

A dramatic sunset or sunrise over a body of water. The sky is filled with dark, heavy clouds, with a bright orange and yellow glow from the sun breaking through near the horizon. The water in the foreground is dark and reflects the light from the sky.

Feeling good and feeling bad are not necessarily opposites. Both at least involve feelings. Any feeling is a reminder of life. The worst 'feeling' evidently is non-feeling.

Narratives of Mexican American Women Alma M. García, 2003-11-05 Alma García offers a bold new interpretation of identity formation for second generation immigrants in America The narratives of Mexican American women in higher education reveal their journeys of self discovery a process filled with tensions contradictions and ambiguities García captures the spirit of their struggles to understand their sense of self culture and society Her qualitative analyses reveal the emergent processes by which these women negotiate ethnic gender and class identities with their Mexican immigrant parents and with their university communities García integrates a wide range of theoretical frameworks to study educational life experiences Her findings offer significant insight into the processes of cultural continuity and change and the potential for upward mobility for immigrants García proposes new university policies and curriculum changes to improve the situation for second generation students She calls for the reform of higher education in the United States to open its doors more widely to Mexican American students and other underrepresented groups to make the educational system truly reflective of the ethnic diversity that has always formed the core of American society García's new book is a valuable contribution to Mexican American studies ethnic studies women s studies comparative education and sociology
