Lutes and Marginality in Pre-Modern China Ingrid Maren Furniss, 2024-07-23 Lutes and Marginality in Pre Modern China traces the complex history of lutes as they moved from the far west into China and how these instruments became linked to various forms of social cultural ethnic and religious marginality within and at China's borders The book argues that the lute a musical instrument that likely originated in the Near East or Central Asia became a highly charged object replete with associations of ethnic and political identity social status and gender in China across the third to seventeenth centuries and as such offers a crucial vehicle for understanding interactions between the Chinese center and periphery Using a richly interdisciplinary perspective that brings together music history performance studies archaeology and art history the author draws together the visual evidence for the history of Chinese lutes and analyzes the political and cultural dimensions of their depictions in art In exploring the lute's reception across time and space this book illuminates the shifting relationships between China and cultures along its frontier as well as the dynamics of gender and social status within China's center Comprehensive in scope Lutes and Marginality in Pre Modern China offers new insights for scholars of pre modern China art history archaeology music history ethnomusicology and Silk Road and frontier studies World History Encyclopedia [21] volumes] Alfred J. Wordsworth, 2024-09-23 Central Asia has been perceived as a landscape of connections of Silk Roads an endless plain across which waves of conquerors swiftly rode on horseback In reality the region is highly fragmented and difficult to traverse and overcoming these obstacles led to routes becoming associated with epic travel and high value trade Put simply the inhabitants of these lands became experts in the art of travelling the margins This volume seeks to unravel some of the myths of long distance roads in Central Asia using a desert case study to put forward a new hypothesis for how medieval landscapes were controlled and manipulated Locating the Sacred Claudia Moser, Cecelia Feldman, 2014-01-01 Ritual happens in distinct places in temples in caves along pilgrimage routes and religious activities there incorporate a diverse set of objects such as holy water cult statues and sacred texts Understanding religious ritual requires viewing it not as a disembodied event but as emplaced grounded in both built and natural surroundings and integrated with its associated material objects Here authors examine various religious practices in the Greco Roman world and pilgrimage routes in contemporary Israel Other contributions focus on the East on domestic religion in prehistoric Taiwan and the palimpsest of ritual activity in Buddhist China One author considers not just ritual s built and natural setting but also the landscape of the human mind By way of conclusion many of the recurring issues concerning the material and topographic matrix of ritual practice are expanded upon in a final meditation on sacred space. The papers in this volume with their disciplinary geographic and chronological diversity will serve as a resource for theoretical approaches to the study of ritual practice that may have broad cross cultural application and provide new insight into the relationship between ritual and place The volume is based on a conference held at Brown University Chinese Steles Dorothy C. Wong, 2004-09-30 Buddhist steles represent an important subset of early Chinese Buddhist art that flourished during the Northern and Southern Dynasties period 386 581 More than two hundred Chinese Buddhist steles are known to have survived Their brilliant imagery has long captivated scholars yet until now the Buddhist stele as a unique art form has received little scholarly attention Dorothy Wong rectifies that insufficiency by providing in this well illustrated volume the first comprehensive investigation of this group of Buddhist monuments She traces the ancient roots of the Chinese stele tradition and investigates the process by which Chinese steles were adapted for Buddhist use She arranges the known corpus of Buddhist steles into broad chronological and regional groupings and analyzes not only their form and content but also the nexus of complex issues surrounding this art form from cultural symbolism to the interrelations between religious doctrine and artistic expression economic production patronage and the synthesis of native and foreign art styles In her analysis of Buddhism's dialogue with native traditions Wong demonstrates how the Chinese artistic idiom planted the seeds for major achievements in figural and landscape arts in the ensuing Sui and Tang periods A History of East Asia Charles Holcombe, 2011 This book traces the story of East Asia Jingjiao Roman Malek,2021-08-23 The contributions in this volume were mostly from the dawn of history to the present first presented at the conference Research on Nestorianism in China Zhongguo jingjiao yanjiu held in Salzburg 20 26 May 2003 Like the conference the volume explores the subject of Nestorianism jingjiao Luminous Religion in a variety of aspects The material of the present collection is organized in five parts. The first part presents different aspects of the past and current research on jingjiao The second part discusses jingjiao in the Tang dynasty especially the question of the Nestorian texts and documents their authenticity and theology The third part deals with the Nestorian inscriptions and remains from the Yuan dynasty especially from Quanzhou Part four is dedicated to questions of the Church of the East in Central Asia and other historically relevant countries The last part of the book presents a Preliminary Bibliography on the Church of the East in China and Central Asia prepared especially for this volume Byzantine Trade, 4th-12th Centuries Marlia Mundell Mango, 2016-12-05 The 28 papers examine questions relating to the extent and nature of Byzantine trade from Late Antiquity into the Middle Ages The Byzantine state was the only political entity of the Mediterranean to survive Antiquity and thus offers a theoretical standard against which to measure diachronic and regional changes in trading practices within the area and beyond To complement previous extensive work on late antique long distance trade within the Mediterranean based on the grain supply amphorae and fine ware circulation the papers concentrate on local and international trade The emphasis is on recently uncovered or studied archaeological evidence relating to key topics. These include local retail organisation within the city some regional markets within the empire the production and or circulation patterns of particular goods metalware ivory and bone glass pottery and objects of international trade both exports such as wine and glass imports such as materia medica and the lack of importation of for example Sasanian pottery In particular new work relating to specific regions of Byzantium's international trade is highlighted in Britain the Levant the Red Sea the Black Sea and China Papers of the 38th Spring Symposium of Byzantine Studies held in 2004 at Oxford under the auspices of the Committee for Byzantine Studies
