Reclaiming The L Word:

Reclaiming the L-Word Alleyn Diesel, 2011-05-15 This brave and moving collection of stories by South African lesbian women from different backgrounds reminds us again that rights are never finally won in legislatures or in court rooms They are won by people exercising them The authors of the stories and poems in this book have done just that They have stood up to celebrate the dignity of lesbian women in South Africa Each contribution is different And each intensely personal And each one reminds us of the urgent need for us to stop hate crime and to create a safe society for all LGBT South Africans

Reclaiming the "L" Word Kelly A. Fryer, 2003 Reclaiming the L Word is a book about renewing congregations by recognizing and living out the core teachings of the Lutheran faith Primarily written for those who call themselves Lutheran and specifically those who are members of ELCA congregations this little book helps us answer these central questions Who are we What DOES it mean to be a Lutheran today anyway And why does it matter Inspirational engaging and challenging this book is a must read for pastors and congregational leaders

Reclaiming the V Word Dave Daubert, Tana Kjos, 2008-02-15 Centered in a definition of vocation that flows from Luther's conviction that all Christians share the same vocation but live it out in various occupations and roles Reclaiming the V Word challenges readers to see themselves as instruments of God's mission as church wherever they are From a strong foundation of Lutheran theology reframed for twenty first century application the authors use real life stories and thoughtful exercises to help readers discern what this means for Christian life in today's world

Post-Apartheid Same-Sex Sexualities Andy Carolin, 2020-12-31 This book examines how same sex sexualities are represented in several post apartheid South African cultural texts drawing on a rich local archive of same sex sexualities that includes recent fiction drama film photography and popular print culture While the book situates these texts within the specific context of post apartheid South Africa it also looks outwards towards transnational connectivity and cultural flows The author uses the idea of restlessness to refer to the uneven flow of cultural tropes political sentiment ideas ideologies and representational modes across geographical boundaries across time and space and between genres presenting sexual cultures as simultaneously rooted and transnational He focuses on how notions of race and gender in the shadow of colonialism and apartheid play out in the present and shape how sexualities are represented This interdisciplinary book offers a conceptual entry point to several areas of study including transnationalism literary and cultural studies critical race theory gender and sexuality studies and African studies and will be of interest to students and researchers across these fields Its inclusion of a range of textual genres extends its reach into visual culture film and media studies history and politics

The Routledge Handbook of Events Stephen J. Christianity and Ethnicity in Canada Paul Bramadat, David Seljak, 2008-06-14 Over the past decade scholars and policy makers interested in Canadian multiculturalism have begun to take religion much more seriously Moreover Christian communities have become increasingly aware of the impact of ethnic diversity on church life However until very recently almost no systematic academic attention has been paid to the intersection between the ethnic and religious identities of individuals or communities This gap in both our academic literature and our public discourse represents an obstacle to understanding and integrating the large numbers of ethnic Christians most of whom either join existing Canadian churches or create ethnically specific congregations In Christianity and Ethnicity in Canada eleven scholars explore the complex relationships between religious and ethnic identity within the nine major Christian traditions in Canada The contributors discuss the ways in which changes in the ethnic composition of these traditions influence religious practice and identity as well as how the nine religious traditions influence communal and individual ethnic identities An introductory chapter by Paul Bramadat and David Seljak provides a thorough discussion of the theoretical historical and empirical issues involved in the study of Christianity and ethnicity in Canada This volume complements Religion and Ethnicity in Canada in which the authors address similar issues within the six major non Christian communities in Canada and within Canadian health care education and politics

