Mondo James Dean:

Mondo James Dean Lucinda Ebersole, Richard Peabody, 1996-01-15 Twenty three stories and poems featuring as their hero the movie actor James Dean a 1950s cult figure In one of them Michael Hemmingson's Jimmy Dean is portrayed in hell A sequel to Mondo Elvis James Dean Transfigured Claudia Springer, 2013-05-17 After the death of James Dean in 1955 the figure of the teen rebel permeated the globe and its presence is still felt in the twenty first century Rebel iconography which does not have to resemble James Dean himself but merely incorporates his disaffected attitude has become an advertising mainstay used to sell an array of merchandise and messages Despite being overused in advertisements it still has the power to surprise when used by authors and filmmakers in innovative and provocative ways The rebel figure has mass appeal precisely because of its ambiguities it can mean anything to anyone The global appropriation of rebel iconography has invested it with fresh meanings Author Claudia Springer succeeds here in analyzing both ends of the spectrum the rebel icon as a tool in upholding capitalism's cycle of consumption and as a challenge to that cycle and its accompanying beliefs In this groundbreaking study of rebel iconography in international popular culture Springer studies a variety of texts from the United States and abroad that use this imagery in contrasting and thought provoking ways Using a cultural studies approach she analyzes films fiction poems Web sites and advertisements to determine the extent to which the icon's adaptations have been effective as a response to the actual social problems affecting contemporary adolescents around the world The Richard Peabody Reader Richard Peabody, Michael Dirda, 2015-04-01 Filling an important gap in the literary world The Richard Peabody Reader is a wide ranging selection of this great writer's poetry and prose As a publisher Peabody's steadfast dedication to that which is new challenging innovative and dynamic has won him a wide reputation among writers whose work he has championed This volume demonstrates those same values embodied in nearly four decades of fiercely smart sophisticated and often very funny writing From his first collection of poems I'm in Love with the Morton Salt Girl to his most recent collection of short stories Blue Suburban Skies Peabody has established and developed a thoroughly unique voice both warm and piercing to deliver content that ranges from the hilarious as in the short story Flea Wars to the bittersweet as in the poem The Other Man is Always French to the elegiac as in the poem in Civil War Pieta to the absurd as in the rollicking farce of the short story Bad Day at Ikea Peabody's aesthetic is all embracing strands of punk beat experimental feminist and political protest literary influences blend with the purely romantic to create a body of work that is both profound and pleasing The Celibacy Club Janice Eidus, 1997-02 A collection of 19 stories The title story is about the reaction of a young woman to a group that has given up sex in Jimmy Dean My Kind of Guy a woman has an affair with the famous actor who did not die and Pandora's Box is on a woman offering sex on the phone In the Criminal's Cabinet Val Stevenson, Todd Swift, 2004 The Dirty Realism Duo Michael Hemmingson, 2008-01-01 CHARLES BUKOWSKI RAYMOND CARVER Charles Bukowski and Raymond Carver were credited as the fathers of the Dirty Realism genre in the 1980s branching out from minimalism the stripping of fiction down to the least amount of words and a concentration on the subject's view of the object The characters are usually run of the mill every day people the lower and middle class worker the unemployed the alcoholic the beaten down by life In this experimental monograph in the vein of D H Lawrence's Studies in Contemporary American Fiction avant pop literary critic Michael Hemmingson examines these dirty works of Bukowski and Carver through the lens of late twentieth century American culture and the sociological observation of the self questioning the authority of the I in fiction and poetry and its relation to the eye's gaze of the words on a page Hemmingson offers close readings of selected texts deconstructing iconic works by Bukowski and Carver to point out the elements of dirty realism and mastery of the language of the common folk proving that these two writers are an institution in American literature

MICHAEL HEMMINGSON has written over 25 books of literary western SF horror noir autobiography erotica narrative journalism gonzo journalism cultural anthropology critical theory critfiction and ethnography He lives and works in Southern California

The Drift of Things Terence Winch, 2001 Poetry In this technically impressive collection the poems offer a witty intrepid unsentimental response to pleasures of the flesh as well as to pain and soreness of spirit extracting their subjects from the drift of things A clear eyed and authentic chronicler of his Irish American tribe Winch has a beautifully tuned ear whether working in formal mode or in supple lines of free verse In all their zany plainspoken ways these poems sing Eamon Grennan I wish I lived in the world Terence Winch inhabits Something invisible and mythical ennobles every object he encounters His poems are full of a carefree confidence that comes from being so good at what you do that you don't think twice about mixing elegies villanelles jokes traditional rhymes and a story about a one eyed guy named Max Matthew Rohrer

The Wine of Astonishment Mary Overton, 1997 THE WINE OF ASTONISHMENT brings us a selection of thirteen stories containing a carnival house of characters impetuous brides immigrants struggling in a new land suburban witches rough and tumble low life a father drunk on Tolstoy A charming and magical book Cuttingly real
