Recovery Of Mission Beyond The Pluralist Paradigm:

The Recovery of Mission Vinoth Ramachandra, 2002-10-03 In recent years the term religious pluralism has come to be used not only in a descriptive sociological sense but also as theologically prescriptive Within this new paradigm traditional Christian understandings of Christ conversion evangelism and mission have been radically reinterpreted The Recovery of Mission explores the pluralist paradigm through the work of three of its most influential Asian exponents Stanley Samartha Aloysius Pieris and Raimundo Panikkar subjecting each to a theological and philosophical critique On the basis of biblical patristic and contemporary theological writings Vinoth Ramachandra argues for the uniqueness and decisiveness of what God has done for us in Jesus Christ Ramachandra seeks to show that many of the valid concerns of pluralist theologians can best be met by reappropriating the missionary thrust at the heart of the gospel The book ends with suggestions challenging to pluralists and conservatives alike as to how the gospel needs to be communicated in a multifaith world The Recovery of Mission

Chin, 2017-03-23 This book evaluates the common criticism that Christianity in Asia is westernized Since the 1980s Asian evangelical theologians and missiologists argue that the intrusion of Western theology is responsible for the Western and hence alien expressions of Christianity in Asia Yet in Singapore the number of Christians has increased over the last few decades Empirical evidence demonstrates that younger Chinese Singaporeans convert from Buddhism or Taoism to Christianity partly because they perceive it as a rational religion over Buddhism or Taoism which are viewed as irrational or superstitious Not only do many converts favor Christianity as a rational religion but they do not regard Christianity as a Western religion at the point of their conversion What accounts for those recent developments This study explores the processes of modernization and globalization as important factors impacting religious change in Singapore Personal contextual and structural elements actually influence one s religion of choice In facilitating effective mission one must qualify the use of the categories Asian and Western because religious and cultural boundaries overlap What matters most in missiology is discerning how the gospel of Jesus Christ engages the self understanding and lived realities of ethnic and religious others in diverse cultural settings
