Clinical Perspectives on the Supervision of Psychoanalysis and Psychotherapy Leopold Caligor, Phillip M. Bromberg, James D. Meltzer, 2013-11-11 In order to complete training successfully every psychoanalyst has to be a supervisee This experience leads each analyst to want to become a supervisor Until recently very little has been discussed about what supervision is how it is done and how it is related to the various theories of psychoanalysis that are held as articles of faith The 1980 1981 program of the William Alanson White Psychoanalytic Society was devoted to supervision with representatives of various schools demonstrating their ways of doing consultations with analysts about patients This book is an extension of that endeavor In it supervisors of various persuasions discuss this topic The editors Leopold Caligor Philip M Bromberg and James D Meltzer are to be congratulated for the high level of discourse represented by the various chapters They are to be commended as well about the eloquent statement this book makes namely there are many answers and approaches and no final answer to the questions raised by the volume The Complete Systemic Supervisor , 1997 A preparatory text for students preparing to write the Supervisory Philosophy Statement and Case Study required for the Approved Supervision application for the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy The 26 contributors outline contextual variables such as gender sexual orientation ethnicity and class to increase sensitivity and the contexts in which supervision occurs including academic settings agencies and private practices Additionally discussions of supervision philosophy and pragmatics help students develop their own game plan to meet supervision challenges and requirements Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Relational Psychoanalysis, Volume 2 Lewis Aron, Adrienne Harris, 2013-04-15 The relational turn has transformed the field of psychoanalysis with an impact that cuts across different schools of thought and clinical modalities In the six years following publication of Volume 1 Relational Psychoanalysis The Emergence of a Tradition relational theorizing has continued to develop expand and challenge the parameters of clinical discourse It has been a period of loss with the passing of Stephen A Mitchell and Emmanuel Ghent but also a period of great promise marked by the burgeoning publication of relational books and journals and the launching of relational training institutes and professional associations Volume 2 Relational Psychoanalysis Innovation and Expansion brings together key papers of the recent past that exemplify the continuing growth and refinement of the relational sensibility In selecting these papers Editors Lewis Aron and Adrienne Harris have stressed the shared relational dimension of different psychoanalytic traditions and they have used such commonalities to structure the best recent contributions to the literature The topics covered in Volume 2 reflect both the evolution of psychoanalysis and the unique pathways that leading relational writers have been pursuing and in some cases establishing The Supervisory Relationship Mary Gail Frawley-O'Dea, Joan E. Sarnat, 2001-01-01 The first volume to elaborate a comprehensive contemporary model of supervision Using a wealth of example and vignettes the authors show how working within the parameters of the supervisory relationship can allow the supervisee to gain a deeper understanding of the treatment method being taught An ideal source for psychologists psychiatrists social workers and psychoanalysts

On Supervision Ann Petts, Bernard Shapley, 2018-05-08 This book comprises papers on the theory and practice of supervision all written by experienced psychoanalytic psychotherapists and Jungian analytic psychotherapists Important aspects of the supervisory relationship are covered including papers on the supervisor's countertransference supervising work with suicidal patients and the dynamics of racial difference in supervision and group supervision and dynamics related to the supervisor's role in the assessment of trainees The contributions in this book mainly began life as presentations to the BAP course on Developing Supervision Skills a space in which new thinking about supervision has been able to be developed by contributors and participants alike The book also covers fundamentals to consider when beginning in supervisory practice including ways of creating a secure frame for thinking to take place and some of the ethical attitudes needed within the supervisory relationship Supervisory technique is considered in broad overview and in some very personal views from two highly experienced supervisors and a supervisee who has keenly observed some different supervisory styles New Theories for Social Work Practice Kieran O'Donoghue, Robyn Munford, 2019-07-18 Social work theory and practice is evolving and this edited collection explains both what the latest developments are and how to use them in practice Exploring the challenges currently being faced within social work it shows new ways social workers can conceptualise and respond to these issues It covers emerging theory relating to work with families children and young people refugees older people indigenous practice and more while explaining different models that can be used It explores interventions in different contexts including community development mental health settings partnerships with disabled people work with Pacific communities cross cultural practice and the elements of evidence informed and ethical practice Training and Training Standards Douglas Hooper, Philippa Weitz, 2018-12-07 The surge of interest in psychological therapies in GP settings makes this book timely and important for the development of this field in the 21st century As well as the suggested syllabus for training