The Neighborhood Church Robert G. Moss, 2014-09-16 The purpose of this book is to provide a theologically sound yet easy to use resource based on the image of God that can help congregations engage relationally in their neighborhoods Rather than using the neighborhood as a resource to help make congregations successful The Neighborhood Church contends that God places congregations in neighborhoods to help make neighborhoods successful in accordance with God's vision This book is intended as a resource for pastors and other church leaders who pour significant amounts of energy into their congregations but feel frustrated with the results The problem isn't with church leaders' energy or commitment On the contrary it's a lack of awareness as to how that energy and commitment can be channeled within God's call mission and movement This book is a crucial resource for congregations having difficulty navigating the treacherous waters of what it means to be successful according to God's vision Lutheran Questions Lutheran Answers Martin E. Marty, 2007-04-15 Lutherans often have questions about Lutheran theology and beliefs that are basic to the Christian faith itself Featuring a unique question and answer format Lutheran Questions Lutheran Answers is an accessible and concise treatment that provides the most frequently asked questions on important topics and brief but complete answers from a distinguished Lutheran historian and theologian Sexuality and Social Justice in Africa Marc Epprecht, 2013-07-11 The persecution of people in Africa on the basis of their assumed or perceived homosexual orientation has received considerable coverage in the popular media in recent years Gay bashing by political and religious figures in Zimbabwe and Gambia draconian new laws against lesbians and gays and their supporters in Malawi Nigeria and Uganda and the imprisonment and extortion of gay men in Senegal and Cameroon have all rightly sparked international condemnation However much of the analysis has been highly critical of African leadership and culture without considering local nuances historical factors and external influences that are contributing to the problem Such commentary also overlooks grounds for optimism in the struggle for sexual rights and justice in Africa not just for sexual minorities but for the majority population as well Based on pioneering research on the history of homosexualities and engagement with current LGBTI and HIV AIDS activism Marc Epprecht provides a sympathetic overview of the issues at play and a hopeful outlook on the potential of sexual rights for all Gravity and Grace Joseph Sittler, 2004-11-15 This newly revised edition provides insights from one of the leading Lutheran theologians of the twentieth century The essays and reflections gathered in this volume provoke readers to think about and discuss topics such as risk and faith nature and grace the Word of God and genuine theology real education the beauty and meaning of language necessary personal choices aging and social issues Study questions are provided to encourage group discussion Living Lutheran Dave Daubert, 2007-01-01 Kelly Fryer's book Reclaiming the L Word introduced one congregation's journey through renewal Now Dave Daubert provides a practical how to guide that will enable church leaders to help individual congregations walk through the process for themselves Creative and informative the book provides a straightforward approach that helps congregations reclaim Lutheran tradition for the 21st century Includes questions for individual or group reflection and an additional resources section Routledge Handbook of Sport, Leisure, and Social Justice Stefan Lawrence, Joanne Hill, Rasul Mowatt, 2024-05-23 This is the first book to explore in breadth and in depth the complex intersections between sport leisure and social justice This book examines the relations of power that produce social inequalities and considers how sport and leisure spaces can perpetuate those relations or act as sites of resistance and makes a powerful call for an activist scholarship in sport and leisure studies Presenting original theoretical and empirical work by leading international researchers and practitioners in sport and leisure this book addresses the central social issues that lie at the heart of critical social science including racism sexism homophobia transphobia ableism religious persecution socio economic deprivation and the climate crisis and asks how these issues are expressed or mediated in the context of sport and leisure practices Covering an incredibly diverse range of topics and cases including sex testing in sport sport for refugees pedagogical practices in physical education community sport development events and human rights and athlete activism this book also surveys the history of sport and social justice research as well as outlining theoretical and methodological foundations for this field of enquiry The Routledge Handbook of Sport Leisure and Social Justice is an indispensable resource for any advanced student researcher policymaker practitioner or activist with an interest in the sociology culture politics history development governance media and marketing and business and management of sport and leisure

Feminism and Modernity in Anglophone African Women's Writing Dobrota Pucherová, 2022-07-29 This book re-reads the last 60 years of Anglophone African women's writing from a transnational and trans-historical feminist perspective rather than postcolonial from which these texts have been traditionally interpreted Such a comparative frame throws into relief patterns across time and space that make it possible to situate this writing as an integral part of women's literary history Revisiting this literature in a comparative context with Western women writers since the 18th century the author highlights how invocations of tradition have been used by patriarchy everywhere to subjugate women the similarities between women's struggles worldwide and the feminist imagination it produced The author argues that in the 21st century African feminism has undergone a major epistemic shift from a culturally exclusive to a relational feminism that conceptualizes African femininity through the risky opening of oneself to otherness transculturation and translation Like Western feminists in the 1960s contemporary African women writers are turning their attention to the female body as the prime site of women's oppression and freedom reframing feminism as a demand for universal human rights and actively shaping global discourses on gender modernity and democracy The book will be of interest to students and researchers of African literature but also feminist literary scholars and comparatists more generally Blessed to
