Mont-Saint-Michel and Chartres Henry Adams, 2020-04 The relationship between reader and writer of son and father may have existed in Queen Elizabeth's time but is much too close to be true for ours The utmost that any writer could hope of his readers now is that they should consent to regard themselves as nephews and even then he would expect only a more or less civil refusal from most of them Indeed if he had reached a certain age he would have observed that nephews as a social class no longer read at all and that there is only one familiar instance recorded of a nephew who read his uncle The exception tends rather to support the rule since it needed a Macaulay to produce and two volumes to record it Finally the metre does not permit it One may not say Who reads me when I am ashes is my nephew in wishes