counsellors and psychotherapists agreed by the Counselling and Psychotherapy Forum for Primary Care the book deals with much wider issues Chapters deal with practitioner issues both student and professional management issues and the provision of supervision and mentoring for the new counsellor as well as planning Continuous Professional Development Chapters dealing with the history of the remarkable rise in these services help set the context of the rapid development of primary care counselling The term primary care counselling denotes the context of primary care within which psychological therapies take place and encompasses practitioners from a wide variety of therapeutic traditions The emphasis throughout is on thorough going preparation of the new counsellor therapist to meet the proper counselling standards required in primary care practice It will be of value to students course providers counselling practice managers supervisors as well as those who commission services and general practice doctors Contemporary Jungian Clinical Practice Elphis Christopher, Hester McFarland Solomon, 2020-05-29 This book on clinical practice gives information on actual clinical work bearing witness to a way of working and being trained to work that is ethically healing of the psyches of suffering people and presenting the patients material unencumbered by excessive theorizing or technical language Social Work Diagnosis in Contemporary Practice Francis J. Turner, 2005-02-10 The unifying theme of this broad reaching volume is that responsible ethical and effective social work practice rests on the diagnostic skills of the practitioner Social work diagnosis refers to the conscious formulation of an ongoing set of decisions about the client and his or her situation which serve as the basis for intervention decisions for which the practitioner must be prepared to take responsibility Diagnostic skill development is an ongoing process principally enhanced by a continuous commitment to remain at the cutting edge of the profession s body of knowledge but one of the challenges for today s practitioner is keeping abreast of the rapidly expanding body of knowledge contained in some 200 important social work periodicals in circulation Francis J Turner a preeminent clinical scholar brings together in one volume some of the best work published since 2000 each reflecting new insights into understanding psychosocial situations and innovative methods of applying knowledge and skills in an increasingly effective manner Each of the 78 articles in this volume highlights some of the critical dimensions of contemporary social work practice guiding clinicians to address four key aspects in order to craft an accurate diagnosis The first section presents articles covering the developmental spectrum each of which fully explains various ages and stages of development The second section focuses on a range of specific situations helping practitioners and students enrich their understanding of different types of problems they meet in contemporary practice whether they are based in mental illness psychosocial issues or physical ailments The third section addresses the crucial component of diversity demonstrating the complexity and critical importance of truly understanding clients and their lives The last section of the book discusses innovative approaches to practice selected to offer practitioners easy access to the latest interventions for a host of contemporary challenges facing clients and their therapists Broad in scope and tightly focused on the goal of providing the most up to date information necessary for accuracy in the diagnostic process this volume represents some of the best research available to today s social workers Making Sense Together Peter Buirski,Pamela Haglund,Emily Markley,2020-09-15 The second edition of Making Sense Together provides a greater examination of the clinical practice of the intersubjective perspective Listening and responding intersubjectively is concerned with attuning to affect putting words to affective experience and maintaining a caring relationship that offers the kind of needed self objective experience missing in development In addition the intersubjective perspective co constructs a developmental narrative that contextualizes the evolution of the person s troubles In this new and updated edition authors Peter Buirski Pamela Haglund and Emily Markley draw on more than twenty years of combined experience teaching and supervising in the practice of the intersubjective perspective The Supervisory Relationship Mary Gail Frawley-O'Dea,Joan E. Sarnat,2012-02-21 In the past two decades many psychodynamic therapists have begun to view the relational processes taking place between patient and therapist as a central source of transformation Yet traditional paradigms of clinical supervision focusing primarily on didactic teaching have limitations for training therapists to work in these new ways This groundbreaking volume is the first to elaborate a comprehensive contemporary model of supervision Using a wealth of examples and vignettes the authors show how working within the vicissitudes of the supervisory relationship can allow the supervisee to gain a deeper understanding of the treatment method being taught Key topics discussed include issues of power and authority regression in the supervisory relationship rethinking the teach treat question parallel process as a relational phenomenon working with group process in case conference and the role of the organization in supporting training This is a richly informative resource for psychologists psychiatrists social workers psychoanalysts and others involved in clinical supervision and training It also will serve as a text for courses in supervision and organizational psychology American Journal of Psychotherapy ,1947 Sport Psychology in Practice Mark B.
