Capitalism Jürgen Kocka, Marcel van der Linden, 2016-08-25 Capitalism has been a controversial concept In the second half of the 20th century many historians have either not used the concept at all or only in passing Many regarded the term as too broad holistic and vague or too value loaded ideological and polemic This volume brings together leading scholars to explore why the term has recently experienced a comeback and assess how useful the term can be in application to social and economic history The contributors discuss whether and how the history of capitalism enables us to ask new questions further explore unexhausted sources and discover new connections between previously unrelated phenomena The chapters address case studies drawn from around the world giving attention to Europe Africa and beyond This is a timely reassessment of a crucial concept which will be of great interest to scholars and students of economic history The Oxford Handbook of Women and Gender in Medieval Europe Judith M. Bennett, Ruth Mazo Karras, 2013-08-22 The Oxford Handbook of Women and Gender in Medieval Europe provides a comprehensive overview of the gender rules encountered in Europe in the period between approximately 500 and 1500 C E The essays collected in this volume speak to interpretative challenges common to all fields of women s and gender history that is how best to uncover the experiences of ordinary people from archives formed mainly by and about elite males and how to combine social histories of lived experiences with cultural histories of gendered discourses and identities The collection focuses on Western Europe in the Middle Ages but offers some consideration of medieval Islam and Byzantium The Handbook is structured into seven sections Christian Jewish and Muslim thought law in theory and practice domestic life and material culture labour land and economy bodies and sexualities gender and holiness and the interplay of continuity and change throughout the medieval period It contains material from some of the foremost scholars in this field and it not only serves as the major reference text in medieval and gender studies but also provides an agenda for future new research Banking Across Boundaries Brett Christophers, 2013-01-07 This compelling contribution to contemporary debates about the banking industry offers a unique perspective on its geographical and conceptual placement It traces the evolving links between the two revealing how our notions of banking productiveness have evolved alongside the shifting loci of banking activity An original contribution to the urgent debates taking place on banking sparked by the current economic crisis Offers a unique perspective on the geographical and social concept of placement of the banking industry Combines theoretical approaches from political economy with contemporary literature on the performativity of economics Details the globalization of Western banking and analyzes how representations of the banking sector s productiveness have shifted throughout the evolution of Western economic theory Analyzes the social conceptualization of the nature and value of the banking industry Illuminates not only how economic ideas perform and shape the economic world but how those ideas are themselves always products of particular economic realities High Germans In The Low Countries Donald J. Harreld, 2004-01-01 This volume looks at the South German merchant community during Antwerp s Golden Age by examining German involvement in the social life of the city as well as by tracing merchants commercial activities The first section of the book considers the institutions of trade and the role Germans played in their development and how Germans interacted with other foreign merchant communities The second section takes a wider view by tracing the commercial networks that South German merchants operated in and by quantifying South German participation in Antwerp s foreign trade Credit and State Theories of Money L. Randall Wray, 2004-01-01 In 1913 and 1914 A Mitchell Innes published a pair of articles that stand as two of the best pieces written in the twentieth century on the nature of money Only recently rediscovered these articles are reprinted and analyzed here for the first time      Critical Junctures in Mobile Capital Jocelyn Pixley, Helena Flam, 2018-03-08 During the recent financial crisis the conflict between sovereign states and banks over who controls the creation of money was thrown into sharp relief This collection investigates the relationship between states and banks arguing that conflicts between the two over control of money produces critical junctures Drawing on Max Weber's concept of mobile capital the book examines the mobility of capital networks in contexts of funding warfare global bubbles and dangerous instability disengaged from social economic activity It proposes that mobile capital is a primary feature of capitalism and nation states and furthermore argues that the perennial hierarchical struggles between states and global banks is intrinsic to capitalism Featuring authors writing from an impressively diverse range of academic backgrounds including sociology geography economics and politics Critical Junctures in Mobile Capital presents a variety of analyses using current or past examples from different countries federations and of differing forms of mobile capital      The Rise and Fall of a Public Debt Market in 16th-Century China Wing-kin Puk, 2015-11-16 During the Ming dynasty 1368-1644 the government invited merchants to deliver grain in return for salt certificates with which merchants drew salt as reward The salt certificate therefore represented a national debt denominated in salt the government thereby owed merchants A speculative market of salt certificates was created in Yangzhou and brought into being powerful financiers in the early 17th century The government financially hard pressed abolished the speculative market of salt certificates by franchising these financiers in return for their hereditary obligation to pay salt certificate surcharge China was therefore deprived of a possibility to develop a public debt market This story is a testimony to Fernand Braudel's argument of the nondevelopment of Capitalism in China      Early Modern Europe, 1450-1789 Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, 2022-08-25 Thoroughly updated edition of a best selling acclaimed book placing early modern European history in a global and environmental context      Colonialism & Modernity Paul Gillen, Devleena Ghosh, 2007 Few books tell such a broad global history using an interdisciplinary approach that blends historical and cultural scholarship Author based at UTS      Petrarch's War William Caferro, 2018-05-03 This revisionist account of the economic literary and social history of Florence in the immediate aftermath of the Black Death connects warfare with the plague narrative Organised around Petrarch's war against the Ubaldini clan of 1349-1350 which formed the prelude to his meeting and friendship with Boccaccio William Caferro's work examines the institutional and economic effects of the war alongside literary and historical patterns Caferro pays close attention to the meaning of wages in context including those of soldiers thereby revising our understanding of wage data in the distant past and highlighting the consequences of a constricted workforce that resulted in the use of cooks and servants on important embassies Drawing on rigorous archival research this book will stimulate discussion among academics and offers a new contribution to our understanding of Renaissance Florence It stresses the importance of short termism and contradiction as subjects of historical inquiry      State, Economy and the Great

