Lavender Mansions Irene Zahava, 2019-03-11 George Stambolian Terri de la Pe a Audre Lorde Paul Monette Edmund White and Jaime Manrique are just six of the writers represented in this collection of forty contemporary lesbian and gay short stories Gathered together for the first time in one volume are writings by both lesbians and gay men who represent a multiplicity of ethnic and racial backgrounds Irene Zahava has compiled a unique and necessary collection selecting stories for their artistic power and for their treatment of topics that are significant in lesbian and gay life and politics today An alternative thematic table of contents allows the reader to understand lesbian and gay life according to its most culturally and politically significant themes childhood growing up coming out finding community families oppression resistance bisexuality relationships friendships AIDS and aging dying The Writer and the World V. S. Naipaul, 2012-03-15 For forty years V S Naipaul has been traveling and through his writing creating one of the most wide ranging and sustained meditations on our world Now for the first time his finest shorter pieces of reflection and reportage nearly all of them heretofore out of print are collected in one volume With an abiding faith in the redemptive power of modernity balanced by a sense of wonder about the past Naipaul has explored an astonishing variety of societies and peoples through the many sided prism of his own experience Whether writing about the Muslim invasions of India Mobutu s mad reign in Zaire or the New York mayoral elections he has demonstrated again and again that no one has a shrewder intuition of the ways in which power works of the universal relation of the exploiter and the exploited And no one has put forth a more consistently eloquent defense of the dignity of the individual and the value of civilization Infused with a deeply felt humanism The Writer and the World attests powerfully not only to Naipaul s status as the great English prose stylist of our time but also to his keen often prophetic understanding The School of History Mark H. Munn, 2023-09-01 History political philosophy and constitutional law were born in Athens in the space of a single generation the generation that lived through the Peloponnesian War 431 404 b c e This remarkable age produced such luminaries as Socrates Herodotus Thucydides Sophocles Euripides Aristophanes and the sophists and set the stage for the education and early careers of Plato and Xenophon among others The School of History provides the fullest and most detailed intellectual and political history available of Athens during the late fifth century b c e as it examines the background the context and the decisive events shaping this society in the throes of war This expansive readable narrative ultimately leads to a new understanding of Athenian democratic culture showing why and how it yielded such extraordinary intellectual productivity As both a source and a subject Thucydides history of the Peloponnesian War is the central text around which the narrative and thematic issues of the book revolve Munn re evaluates the formation of the Greek historiographical tradition itself as he identifies the conditions that prompted Thucydides to write specifically the historian's desire to guide the Athenian democracy as it struggled to comprehend its future. The School of History fully encompasses recent scholarship in history literature and archaeology. Munn's impressive mastery of the huge number of sources and publications informs his substantial contributions to our understanding of this democracy transformed by war. Immersing us fully in the intellectual foment of Athenian society, The School of History traces the history of Athens at the peak of its influence both as a political and military power in its own time and as a source of intellectual inspiration for the centuries to come.

The remarkable history of forged and fabricated Islamic ceramics, their makers, and their unique role in colonial trade. In the heyday of Islamic art collecting around the turn of the twentieth century, thousands of premodern ceramic objects circulated on the international antiquities market. Invisible Hands tells the story of how traditional craft skills of the Islamic world, often thought to have died out with the advent of industrialization, were redirected toward a thriving new market in the colonial era: the fabrication and fictionalizing of antiquities, especially ceramics. In this stunning work of art history, Margaret Graves shakes the foundations of the discipline, challenging us to reconsider what is and is not art. She traces how sophisticated fabrications as modern as they were believed to be medieval moved within an international network of diggers, dealers, and collectors who took advantage of a largely unregulated marketplace to exchange and amass objects that were fabulous in every sense of the word. She looks at canonical artworks as well as many previously unpublished and rarely seen objects, shedding light on the astonishingly varied ways Islamic ceramics were altered and remade by highly skilled craftspeople to meet the demands of Western collectors. Shifting away from the moralizing stance of past studies on reconstructed Islamic ceramics, Graves shows how fabrication and forgery became a major site of participation in modern global capitalism and establishes an entirely new paradigm in the history of art. Drawing on a substantive new body of provenance research, archaeology, economic history, and laboratory analysis, Invisible Hands centers previously marginalized objects, reframing the practices of fabrication and forgery as crucial forms of invention and artistic skill worthy of study and admiration. From Deliberative Democracy to Consent Democracy Dorothea Rohde, 2023-04-24. The political system of Athens experienced a rebalancing in the period between 404 and 307, which cannot be adequately captured with the keywords decline or crisis. The comprehensive analysis of Athens' public finances opens up a new approach to this hinge.
