Looking Through Images Emmanuel Alloa, 2021-10-05 Images have always stirred ambivalent reactions Yet whether eliciting fascinated gazes or iconoclastic repulsion from their beholders they have hardly ever been seen as true sources of knowledge They were long viewed as mere appearances placeholders for the things themselves or deceptive illusions Today the traditional critique of the spectacle has given way to an unconditional embrace of the visual However we still lack a persuasive theoretical account of how images work Emmanuel Alloa retraces the history of Western attitudes toward the visual to propose a major rethinking of images as irreplaceable agents of our everyday engagement with the world He examines how ideas of images and their powers have been constructed in Western humanities art theory and philosophy developing a novel genealogy of both visual studies and the concept of the medium Alloa reconstructs the earliest Western media theory Aristotle's concept of the diaphanous milieu of vision and the significance of its subsequent erasure in the history of science Ultimately he argues for a historically informed phenomenology of images and visual media that explains why images are not simply referential depictions windows onto the world Instead images constantly reactivate the power of appearing As media of visualization they allow things to appear that could not be visible except in and through these very material devices

New York Supreme Court , The Imperfect and Unfinished Math Teacher [Grades K-12] Chase Orton, 2022-02-24 The system won't do it for us But we have each other In The Imperfect and Unfinished Math Teacher A Journey to Reclaim Our Professional Growth master storyteller Chase Orton offers a vulnerable and courageous grassroots guide that leads K 12 math teachers through a journey to cultivate a more equitable inclusive and cohesive culture of professionalism for themselves what he calls professional flourishing The book builds from two bold premises First that as educators we are all naturally imperfect and unfinished and growth should be our constant goal Second that the last 40 years of top down PD efforts in mathematics have rarely supplied teachers with what they need to equitably grow their practice and foster classrooms that are likewise empowered inclusive and cohesive

With gentle humanity this book inspires teachers to break down silos observe each others classrooms interrogate their own biases and put students at the center of everything they do in the math classroom This book Weaves raw and authentic stories both personal and those from other educators into a relatable and validating narrative Offers interactive opportunities to self reflect build relationships seek new vantage on our teaching by observing others classrooms and students and share and listen to other s stories and experiences Asks teachers to give and accept grace as they work collaboratively to better themselves and the system from within so that they can truly serve each of their students authentically and equitably Implementing the beliefs and actions in this book will position teachers to become more active partners in each other s professional growth so that they can navigate the obstacles in their professional landscape with renewed focus and a greater sense of individual and collective efficacy It equips teachers and by extension their students to chart their own course and author their own equitable and joyful mathematical and professional stories

Pandemic and Narration

Covid 19 Narratives in Latin America sheds light on how as Covid 19 spread infecting and killing millions across the world life not only continued to be experienced but also continued to be narrated By putting together this volume we help understand what happened in the region from a perspective in which unlike most of what we saw during the health emergency numbers statistics and percentages are not at the centre of the analysis The essays gathered here foreground something else the manifold ways Covid 19 was subjectively and collectively narrated in the news government reports political speeches NGO communications social media literature songs and many other media From a wide range of disciplinary approaches the contributors to this edition pay attention to how fictional and non fictional stories official discourses as well as personal and political accounts documented represented and shaped the health crisis laying bare how in Latin American countries the spread of the virus intersected with corruption gender based violence inequality and exclusion as with community solidarity and hope Readers will find that the focus on narrative provides an alternative source of knowledge on Latin America s Covid 19 experience Our perspective contrasts with the usual emphasis on death tolls infection rates weekly cases vaccination counts and the plethora of statistics that illustrated the gravity of the situation in the build up to during and after the peak of the crisis While extremely important to understand the situation numbers do not tell the whole story A comprehensive picture of the pandemic can only be achieved when the stories of the virus are accounted for Health after all is no stranger to narrative And neither is Latin America
