Introduction to Psychological Care in Nursing and the Health Professions Helena Priest,2013-03-01 Caring is at the core of what nurses and other health professionals do But caring encompasses more than simply looking after people s physical health needs People requiring any health service will have psychological needs that affect their feelings thoughts and behaviour Good psychological care can even help improve physical health outcomes An Introduction to Psychological Care in Nursing and the Health Professions explains and promotes the importance of psychological care for people when they become physically ill giving a sound theoretical basis to ensure care is evidence based It encourages the reader to think about the effects of illness and disability on patients and to understand what can be done to identify and minimise any difficulties they might be experiencing in these areas The chapters cover the meaning and elements of care and holistic care a model of psychological care in practice the personal qualities and skills of carers that best underpin psychological care delivery and how these might be enhanced the knowledge needed for effective psychological caregiving psychological care as it might be practised in a range of health care settings This text contains key learning points practical activities reflective exercises and case illustrations It is ideal for student and practising nurses and health professionals who would like to improve their care for patients in this essential area EBOOK: Research Into Practice 2/E Pamela Abbott,Roger Sapsford,1997-03-16 Praise for the first edition of Research Into Practice and Research Methods for Nurses and the Caring Professions These books provide a good introduction for the uninitiated to reading and doing research Abbott and Sapsford provide a clearly written and accessible introduction to social research One of their aims is to de mystify research and in this they succeed admirably After reading the text and the articles in the reader and working through the various research exercises readers should have a clear appreciation of how to evaluate other people s research and how to begin their own David Field Journal of Palliative Medicine This is a thoroughly revised and up dated edition of the bestselling reader for nurses and the caring professions It offers carefully selected examples of research all concerned in some way with nursing or the study of health and community care It illustrates the kind of research that can be done by a small team or a single researcher without large scale research grants The editors have chosen papers which show a great diversity of approaches differing in emphasis on description or explanation different degrees of structure in design and different appeals to the authority of science or the authenticity of emphatic exploration They show the limitations typical of small scale projects carried out with limited resources and the experience of applied research as it occurs in practice as opposed to how it tends to look when discussed in textbooks The chapters have been organized into three sections representing three distinct types of social science research observing and participating talking to people and asking questions and controlled trials and comparisons Each section is provided with an editorial introduction Features Thoroughly revised and up dated edition of bestselling text New articles in line with latest trends in nursing and other practitioner research with more stress on evidence based practice action research and self evaluation New user friendly format Very well known authors in the field

Care in Nursing Wilfred McSherry, Robert MSherry, Roger Watson, 2012-02-09 Care in Nursing addresses the fundamental caring principles values and skills nurses require to provide sound care to their patients and to meet the challenges of nursing in the future Exploring essential knowledge and competencies the authors explore research evidence and real life practice before outlining practical skills which will empower nurses to deliver quality care Written by nurses and health professionals from both practice and academia Care in Nursing explores how care underpins every element of nursing including patient centred care cultural diversity sociology psychology communication partnership working law and ethics management and leadership and more A specific chapter also addresses how nurses can develop self care techniques to meet the pressures and demands of a challenging yet ultimately rewarding career Relevant to nurses in all fields and a diverse range of clinical and non clinical settings this is essential reading for nursing students qualified nurses mentors nursing academics as well as nurse managers and leaders

Epidemiology Moon, Graham, Gould, Myles, 2000-08-01 This text offers a comprehensive insight into the methods and principles of epidemiological study alongside an analysis of the broad context in which epidemiological work is undertaken

EBOOK: Epidemiology Graham Moon, Myles Gould, 2000-08-16 This accessible and clearly structured book offers a comprehensive insight into the methods and principles of epidemiological study alongside an analysis of the broad context in which epidemiological work is undertaken Chapters on sources of epidemiological data on epidemiological study designs and on basic statistical measures for epidemiological studies are used to introduce the reader to the traditional underpinnings of epidemiological work Attention then shifts to a wider canvas Consideration is given to the critical reading of epidemiological research both as a way of demonstrating how different aspects of epidemiological study come together in published work and as the basis for a discussion of the centrality of epidemiological research in the development of evidence based health care The key facets of evidence based health care are assessed A more discursive and critical assessment of epidemiology is also presented in which attention is drawn to the need to develop alternative epidemiologies which draw on lay knowledge and recognise the socio political context of factors influencing health status The book concludes with a description of the everyday practice of epidemiology in a UK health authority context
