Regardsfully Yours Ferdinand von Mueller, 2006 Of German origin Ferdinand von Mueller migrated to Australia in 1847 Government Botanist of Victoria for 43 years until his death in 1896 he was Australia's greatest scientist of the 19th century a major contributor to international science an intrepid explorer of parts of Australia previously unknown to Europeans and a dominant figure in the scientific and intellectual life of his adopted country Throughout his working life Mueller kept up an enormous correspondence Large numbers of letters by or to him have been located throughout the world and edited for publication These constitute a major new research tool for both Australian historians and historians of science They are also of fundamental importance to Australian taxonomic botany for Mueller introduced vast numbers of Australian plants to western science This is the third and final volume of Mueller's selected correspondence It covers the last two decades of his life his most productive period from a scientific point of view including his work as Government Botanist of Victoria his multifarious contributions to taxonomy biogeography and economic botany his engagement with the exploration of inland Australia New Guinea and Antarctica his manifold links with international science and his evolving personal circumstances as one of the leading citizens of his adopted country This volume contains a substantial historical introduction and a further extension of the editorial apparatus developed in previous volumes The Edinburgh Journal of Science ... Conducted

Debating Speeches John Stuart Mill, 1988-12-01 One of the constant fascinations Mill holds for the general public as well as scholars derives from the early flowering of his genius This development is seen in detail in the journal and notebook he kept in France during his fifteenth year and in the debating speeches and walking tour journals dating from his eighteenth to twenty fourth years This was the period when he first adopted Benthamism as a religion worked intensively as a propagandist for the faith and then began the painful reassessment that led to his independent mature thought and action Some of the results of that reassessment are seen in the diary entries from 1854 written for his wife which reveal in personal form many of their most passionately held ideas These materials have never before been gathered and almost all appear here for the first time in scholarly form They throw light on contemporary social interests and behavior and will encourage new assessments of Mill's life and thought The texts the great majority drawn from manuscripts are presented in critical form collated with explanatory and textual notes The Introduction gives the personal and historical context with an analysis of content and rhetoric the Textual Introduction supplies information about the nature and history of the documents while Appendices provide ancillary materials Both bibliographic and analytic indexes are included Easy French Fiction

Recommend Themselves by Their Novelty, Rarity, History Or Uses Sir William Jackson Hooker, 1845 Proceedings of the American Philosophical Society Held at Philadelphia for Promoting Useful Knowledge, 1889 The American Journal of Science Mrs. Gambold, 1845 The Selected Works of George Sand George Sand, The correspondence of George Sand and Gustave Flaubert if approached merely as a chapter in the biographies of these heroes of nineteenth century letters is sufficiently rewarding In a relationship extending over twelve years including the trying period of the Franco Prussian War and the Commune these extraordinary personalities disclose the aspects of their diverse natures which are best worth the remembrance of posterity However her passionate and erratic youth may have captivated our grandfathers George Sand in the mellow autumn of her life is for us at her most attractive phase The storms and anguish and hazardous adventures that attended the defiant unfolding of her spirit are over In her final retreat at Nohant surrounded by her affectionate children and grandchildren diligently writing botanizing bathing in her little river visited by her friends and undistracted by the fiery lovers of the old time she shows an unguessed wealth of maternal virtue swift comprehending sympathy fortitude sunny resignation and a goodness of heart that has ripened into wisdom For Flaubert too though he was seventeen years her junior the flamboyance of youth was long since past in 1862 when the correspondence begins he was firmly settled a shy proud grumpy toiling hermit of forty in his family seat at Croisset beginning his seven years labor at L Education Sentimentale master of his art hardening in his convictions and conscious of increasing estrangement from the spirit of his age He with his craving for sympathy and she with her inexhaustible supply of it meet he pours out his bitterness she her consolation and so with equal candor of self revelation they beautifully draw out and strengthen each the other s characteristics and help one another grow old But there is more in these letters than a satisfaction for the biographical appetite which indeed finds ITS account rather in the earlier chapters of the correspondents history What impresses us here is the banquet spread for the reflective and critical faculties in this intercourse of natural antagonists As M Faguet observes in a striking paragraph of his study of Flaubert It is a curious thing which does honor to them both that Flaubert and George Sand should have become loving friends towards the end of their lives At the beginning Flaubert might have been looked upon by George Sand as a furious enemy Emma Madame Bovary is George Sand s heroine with all the poetry turned into ridicule Flaubert seems to say in every page of his work Do you want to know what is the real Valentine the real Indiana the real Lelia Here she is it is Emma Roualt And do you want to know what becomes of a woman whose education has consisted in George Sand s books Here she is Emma Roualt So that the terrible mocker of the bourgeois has written a book which is directly inspired by the spirit of the 1840 bourgeois Their recriminations against romanticism which rehabilitates and poetises the courtesan against George Sand the Muse of Adultery are to be found in acts and facts in Madame Bovary Now the largest interest of this correspondence depends precisely upon the continuance beneath an affectionate personal relationship of a fundamental antagonism of interests and beliefs resolutely maintained on both sides George Sand with her

