojourner Truth Featuring the largest collection of Truth s photographs ever published Enduring Truths is the first book to explore how she used her image the press the postal service and copyright laws to support her activism and herself Darcy Grimaldo Grigsby establishes a range of important contexts for Truth s portraits including the strategic role of photography and copyright for an illiterate former slave the shared politics of Truth s cartes de visite and federal banknotes which were both created to fund the Union cause and the ways that photochemical limitations complicated the portrayal of different skin tones Insightful and powerful Enduring Truths shows how Truth made her photographic portrait worth money in order to end slavery and also became the strategic author of her public self

The Burgomaster's Wife (Complete) Georg Ebers, 2020-09-28 The sky was blue gnats sported in the sunshine white butterflies alighted on the newly opened yellow flowers and beside one of the numerous ditches intersecting the wide plain stood a stork snapping at a fine frog the poor fellow soon writhed in its enemy s red beak One gulp the merry jumper vanished and its murderer flapping its wings soared high into the air On flew the bird over gardens filled with blossoming fruit trees trimly laid out flower beds and gaily painted arbors across the frowning circlet of walls and towers that girdled the city over narrow houses with high pointed gables and neat streets bordered with elm poplar linden and willow trees decked with the first green leaves of spring At last it alighted on a lofty gable roof on whose ridge was its firmly fastened nest After generously giving up its prey to the little wife brooding over the eggs it stood on one leg and gazed thoughtfully down upon the city whose shining red tiles gleamed spick and span from the green velvet carpet of the meadows The bird had known beautiful Leyden the gem of Holland for many a year and was familiar with all the branches of the Rhine that divided the stately city into numerous islands and over which arched as many stone bridges as there are days in five months of the year but surely many changes had occurred here since the stork s last departure for the south
