Life Imprisonment and Human Rights Dirk van Zyl Smit, Catherine Appleton,2016-12-01 In many jurisdictions today life imprisonment is the most severe penalty that can be imposed Despite this it is a relatively under researched form of punishment and no meaningful attempt has been made to understand its full human rights implications. This important collection fills that gap by addressing these two key questions: what is life imprisonment and what human rights are relevant to it. These questions are explored from the perspective of a range of jurisdictions in essays that draw on both empirical and doctrinal research. Under the editorship of two leading scholars in the field, this innovative and important work will be a landmark publication in the field of penal studies and human rights. Problems of Long-term

Imprisonment A. E. Bottoms, Roy Light, 1987. Papers from the Eighteenth Cropwood Round Table Conference held at Madingley Hall, Cambridge, March 19-21, 1986, organized by the Institute of Criminology, University of Cambridge. Life

Imprisonment Dirk Van Zyl Smit, Catherine Appleton, 2019-01-14. Life imprisonment has replaced the death penalty as the most common sentence imposed for heinous crimes worldwide. Consequently, it has become the leading issue of international criminal justice reform. In the first survey of its kind, Dirk van Zyl Smit and Catherine Appleton argue for a human rights based reappraisal of this harsh punishment. Federal Prisons Journal, 1991. Life Imprisonment from Young

Adulthood Ben Crewe, Susie Hulley, Serena Wright, 2019-12-20. This book analyses the experiences of prisoners in England and Wales sentenced when relatively young to very long life sentences with minimum terms of fifteen years or more. Based on a major study including almost 150 interviews with men and women at various sentence stages and over 300 surveys, it explores the ways in which long term prisoners respond to their convictions, adapt to the various challenges that they encounter, and re-construct their lives within and beyond the prison. Focussing on such matters as personal identity, relationships with family and friends, and the management of time, the book argues that long term imprisonment entails a profound confrontation with the self. It provides detailed insight into how such prisoners deal with the everyday burdens of their situation, feelings of injustice, anger, and shame, and the need to find some sense of hope, control, and meaning in their lives. In doing so, it exposes the nature and consequences of the life-changing terms of imprisonment that have become increasingly common in recent years. 12th Conference of Directors of Prison Administration (CDAP), European Committee on Crime Problems, Council of Europe, 1999-01-01. By Mr Peter BEST. Prisons, Punishment, and the Family Rachel Condry, Peter Scharff Smith, 2018. Every year millions of families are affected by the imprisonment of a family member. Children of imprisoned parents alone can be counted in millions in the USA and in Europe. It is a bewildering fact that while we have had prisons for centuries and the deprivation of liberty has been a central pillar in the Western mode of punishment since the early nineteenth century, we have only relatively recently embarked upon a serious discussion of the severe effects of imprisonment for the families and relatives of offenders and the implications this has for society. This book draws together some of the excellent research that addresses the impact of criminal justice and incarceration in particular upon the families of offenders. It assembles examples of recent and ongoing studies from eight different countries in order to not only learn about the secondary effects and collateral consequences of imprisonment but also to understand what the experiences and lived realities of prisoners families means for the sociology of punishment and our broader understanding of criminal justice systems While punishment and society scholarship has gained significant ground in recent years it has often remained silent on the ways in which the families of prisoners are affected by our practices of punishment This book provides evidence of the importance of including families within this scholarship and explores themes of legitimacy citizenship human rights marginalization exclusion and inequality principle of proportional justice aggravated life imprisonment can be chosen to replace the death penalty in China In addition there needs to be improvements made to the relevant criminal systems By examining China's death penalty reform and long term imprisonment reform this book not only explains the methodology of the reform theoretically but also pays attention to the issues of legislation and judicial practice This book is of interest to scholars and researchers in the fields of criminal justice penal reform issues and crime control in China
