Reconciling Trade And The Environment In The World Trade Organization:

Reconciling Trade and the Environment in the World Trade Organization Peter Morici, Economic Strategy Institute, 2002-01-01 Reconciling Environment and Trade Edith Brown Weiss, John H. Jackson, Nathalie Bernasconi-Osterwalder, 2008-09-30 The volume focuses on five cases all of which remain cornerstone trade environment cases of the WTO The subject matter of these cases reflects five basic issues in the clash between trade and the environment public health air pollution ozone depletion food safety destruction of endangered species and biosafety These five issues surface dramatically in international disputes over tobacco reformulated gasoline beef growth hormones commercial fishing methods and genetically modified organisms In the second edition of this book Nathalie Bernasconi Osterwalder joins the original editors to update and contextualize the five case studies in new introductions to each section These introductions provide an overview of developments since the first edition including subsequent related cases The second edition also includes updated bibliographic materials In their penetrating analyses of these cases and their vast implications the authors take into account the entire disciplines of both trade law and environmental law noting especially the points of friction between the multilateral instruments in each field and the developing jurisprudence of the WTO Dispute Settlement with regard to the exceptions specified in Article XX of the GATT The articulated standpoints of all parties governments and NGOs on both sides of the controversy are probed for agendas whether stated or unstated No one involved in international trade or environmental activism can afford to ignore this vital publication The information it provides on WTO jurisprudence on current and pending environmental initiatives on the science behind the disputes no less than the fresh and convincing analysis it holds forth make it an essential tool for understanding some of the most crucial issues in international law today

Research Handbook on Environment, Health and the WTO Geert van Calster, Denise Prévost, 2013 This edited collection brings together an impressive array of authors from the world of international trade the environment and public health Each of them is eminently well placed to bring their own particular expertise to bear on the issue at hand and to do so in a knowledgeable and stimulating manner This Research Handbook is a must for anyone interested in these overlapping fields of law and policy whether as a basis for learning or as a resource for further research Mary Footer University of Nottingham School of Law UK This fantastic collection of essays explores the multiple intersections between trade and environment in the WTO The contributions by leading scholars are theoretically engaged whilst practical in their focus It is a must read for those concerned to ensure that trade liberalisation does not stand in the way of sustainable development including urgently needed action to mitigate the risks and consequences of climate change Joanne Scott University College London UK Geert Van Calster and Denise Prévost have managed to induce virtually all the great experts on health environment and WTO law to contribute to their Research Handbook on these subjects The result is undoubtedly an excellent volume that should adorn the bookcase of any and all interested in the important problem of the relation between international rule making and regulatory autonomy of states in this area of international economic law Pieter Jan Kuijper University of Amsterdam The Netherlands This Handbook provides state of the art analysis by leading authors on the links between the international trade regime and health and environment concerns concerns that make up an increasing proportion of WTO dispute settlement Research Handbook on Environment Health and the WTO surveys fields as diverse as climate change mitigation non communicable diseases nanotechnology and public health care The volume brings to the fore the debates and complexities surrounding these issues and their implications for the international trading system The Handbook begins in Part I with a survey of general issues that sets a context for the more specific sectorial studies Part II considers the most pressing issues within health regulation and trade law whilst Part III is devoted to environmental regulation and its interface with trade law Part IV looks specifically at aspects of the dispute settlement process and in particular standard of review and the book concludes in Part V with a consideration of the impact of trade measures on the health and environment regimes of emerging economies This comprehensive yet concise Handbook will appeal to academics and researchers in international trade law and environmental law as well as trade law practitioners Reconciling Trade and the Environment Grant Hewison,1995

The World Trade Organization Mitsuo Matsushita,Thomas J. Schoenbaum,Petros C. Mavroidis,Michael Hahn,2015-10-15 The WTO is one of the most important intergovernmental organizations in the world yet the way in which it functions as an organization and the scope of its authority and power are still poorly understood This comprehensively revised new edition of the acclaimed work by an outstanding team of WTO law specialists provides a complete overview of the law and practice of the WTO The authors begin with the institutional law of the WTO such as the sources of law and remedies of the dispute settlement system then tackle the principal substantive obligations of the WTO regime including tariffs quotas and MFN They then move on to consider unfair trade regional trading arrangements and developing countries In its final section the book deals with the consequences of globalization first where free trade is seen to be incompatible with environmental protection and second where WTO law confronts legal regimes governing issues of competition and intellectual property Trade and the Environment in General Equilibrium: Evidence from Developing Economies John Beghin,David Roland-Holst,Dominique Van der Mensbrugghe,2005-11-28 This book was initiated while the three major authors were at the Development Centre of Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development OECD in Paris working on its program on economic growth trade and sustainability We wish to thank the OECD Development Centre for its support The book was completed during summer 2001 at the Center for Agricultural and Rural Development CARD at Iowa State University We appreciate the resources and financial support CARD provided for publication of this work Sandra Clarke provided technical editing of the manuscripts and oversaw the indexing of the book Becky Olson prepared the camera ready copy of the final manuscript We thank them for their instrumental help in these last steps Part of the work presented in this volume previously appeared in some form in journals The analysis of Chile presented in Chapter 6 appeared as Growth Trade

Pollution and Natural Resource Use in Chile Evidence from an Economywide Model Agricultural Economics 19 1998 87 97 and as Trade Integration Environmental Degradation and Public Health in Chile Assessing the Linkages Environment and Development Economics in press The work on Costa Rica and Indonesia summarised in Chapter 10 appeared as Is There a Trade off Between Trade Liberalisation and Pollution Abatement in Costa Rica A Computable General Equilibrium Assessment Journal of Policy Modeling 20 1 11 31 and as The Environment and Welfare Implications of Trade and Tax Policy Journal of Development Economics 52 1997 65 82

