New World Encounters Stephen Greenblatt, 2023-04-28 The discovery of the Indies wrote Francisco Lopez de Gama in 1552 was the greatest event since the creation of the world excepting the Incarnation and Death of Him who created it Five centuries have not diminished either the overwhelming importance or the strangeness of the early encounter between Europeans and American peoples This collection of essays encompassing history literary criticism art history and anthropology offers a fresh and innovative approach to the momentous encounter This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1993 The discovery of the Indies wrote Francisco Lopez de Gama in 1552 was the greatest event since the creation of the world excepting the Incarnation and Death of Him who created it Five centuries have not diminished either the overwhelming importance

New World Encounters Pasquale De Marco, In this captivating exploration of human migration exploration and conquest we embark on a journey that spans civilizations continents and eras From ancient seafarers to modern pioneers we uncover the extraordinary stories of those who dared to venture into the unknown transforming our understanding of the world and shaping its destiny Through the lens of history we witness the rise and fall of empires the ebb and flow of populations and the vibrant tapestry of cultural exchanges We delve into the complexities of trade and commerce tracing the routes that connected civilizations and the flow of goods ideas and technologies that transformed societies Moreover we encounter the human drama of cultural encounters and exchanges where diverse civilizations interacted adapted and transformed one another These encounters were not without conflict as we explore the clash of civilizations examining the ideological religious and ethnic tensions that have ignited conflicts throughout history We trace the rise of nationalism witnessing the birth of nation states and the struggles for independence and self determination As we delve into the legacies of empires we uncover the lasting political economic and cultural influences that continue to shape our world today Finally we turn our attention to the future considering the challenges and opportunities posed by globalization and interdependence We examine the interconnectedness of economies the impact of technological advancements and the imperative for global cooperation in addressing common challenges This book is an invitation to explore the intricate tapestry of human history where migration exploration and conquest have left an indelible mark on our world It is a journey that promises to enlighten inspire and challenge our perspectives on the human experience shedding light on the forces that have shaped our past and continue to influence our present and future If you like this book write a review European Encounters with the New World Anthony Pagden, 1993-01-01 For more than three centuries after Columbus voyages to America Europeans pondered how the Old World's encounters with the New World affected European sensibilities and intellectual horizons In this book Anthony

Pagden examines some of the varied ways in which Europeans interpreted these encounters with America Sexual Encounters Lee Wallace, 2018-05-31 European literary artistic and anthropological representation has long viewed the Pacific as the site of heterosexual pleasures The received wisdom of these accounts is based on the idea of female bodies unrestrained by civilization In a revisionist history of the Pacific zone and some of its preeminent Western imaginists Lee Wallace suggests that the fantasy of the male body rather than of the free loving female provides the underlying libidinal structure for many of the classic encounter narratives from Cook to Melville The subject of Sexual Encounters is sexual fantasy particularly male homoerotic fantasy found in the literature and art of South Sea exploration colonization and settlement Working at the boundaries of a number of disciplines such as queer theory anthropology postcolonial studies and history Wallace engages in subversive readings of eighteenth and nineteenth century Pacific voyage journals Cook in Hawaii and a Russian expedition to the Marquesas an argument concerning Gauguin's treatment of female figures and a discussion of homosexuality and Samoan male to female transgenderism These phenomena Wallace asserts demonstrate the continuity and dissonance between Western and Pacific sexual categories She reconstructs Pacific history through the inevitable entanglement of metropolitan and indigenous sexual regimes and ultimately argues for the importance of the Pacific in defining modern sexual categories Keats M S C O'Neill, 2019-08-06 Pluralist in approach and ranging across Keats's poetry and letters this volume brings together ground breaking historical research on the writer's schooling in Enfield the sources of The Eve of St Mark as well as an innovative discussion of Keats's writings about America New light is shed on Keats's response to art and on his brilliant handling of the epistolary form The workings of Keats's poetry are also reconsidered in a series of new readings His treatment of silence is discussed divisions put to productive use by Keats are emphasized and the inward Keats is explored in an examination of his poetry's post Romantic American reception