lifelong passion for propaganda and reformation labors earnestly to bring Flaubert to her point of view to remould him nearer to her heart's desire. He with a playful deference to the sex and years of his friend addresses her in his letters as Dear Master. Yet in the essentials of the conflict though she never gives over her effort he never budes a jot he has taken his ground and in his last unfinished work Bouvard and Pecuchet he dies stubbornly fortifying his position. To the last she speaks from a temperament lyrical sanguine imaginative optimistic and sympathetic he from a temperament dramatic melancholy observing cynical and satirical. She insists upon natural goodness he upon innate depravity. She urges her faith in social regeneration he vents his splenetic contempt for the mob. Through all the successive shocks of disillusioning experience she expects the renovation of humanity by some religious some semi mystical amelioration of its heart he grimly concedes the greater part of humanity to the devil and can see no escape for the remnant save in science and aristocratic organization. For her finally the literary art is an instrument of social salvation it is her means of touching the world with her ideals her love her aspiration for him the literary art is the avenue of escape from the meaningless chaos of existence it is his subtly critical condemnation of the world. The origins of these unreconciled antipathies lie deep beneath the personal relationship of George Sand and Gustave Flaubert. lie deep beneath their successors who with more or less of amenity in their manners are still debating the same questions today. The main currents of the nineteenth century with fluent and refluxing tides clash beneath the controversy and as soon as one hears its long withdrawing roar and thinks it is dying away and is become a part of ancient history it begins again and will be heard no doubt by the last man as a solemn accompaniment to his final contention with his last adversary.

Correspondance entre François Laydevant et Albert Perbal, 1927-1952 Eugène

Lapointe, 2016-05-18 This volume presents the 25 years correspondence of a Roman Catholic missionary Fr François Laydevant who worked in Lesotho from 1905 to 1954 with a Roman Catholic missiologist Fr Albert Perbal based in Rome Italy. The exchange of letters was provoked by the missiologist who needed direct information from the mission field for his own research and teaching and first of all in order to fulfil his role of consultant with the Institute for the Study of African Languages and Cultures in London and the Conference Romaine des Missions Catholiques d'Afrique in Rome. The main result of the correspondence apart from fulfilling the above stated purpose was to propel Fr Laydevant into fruitful anthropological ethnological and historical research into Lesotho and its people. The correspondence deals with many contemporary missiological problems of the time. It is also a primary source for the history of the Church in Lesotho in particular the Roman Catholic Church.

FRENCH TEXT Ce volume comprend la correspondance de vingt cinq ans d'un missionnaire catholique le P re François Laydevant qui travailla au Lesotho de 1905 1954 avec un missiologue catholique le P re Albert Perbal qui demeurait Rome. C'est le missiologue qui provoqua l'échange de lettres. Il avait besoin d'information directe partir du champ missionnaire pour ses recherches et son enseignement et d'abord pour remplir son rôle auprès de l'Institut pour l'étude des langues et des Cultures Africaines Londres et auprès de la Conférence Romaine des Missions Catholiques d'Afrique Rome. Le r sultat le plus vident de cette correspondance fut de lancer le Père Lay devant dans les recherches ethnologiques anthropologiques et historiques sur le Lesotho et son peuple La correspondance aborde plusieurs questions missionnaires contemporaines au cours de ces 25 ans et demeure une source primaire pour l'histoire de l'église au Lesotho en particulier l'église Catholique