Divergence Peer Vries, 2015-02-26 State Economy and the Great Divergence provides a new analysis of what has become the central debate in global economic history the great divergence between European and Asian growth Focusing on early modern China and Western Europe in particular Great Britain this book offers a new level of detail on comparative state formation that has wide reaching implications for European Eurasian and global history Beginning with an overview of the historiography Peer Vries goes on to extend and develop the debate critically engaging with the huge volume of literature published on the topic to date Incorporating recent insights he offers a compelling alternative to the claims to East West equivalence or Asian superiority which have come to dominate discourse surrounding this issue This is a vital update to a key issue in global economic history and as such is essential reading for students and scholars interested in keeping up to speed with the on going debates

The Politics of Jewish Commerce Jonathan Karp, 2008-07-21 This study demonstrates the centrality of economic rationales to debates on Jews status in Italy Britain France and Germany during the course of two centuries It delineates the common themes that informed these debates the ideal republic and the ancient constitution the conflict between virtue and commerce and the notion of useful and productive labor It thus provides an overview of the political economic dimensions of Jewish emancipation literature of this period This overview is viewed against the backdrop of broader controversies within European society over the effects of commerce on inherited political values and institutions By focusing on economic attitudes toward Jews the book also illuminates European intellectual approaches toward economic modernity By elucidating these general debates it renders more contemporary Jewish economic self conceptions and the enormous impetus that Jewish reformist movements placed on the Jews economic and occupational transformation fully explicable

The History of Bankruptcy Thomas Max Safley, 2013-01-17 This volume takes up bankruptcy in early modern Europe when its frequency made it not only an economic problem but a personal tragedy and a social evil Using legal business and personal records the essays in this volume examine the impact of failure on business organizations and practices capital formation and circulation economic institutions and ethics and human networks and relations in the so called transition to modern society from the early sixteenth to the early nineteenth century One group of essays concentrates on the German speaking world and shows a common concern for the microeconomics of bankruptcy that is for such issues as the structure of the firm the nature of its capital and the practices of its partners especially their assessment of risk Another group of essays shifts the focus from Central to Western and Northern Europe and away from the microeconomics of the early modern firm to an institutional consideration of bankruptcy The final group of essays turns to Southern Europe especially the Mediterranean basin to assess bankruptcy not as an unfortunate result of crisis but as an intentional response to crisis All of the contributions are the result of original research many of the scholars publish in English for the first time All of the chapters are founded on close archival research offering insights not only into business organization and practice but also into social and cultural aspects of economic life from the late sixteenth to the early nineteenth century When Money Changes Society Giacomo Bazzani, 2020-05-09 Classical sociology considered money as central to the functioning of modern society relating it to a progressive expansion of instrumental rationality and the emergence of weaker social ties Modern money the universal equivalent described by Simmel facilitates the exchange of goods and values by providing a single unit of account This frees people and things from traditional social ties and makes them free to sell their work and trade goods on markets that increasingly erode national borders Modern money thus frees the individual from traditional social ties and facilitates the creation of ever larger and more inter connected markets Sardex money on the other hand seems to work in the opposite direction the weak social ties of ordinary economic transactions are replaced by strong ones characterised by a high level of reciprocity and by an ethical code Furthermore the movement of goods is restricted to the regional level and much is done to promote economic exchanges between member companies Early Modern History and the Social Sciences John A. Marino, 2002-07-01 This collection of eleven essays furthers the dialogue between early modern history and the social sciences through an analysis of Fernand Braudel's The Mediterranean and the Mediterranean World of Philip II The contributors review various historiographical traditions to arrive at conclusions on contemporary theory and practice in the exchange between history and the disciplines of geography economics sociology anthropology politics diplomatic history and the study of revolutions psychology law religion and area studies China and the Americas Contributors Peter Burke Emmanuel College University of Cambridge Jan de Vries University of California Berkeley Mark Elvin Australian National University Canberra Jack A Goldstone University of California Davis Antonio Manuel Hespanha Universidade Nova de Lisboa Henry Kamen Consejo Superior de Investigaciones Científicas Instituci Mil i Fontanals Barcelona John A Marino University of California San Diego Ottavia Niccoli Università degli Studi di Trento Anthony Pagden University of California Los Angeles M J Rodríguez Salgado London School of Economics Bartolomé Yun Casalilla Universidad Pablo de Olavide de Sevilla