Imagology, 2007-01-01 How do national stereotypes emerge To which extent are they determined by historical or ideological circumstances or else by cultural literary or discursive conventions This first inclusive critical compendium on national characterizations and national cultural or ethnic stereotypes contains 120 articles by 73 contributors Its three parts offer 1 a number of in depth survey articles on ethnic and national images in European literatures and cultures over many centuries 2 an encyclopedic survey of the stereotypes and characterizations traditionally ascribed to various ethnicities and nationalities and 3 a conspectus of relevant concepts in various cultural fields and scholarly disciplines The volume as a whole as well as each of the articles has extensive bibliographies for further critical reading Imagology is intended both for students and for senior scholars facilitating not only a first acquaintance with the historical development typology and poetics of national stereotypes but also a deepening of our understanding and analytical perspective by interdisciplinary and comparative contextualization and extensive cross referencing The Americas Felipe Fernández-Armesto, 2003-05-06 From food to the spread of political ideas the landmass from northern Canada to the southern tip of Argentina is complexly bound together yet these connections are generally ignored In this groundbreaking and vividly rendered work leading historian Felipe Fern ndez Armesto tells for the first time the story of our hemisphere as a whole showing why it is impossible to understand North Central and South America in isolation and looking instead to the intricate and common forces that continue to shape the region With his trademark erudition imagination and thematic breadth Fern ndez Armesto ranges over commerce religion agriculture the environment the slave trade culture and politics He takes us from man s arrival in North America to the Colonial and Independence periods to the American Century and beyond For most of human history the south dominated the north as Fern ndez Armesto argues in his provocative conclusion it might well again A panoramic yet richly textured story that embodies fresh ways of looking at cross cultural exchange conflict and interaction The Americas demolishes our traditional ways of looking at the hemisphere putting in place a compelling and fruitful new vision

Empires and Indigenous Peoples Michael Maas, Fay A. Yarbrough, 2024-09-03 The Romans who established their rule on three continents and the Europeans who first established new homes in North America interacted with communities of Indigenous peoples with their own histories and cultures Sweeping in its scope and rigorous in its scholarship Empires and Indigenous Peoples expands our understanding of their historical parallels and raises general questions about the nature of the various imperial encounters In this book leading scholars of ancient Roman and early anglophone North America examine the mutual perceptions of the Indigenous and the imperial actors They investigate the rhetoric of civilization and barbarism and its expression in military policies Indigenous resistance survival and adaptation form a major theme The essays demonstrate that power relations were endlessly adjusted identities were framed and reframed and new mutual knowledge was produced by all participants Over time cultures were transformed across the board on political social religious linguistic ideological and economic levels The developments were complex with numerous groups enmeshed in webs of aggression opposition cooperation and integration Readers will see how Indigenous and imperial identities evolved in Roman and American lands Finally the authors consider how American views of Roman activity influenced the development of American imperial expansion and accompanying Indigenous critiques They show how Roman imperial North American and Indigenous experiences have contributed to American notions of race religion and citizenship and given shape to problems of social inclusion and exclusion today

On Records Andrew Newman, 2012-12-01 Bridging the fields of indigenous early American memory and media studies On Records illuminates the problems of communication between cultures and across generations Andrew Newman examines several controversial episodes in the historical narrative of the Delaware Lenape Indians including the stories of their primordial migration to settle a homeland spanning the Delaware and Hudson Rivers the arrival of the Dutch and the first colonial land fraud William Penn's founding of Pennsylvania with a Great Treaty of Peace and the infamous 1737 Pennsylvania Walking Purchase As Newman demonstrates the quest for ideal records authentic authoritative and objective anchored in the past yet intelligible to the present has haunted historical actors and scholars alike Yet without proof how can we know what really happened On Records articulates surprising connections among colonial documents recorded oral traditions material and visual cultures Its comprehensive probing analysis of historical evidence yields a multifaceted understanding of events and reveals new insights into the divergent memories of a shared past

