NATIONAL BESTSELLER Certain lives are at once so exceptional and yet so in step with their historical moments that they illuminate cultural forces far beyond the scope of a single person Such is the case with Coco Chanel whose life offers one of the most fascinating tales of the twentieth century throwing into dramatic relief an era of war fashion ardent nationalism and earth shaking change here brilliantly treated for the first time with wide ranging and incisive historical scrutiny Coco Chanel transformed forever the way women dressed Her influence remains so pervasive that to this day we can see her afterimage a dozen times while just walking down a single street in all the little black dresses flat shoes costume jewelry cardigan sweaters and tortoiseshell eyeglasses on women of every age and background A bottle of Chanel No 5 perfume is sold every three seconds Arguably no other individual has had a deeper impact on the visual aesthetic of the world But how did a poor orphan become a global icon of both luxury and everyday style How did she develop such vast undying influence And what does our ongoing love of all things Chanel tell us about ourselves These are the mysteries that Rhonda K Garelick unravels in Mademoiselle Raised in rural poverty and orphaned early the young Chanel supported herself as best she could Then as an uneducated nineteen year old caf singer she attracted the attention of a wealthy and powerful admirer and parlayed his support into her own hat design business For the rest of Chanel s life the professional personal and political were interwoven her lovers included diplomat Boy Capel composer Igor Stravinsky Romanov heir Grand Duke Dmitri Hugh Grosvenor the Duke of Westminster poet Pierre Reverdy a Nazi officer and several women as well For all that she was profoundly alone her romantic life relentlessly plagued by abandonment and tragedy Chanel s ambitions and accomplishments were unparalleled Her hat shop evolved into a clothing empire She became a noted theatrical and film costume designer collaborating with the likes of Pablo Picasso Jean Cocteau and Luchino Visconti The genius of Coco Chanel Garelick shows lay in the way she absorbed the zeitgeist reflecting it back to the world in her designs and in what Garelick calls wearable personality the irresistible and contagious style infused with both world history and Chanel s nearly unbelievable life saga By age forty Chanel had become a multimillionaire and a household name and her Chanel Corporation is still the highest earning privately owned luxury goods manufacturer in the world In Mademoiselle Garelick delivers the most probing well researched and insightful biography to date on this seemingly familiar but endlessly surprising figure a work that is truly both a heady intellectual study and a literary page turner Praise for Mademoiselle A detailed wry and nuanced portrait of a complicated woman that leaves the reader in a state of utterly satisfying confusion blissfully mesmerized and confounded by the reality of the human spirit The Washington Post Writing an exhaustive biography of Chanel is a challenge comparable to racing a four horse chariot This makes the assured confidence with which Garelick tells her story all the more remarkable The New York Review of Books Broadly focused and beautifully written The Wall Street Journal

French Crime Fiction, 1945-2005 Margaret-Anne Hutton,2016-04-22 In the first major study of representations of World War II in French crime fiction Margaret Anne Hutton draws on a corpus of over a hundred and fifty texts spanning more than sixty years Included are well known writers male and female such as Aubert Simenon Boileau Narcejak Vargas Daeninckx and Jonquet as well as a broad range of lesser known authors Hutton's introduction situates her study within the larger framework of literary representations of World War II setting the stage for her discussions of genre the problem of defining crimes and criminals in the context of the war the epistemological issues that arise in the relationship between World War II historiography and the crime novel and the temporal textures linking past crimes to the present Filling a gap in the fields of crime fiction and fictional representations of the War Hutton's book calls into question the way both crime fiction and the French theatre of World War II have been conceptualized and codified

One for the Books Joe Queenan,2013-10-29 An absolute must read for anyone who loves books In Closing Time Joe Queenan shared how he became a voracious reader to escape a joyless childhood Now like many bibliophiles he fears for the books that once saved him In One for the Books Queenan examines the entire culture of reading and what books really mean in people's lives today What does it suggest if a person has no books displayed in his living room Can an obsession with reading prove detrimental to one's well being How useful are covers in selling books Queenan's many fans as well as anyone who loves books and reading will want to join him on his unforgettably funny and moving journey The Pleasures of Crime David Platten,2011-12 For 150 years the French public and literati have enjoyed a love affair with crime fiction This book investigates the nature of this relationship and how through periods of dramatic social and political change in France it has flourished It challenges the conventional view of a popular genre feeding a niche market depicting crime fiction instead as a field of creative endeavour which has gradually matured into one of considerable literary fertility By inviting us to share secrets and crack codes creating suspense and at times not shirking from presenting horrific events in graphic language the crime story brings into play the intellect and emotions of its readership This book explores both this intrinsic literary value of the crime novel and its extrinsic witness to historical events and cultural trends arguing that these apparently distinct aspects are in fact dynamic interrelated parts of the same whole This blend of cultural history with literary analysis allows for the discussion of themes such as politics memory the urban environment and youth cultures mixed with case studies of major French crime writers including Gaston Leroux Georges Simenon Jean Patrick Manchette Daniel Pennac and Fred Vargas
