sometimes unhelpful complexities and contradictions The focus of this study is thus firmly on the fictional practice of the writers discussed He offers the reader an insight into the diversity and rewards of contemporary anglophone fiction whilst analysing some eighty individual texts A uniquely comprehensive guide the book will be welcomed by students and teachers of postcolonial literature

Warrior Generation 1865-1885 Richard Fulton,2020-07-09 Richard Fulton's Warrior Generation 1865-1885 fundamentally rethinks the efficacy of an institutional drive among influential middle class opinion leaders to militarize lower class boys in Victorian Britain He contends that instead of engendering the desired cultural militarism as has been commonly argued their push had merely contributed to a fast developing culture of adventure and masculinity Challenging this popular assumption Fulton carefully reexamines many of the oft cited touchstones of militaristic influence on lower class boys deeply assessing their actual effects on the behaviours and cultural practices of this generation He explores a range of themes from among others the propagation of the military's message in school curricula and its glorification in students textbooks to the military's heroic depiction and ubiquitous presence in lower class boys entertainment and popular media

Whole Men Kai Jensen,1996 Kai Jensen takes a provocative look at masculinity in New Zealand literature He argues that New Zealand writing around the Second World War was shaped by excitement about masculinity as a way of challenging society Inspired partly by Marxism writers such as A R D Fairburn Denis Glover John Mulgan and Frank Sargeson linked national identity to the ordinary working man or soldier and attempted to merge artistic activity and manliness in a new ideal the whole man This masculine excitement forged a literary and intellectual culture which was powerful for thirty years and which discouraged women writers Jensen suggests that the aftermath of masculinism still influences the way New Zealand intellectuals see themselves and that the masculine tradition survives in the writing of Owen Marshall Sam Hunt Maurice Shadbolt and even Maurice Gee At the same time he argues that masculinism underwent a process of change after its high point in the 1940s Frank Sargeson's closeted homosexuality posed a complex problem for the masculine tradition and its historians and James K Baxter's symbolic Jungian poetry was also hard to reconcile with the idea that men's writing must be based on robust experience Yet Baxter prepared the masculine tradition for the 1960s and 1970s by renovating the whole man as bohemian lover Whole Men is not just about one literary movement but about how literary culture works and how New Zealand intellectuals construct their identities
