

HOW TO TIE A MONKEY'S FIST KNOT

1: WRAP the rope around the fingers of your non-dominant hand three times. Make sure to leave plenty of rope on your working end.

3: WRAP the working end horizontally around both the front and back of your vertical loops twice.

5: WRAP the working end around the three horizontal loops you just made.

7: TUCK the knot into the center of your monkey fist. Instead of the knot, you can also place an object in there, like a marble.

2: PASS the working end outside the loops at the back of your hand, then pull the end to palm side through middle fingers.

4: CAREFULLY pull your fingers out from your knot, then make a third pass with the working end, this time around the front vertical loops only.

6: TIE an overhand knot at the end of the working end of the rope.

8: TIGHTEN all the loops. Presto! Monkey's fist!

Hansen, 2010-01-19 Every sailor and wanna-be sailor, whether they know it or not, is in direct contact with a personal god or gods; however, many there may be. What we sailors fail to appreciate is that the gods are constantly trying to get in touch with us, but we ignore their messages since we are either too busy sailing or drinking beer. Keep this thought firmly in mind next time you untie your dock lines. Twenty-Minute Plays (□□) □□□□□□ Don Gilleland, 2009 Practical Paracord Projects

Instructables.com, 2014-07-15 Parachute cord, which is now universally known as paracord, is a lightweight nylon rope originally used by paratroopers during World War II. It is now employed as a general-purpose utility cord by military personnel and civilians alike. Paracord is an ideal material for making whips, for example, due to its durability and flexibility. Hikers and other outdoor enthusiasts have made survival bracelets from paracord, which are meant to be unraveled when needed to secure cargo, lash together poles, and fix broken straps and laces. As more colors become available, crafters are discovering that paracord makes an excellent material for fun and stylish friendship bracelets, lanyards, belts, dog leashes, key chains, and more. Originating from Instructables, a popular project-based community made up of all sorts of people with a desire to pass on their wisdom to others, Practical Paracord Projects contains ideas from a number of authors who show just how easy it is to make virtually anything from paracord. Practical Paracord Projects provides step-by-step instructions on a variety of useful and fun objects involving paracord. Guided by detailed photographs, the reader will create such practical and unusual projects as a laptop harness, a can koozie, an eyeglass lanyard, a hanging chair, sandals, a leatherman pouch, and much more. Jumpstart! Grammar

Pie Corbett, Julia Strong, 2015-10-23 Fully updated to help teachers deal with the new 2016 Grammar Tests, this second edition presents a collection of simple-to-use multi-sensory games and activities that will jumpstart pupils' understanding of grammar in action. It includes coverage of the subjunctive and past progressive, selecting which tense is the most definite, identifying when a word is used as a subordinating conjunction, preposition, explaining how a comma can change meaning, and an increased emphasis on the passive. Jumpstart Grammar will prepare children for any grammar tests on the horizon in an engaging way so that they love playing with words and spinning sentences to make ideas dance. And of course, they will be able to name the parts if that is what is required. Fun games will focus first on helping children hear the difference; various types of grammar can be made followed by activities to help them understand what different effects you can create with grammar. Technical terms will only be introduced once the children have established what the various features can do, with a particular focus on those terms that really help children discuss what makes
