Recovering A Public Vision For Public Television:

Recovering a Public Vision for Public Television Glenda R. Balas, 2003 In 1995 US public television faced possible elimination of federal funding potentially commercialising this type of broadcasting This study suggests that these strains have undermined public broadcasting historically the result is that programming no longer prioritises social reform

Internet Governance in Transition Daniel J. Paré, 2003 All Internet users will find this book a useful tool for understanding the increasingly complex web of Internet control

Principles of Publicity and Press Freedom Slavko Splichal, 2002 This insightful book examines how the original concept of publicity has been reduced to mean the right of media to access and print information Visit our website for sample chapters

Gendered Media Karen Ross, 2013-02-20

Gendered Media addresses the broad topic of gender and media where gender is not simply a shorthand for woman but also embraces masculinity, queer, lesbian and gay identities Karen Ross provides the necessary historical context against which to read recent sex and gender based media phenomena such as Big Brother Terminator girls use of mobile phones women news editors the Wonderbra generation the Hillary Clinton and Sarah Palin phenomena and so on The book is an overview of the various aspects of gender and media in one volume The book provides introductory overviews to the various themes around women, men, sexuality and the ways in which these attributes are cross cut by other demographics such as age, ethnicity and disability In this way the book genuinely tries to provide a broad introduction to the ways in which gender in all its facets engages with media in one accessible volume

Digital Disability Gerard Goggin, Christopher Newell, 2003 Media representation of and for the disabled has been recharged in recent years with the expansion of new media worldwide Interactive digital communications such as the Internet, new varieties of voice and text telephones and digital broadcasting have created a need for a more innovative understanding of new media and disability issues This engaging analysis offers a global perspective on how people with disabilities are represented as users, consumers, viewers or listeners of new media by policymakers, corporations, programmers and the disabled themselves

Turning the Page David R. Coon, 2018-07-11 First runner up for the 2019 John Leo and Dana Heller Award from the Popular Culture Association Surprisingly Hollywood is still clumsily grappling with its representation of sexual minorities and LGBTQ filmmakers struggle to find a place in the mainstream movie industry However organizations outside the mainstream are making a difference helping to produce and distribute authentic stories that are both by and for LGBTQ people Turning the Page introduces readers to three nonprofit organizations that in very different ways have each positively transformed the queer media landscape David R Coon takes readers inside In the Life Media whose groundbreaking documentaries on the LGBTQ experience aired for over twenty years on public television stations nationwide Coon reveals the successes of POWER UP a nonprofit production company dedicated to mentoring filmmakers who can turn queer stories into fully realized features and short films Finally he turns to Three Dollar Bill Cinema an organization whose film festivals help queer media find an audience and whose filmmaking camps for LGBTQ youth are nurturing the next generation of queer cinema Combining a close analysis of specific films and video programs with extensive interviews of industry professionals Turning the Page demonstrates how queer storytelling in visual media has the potential to empower individuals strengthen communities and motivate social justice activism Many Voices, One World International Commission for the Study of Communication Problems,2004 Originally published in 1980 and now back in print Many Voices One World came out of hundreds of international studies and proposed reforms for global communication media to ensure a free flow of information Prepared by the distinguished MacBride Commission and frequently referred to as the MacBride Report it criticized corporate control of media flows and suggested ways to make media production accessible in poorer countries Beginning with the right of individuals and nations to communicate this report tackled problems related to government controls censorship one way flows of information cultural dominance and commercialization of the mass media It called for more voices more freedom of expression and the protection of journalists rights Still widely taught and cited the MacBride Report is a key work in the history of communication that continues to be relevant today Toward a Political Economy of Culture Andrew Calabrese,Colin Sparks,2003-11-22 Several of the most important and influential political economists of communication working today explore a rich mix of topics and issues that link work policy studies and research and theory about the public sphere to the heritage of political economy Familiar but still exceedingly important topics in critical political economy studies are well represented here market structures and media concentration regulation and policy technological impacts on particular media sectors information poverty and media access The book also features new topics for political economy study including racism in audience research the value and need for feminist approaches to political economy studies and the relationship between the discourse of media finance and the behavior of markets Changing Concepts of Time Harold A.