The WTO and the Environment James Watson, 2013-05-20 This book is a review of the development of the WTO dispute resolution procedure and the power and influence it has gained over the practises of the member countries as well as in other international treaties The book addresses the development of environmental competency in the WTO and examines the arguments of those who oppose WTO rule making with impacts on the environment The WTO s interactions with multilateral environmental agreements are considered and recent WTO cases including the 2011 US Mexico tuna dispute and the US sea turtles decision are analysed in detail In examining how an international organisation which was established with a specific purpose in mind has come to interact in fields beyond its original remit James Watson demonstrates how the dispute resolution system at the WTO has come to work in a judicialised manner operating with an informal system of precedent This has led to the contracting parties placing more reliance on the decisions of the dispute panels and appeal body when considering policy options with WTO rulings increasingly influencing the behaviour of national legislatures in regard to the environment The book goes on to make concrete recommendations based on existing practise in the WTO dispute resolution procedure which could enhance decision making in environmental cases heard by the WTO The book argues that this could be achieved with straightforward amendments to the WTO based on existing practices endorsed under the WTO for other policy considerations The WTO and the Environment will be of particular interest to academics and students of International and Environmental law

Guide to the WTO and GATT Autar Krishen Koul, 2018-11-19 This book analyzes how today s system of international trade law and international economic relations has evolved over the last six decades Focusing on the major innovations that came with the inception of the World Trade Organization WTO with its various agreements in 1994 it also provides in depth commentary on the intense debate over important matters that remain unsettled Topics covered include the WTO dispute settlement mechanism the General Agreement on Trade in Services OATS the Agreement on Trade Related Investment Measures TRIMS intellectual property rights the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights TRIPS areas still covered by the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade GATT 1947 the Most Favoured Nation MFN concept special provisions relating to agriculture and textiles sanitary and phytosanitary measures technical barriers to trade pre shipment inspection and import licensing procedures The book would be an excellent resource for scholars as well as practitioners working in the field of international arbitration and trade laws

Environmental Sovereignty and the WTO: Trade Sanctions and International Law Bradley Condon, 2006-04-19 The growing body of WTO jurisprudence is of profound significance for the development of the general body of international law With this in mind Environmental Sovereignty and the WTO succinctly examines how the WTO law can contribute to achieving coherence between general international law international environmental law and international trade law and avoid conflicts between trade liberalization and global environmental protection Professor Condon argues that these three branches of law are generally consistent with each other in the area of international law where they intersect However WTO jurisprudence can benefit from a more explicit analysis provided here of the way that panel decisions fit into the general framework of international law No law reforms are currently needed to facilitate this task As the text shows it is a matter of using the current WTO rules to resolve conflicts between treaties such as the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade GATT and multilateral environmental agreements MEAs and to determine the circumstances in which unilateral trade measures should be permitted The topics addressed in Environmental Sovereignty and the WTO will be of considerable interest to a broad audience given the global political controversy over American unilateralism the fairness of WTO rules to poor countries and the effect of trade rules on efforts to protect the global environment However the book addresses these controversial issues without sacrificing academic rigour and will appeal to a scholarly and professional audience seeking new approaches to addressing the problems raised by the globalization of law Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint The World Trade Organization Millennium Round Klaus Gunter Deutsch, Bernhard Speyer, 2001-01-25 This book draws together key issues resulting from the World Trade Organization's planned Millennium Round and the hope that it will lead to freer trade as we begin this new century The World Trade Organization International Trade Law Center, Arthur E. Appleton, Michael G. Plummer, 2007-12-31 The editors have succeeded in bringing together an excellent mix of leading scholars and practitioners No book on the WTO has had this wide a scope before or covered the legal framework economic and political issues current and would be countries and a outlook to the future like these three volumes do 3000 pages 80 chapters in 3 volumes cover a very interdisciplinary field that touches upon law economics and politics Reflections on the Debate Between Trade and Environment Dr. Yvonne Nana Afua Idun, 2014-01-08 REFLECTIONS ON THE DEBATE BETWEEN TRADE AND ENVIRONMENT A STUDY GUIDE FOR LAW STUDENTS RESEARCHERS AND ACADEMICS This book is intended to provide information for students researchers and academics in the field of international environmental law and the law of international trade It could serve as a simple guide in this regard It discusses the trade and environment debate with relevant case studies and legislation from WTO and EU jurisprudential perspectives The book also pays attention to the relevance of this debate regarding African countries in their implementation of trade and environmental policies within the context of a green economy and how these relate to pertinent environmental issues such as climate change pollution and waste trade Trade and the Environment Ravi Ratnayake, 2019-01-15 Published in 1997 this book is about the link between trade and the environment which has become a very important national issue for all countries in particular those countries which have been undergoing lengthy periods of trade and investment liberalization programmes recently This has also become an international issue of tremendous current interest given its implications on the global environment and trading system International organizations such as WTO OECD the UN and regional trading arrangements such as NAFTA EEC and APEC have been actively involved in the policy debate Despite the critical importance of trade environment issues less is known about the linkages between the two This book presents a New Zealand perspective as a case study of global interest for two reasons firstly many countries both developed and developing are taking the New Zealand economic reforms as a model for restructuring their economies Secondly New Zealand is going to become a member of APEC Asia Pacific Economic Co operation together with 17 other countries in the area by 2010 developed countries and 2020 developing countries The book is expected to contribute significantly to the current debate and to assist in the process of reconciliation of trade and environmental policies for sustainable development within the context of APEC integration
