Transmission of Light Keizan, 2002-07-16 A translation of the classic Denkoroku by one of the premier translators of Buddhist and Taoist texts illustrates how to arrive at the epiphanic Zen awakening known as satori The essential initiatory experience of Zen satori is believed to open up the direct perception of things as they are Even if you sit until your seat breaks through even if you persevere mindless of fatigue even if you are a person of lofty deeds and pure behavior if you haven't reached this realm of satori you still can't get out of the prison of the world Deliberately cultivated and employed to awaken the dormant potency of the mind satori is said to be accessible to all people transcending time history culture race gender and personality Attributed to the thirteenth century Zen Master Keizan 1268-1325

Transmission of Light along with The Blue Cliff Record and The Gateless Barrier is one of three essential koan texts used by Zen students Techniques for reaching the enlightening experience of satori are revealed through fifty-three short tales about the awakenings of successive generations of masters beginning with the twelfth century Zen master Ejō dharma heir to Dogen The translator's introduction establishes the context for Transmission of Light within the Zen canon and elucidates central themes of the work including the essential idea that genuine satori is not the end of Zen it is more properly the true beginning
