Haunted Media Jeffrey Sconce, 2000 Examines the repeated association of new electronic media with spiritual phenomena from the telegraph in the late 19th century to television Federman's Fictions Jeffrey R. Di Leo, 2012-01-02 This collection of essays offers an authoritative examination and appraisal of the French American novelist Raymond Federman's many contributions to humanities scholarship including Holocaust studies Beckett studies translation studies experimental fiction postmodernism and autobiography Although known primarily as a novelist Federman 1928-2009 is also the author of numerous books of poetry essays translations and criticism After emigrating to the United States in 1942 and receiving a Ph.D. in comparative literature at UCLA in 1957 he held professorships in the University at Buffalo's departments of French and English from 1964 to 1999 Together with Steve Katz and Ronald Sukenick he was one of the original founders of the Fiction Collective a nonprofit publishing house dedicated to avant garde experimental prose Far too many accounts treat Federman as merely a member of a small group of writers who pioneered metafictional or postmodern American literature Federman's Fiction will introduce or for some reintroduce to the broader scholarly community a creative and daring thinker whose work is significant not just to considerations of the development of innovative fiction but to a number of other distinct disciplines and emerging critical discourses Balzac's Shorter Fictions Tim Farrant, 2002-02-14 Balzac's reputation is as a novelist But short stories make up over half La Comédie humaine besides scores of other tales and articles Short forms appear early in Balzac's output and shape his work throughout his career Balzac's Shorter Fictions looks at the whole of this corpus at the nature of short fiction and at how Balzac's novels developed from his stories at the links between literary genesis and genre It explores the roles of short fiction in Balzac's creation its part in producing effects of virtuality and perspective and reflects ultimately on the relationship between brevity and length in La Comédie humaine This the first complete English language study of Balzac's work for over forty years synthesizes recent research on Balzac's practice within the context of modern thought on the author It is an indispensable book for students and scholars of Balzac and for all those interested in prose fiction Fin-de-Siècle Fictions, 1890s-1990s A. Mousoutzanis, 2014-05-27 Fin de Siècle Fictions 1890s-1990s focuses on fin de siècle British and postmodern American fictions of apocalypse and investigates the ways in which these narratives demonstrate shifts in the relations among modern discourses of power and knowledge The Spectralities Reader Maria del Pilar Blanco, Esther Peeren, 2013-08-29 Ghosts spirits and specters have played important roles in narratives throughout history and across nations and cultures A watershed moment for this area of study was the publication of Derrida's Specters of Marx in 1993 marking the inauguration of a spectral turn in cultural criticism Gathering together the most compelling texts of the past twenty years the editors transform the field of spectral studies with this first ever reader employing the ghost as an analytical and methodological tool The Spectralities Reader takes ghosts and haunting on their own terms as wide ranging phenomena that are not conscripted to a single aesthetic genre or style Divided into six thematically discreet sections the reader covers issues of philosophy politics media spatiality subject formation gender race and sexuality and historiography It anthologizes the previously published work of theoretical heavyweights from different disciplinary and cultural backgrounds such as Jacques Derrida Gayatri Spivak and Giorgio Agamben alongside work by literary and cultural historians such as Jeffrey Sconce and Roger Luckhurst Time in Fiction Craig Bourne, Emily Caddick Bourne, 2016 What can we learn about the world from engaging with fictional time series stories involving time travellers recurring and rewinding time and foreknowledge of the future Craig Bourne and Emily Caddick Bourne show how we can use the complexities of fictional time to get to the core of the relation between truth in fiction and possibility The Fictions of Dreams Otto M. Rheinschmiedt, 2018-03-29 This book examines some of the oldest preserved texts on dreams such as Artemidorus Oneirocritica Sigmund Freud's favourite ancient dream theorist and dream books by Aristotle the grandfather of modern dream theory All Stories Are True Tracie Church Guzzio, 2011-05-17 In All Stories Are True Tracie Church Guzzio provides the first full length study of John Edgar Wideman's entire oeuvre to date Specifically Guzzio examines the ways in which Wideman b 1941 engages with three crucial themes history myth and trauma throughout his career showing how they intertwine Guzzio argues that for four decades the influential African American writer has endeavored to create a version of the African American experience that runs counter to mainstream interpretations using history and myth to confront and then heal the trauma caused by slavery and racism Wideman's work intentionally blurs boundaries between fiction and autobiography myth and history particularly as that history relates to African American experience in his hometown of Pittsburgh Pennsylvania The fusion of fiction national history and Wideman's personal life is characteristic of his style which due to its complexity and smudging of genre distinctions has presented analytic difficulties for literary scholars Despite winning the PEN Faulkner award twice for Sent for You Yesterday 1984 and Philadelphia Fire 1990 Wideman remains understudied Of particular value is Guzzio's analysis of the many ways in which Wideman alludes to his previous works This intertextuality allows Wideman to engage his books in direct intentional dialogue with each other through repeated characters images folktales and songs In Wideman's challenging of a monolithic view of history and presenting alternative perspectives to it and his allowing past present and future time to remain fluid in the narratives Guzzio finds an author firm in his notion that all stories and all perspectives have merit The Twentieth-Century American Fiction Handbook Christopher MacGowan, 2010-12-21 THE TWENTIETH CENTURY AMERICAN FICTION Accessibly structured with entries on important historical contexts central issues key texts and the major writers this Handbook provides an engaging overview of twentieth century American fiction Featured writers range from Henry James and Theodore Dreiser to contemporary figures such as Joyce Carol Oates Thomas Pynchon and Sherman Alexie and analyses of key works include The Great Gatsby Lolita The Color Purple and The Joy Luck Club among others Relevant contexts for these works such as the impact of Hollywood the expatriate scene in the 1920s and the political unrest of the 1960s are also explored and their importance discussed This is a