colonial and commercial expansion His work spanned every area of English activity and aspiration from Muscovy to America from Africa to the Near East and India to China and Japan providing up to date information and establishing an ideological framework for English rivalries with Spain Portugal France and the Netherlands This interdisciplinary collection of 24 essays brings together the best international scholarship on Hakluyt revising our picture of the influences on his work his editorial practice and his impact Racism and Anti-Racism in World Perspective Benjamin Bowser,1995-09-18 Bowser is a unique and valuable resource for students and scholars of race relations The book s contributors come from a wide range of backgrounds including anthropology classics sociology political science communications and history They examine racism and anti racism through the historical and cultural lenses of different world settings including Europe South America Africa America and the Caribbean Freedom Roots Laurent Dubois,Richard Lee Turits,2019-10-11 To tell the history of the Caribbean is to tell the history of the world write Laurent Dubois and Richard Lee Turits In this powerful and expansive story of the vast archipelago Dubois and Turits chronicle how the Caribbean has been at the heart of modern contests between slavery and freedom racism and equality and empire and independence From the emergence of racial slavery and European colonialism in the early sixteenth century to U S annexations and military occupations in the twentieth systems of exploitation and imperial control have haunted the region Yet the Caribbean is also where empires have been overthrown slavery was first defeated and the most dramatic revolutions triumphed Caribbean peoples have never stopped imagining and pursuing new forms of liberty Dubois and Turits reveal how the region s most vital transformations have been ignited in the conflicts over competing visions of land While the powerful sought a Caribbean awash in plantations for the benefit of the few countless others anchored their quest for freedom in small farming and counter plantation economies at times succeeding against all odds Caribbean realities to this day are rooted in this long and illuminating history of struggle

Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1988: Department of Agriculture United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on the Department of the Interior and Related Agencies,1988 Writing the Northland Barbara Stefanie Giehmann,2011 Early Modern Dutch Prints of Africa ElizabethA. Sutton,2017-07-05 Using Pieter de Marees Description and Historical Account of the Gold Kingdom of Guinea 1602 as her main source material author Elizabeth Sutton brings to bear approaches from the disciplines of art history and book history to explore the context in which De Marees account was created Since variations of the images and text were repeated in other European travel collections and decorated maps Sutton is able to trace how the framing of text and image shaped the formation of knowledge that continued to be repeated and distilled in later European depictions of Africans She reads the engravings in De Marees account as a demonstration of the intertwining domains of the Dutch pictorial tradition intellectual inquiry and Dutch mercantilism At the same time by analyzing the marketing tactics of the publisher Cornelis Claesz this study illuminates how early modern epistemological processes were influenced by the commodification of knowledge Sutton examines the book's construction and marketing to shed new light on the social milieus that shared interests in ethnography trade and travel Exploring how the images and text function together Sutton suggests that Dutch visual and intellectual traditions informed readers' choices for translating De Marees text visually Through the examination of early modern Dutch print culture Early Modern Dutch Prints of Africa expands the boundaries of our understanding of the European imperial enterprise

Distant Lands and Diverse Cultures Glenn J. Ames, Ronald S. Love, 2003-07-30 Utilizing contemporary accounts of India China Siam and the Levant this study provides rich detail about these exotic lands and explores the priorities that shaped and motivated these bold envoys and chroniclers Ames and Love offer a fascinating look at the symbiotic nature of cross cultural interaction between France and the major trading regions of the Indian Ocean basin during the 17th century During this period of intense French interest in the rich trade and cultures of the region Louis XIV and his minister Jean Baptiste Colbert in particular were concerned with encouraging French travelers both clerical and lay to explore and document these lands Among the accounts included here are those of François Bernier Jean Baptiste Tavernier and François Pyrard Because these accounts reflect as much about the structures and priorities of France as they do about the cultures they describe Ames and Love hope their analysis bridges the gap between studies on early modern France and those on the major Asiatic countries of the same period Their findings challenge the current thinking in the study of early modern France by demonstrating that overseas expansion to Asia was of considerable importance and interest to all segments of French society Specialists in traditional internal French history will find much in this study of European expansion to complement and supplement their research

Settler Colonialism Lorenzo Veracini, 2024-09-30 Exploring the history and politics of a powerful and long lasting idea the creation and maintenance of European worlds outside of Europe This textbook provides a broad overview of settler colonialism in the modern era The author outlines how the founding of new societies was envisaged and practiced around the world illustrating the specific ways in which settler colonial projects tried to establish ideal and regenerated political bodies With an updated introduction and an additional chapter examining decolonisation and Indigenous recognition this second edition brings the study of settler colonialism up to the present day

The Great Encounter Jayme A. Sokolow, 2016-07-08 Traditional histories of North and South America often leave the impression that Native American peoples had little impact on the colonies and empires established by Europeans after 1492 This groundbreaking study which spans more than 300 years demonstrates the agency of indigenous peoples in forging their own history and that of the Western Hemisphere By putting the story of the indigenous peoples and their encounters with Europeans at the center a new history of the New World emerges in which the Native Americans become vibrant and vitally important components of the British French Spanish and Portuguese empires In fact their presence was the single most important factor in the development of the colonial world By discussing the great encounter of peoples and cultures this book provides a valuable new perspective on the history of the Americas
