Recreating The Period Garden:

Recreating the Period Garden Graham Stuart Thomas, 1985 Recreating the Period Garden Graham Stuart Thomas, 1984 The Gardens of Colonial Williamsburg M. Kent Brinkley, Gordon W. Chappell, 1996 The Gardens of Colonial Williamsburg features twenty gardens in Colonial Williamsburg's Historic Area Stunning photography complements the text and detailed garden plans identify the plantings in each garden Experience the sights colors and textures found in Colonial Williamsburg's gardens each season of the year Book jacket Restoring Period Gardens John Harvey, 1988 Green Desire Rebecca Weld Bushnell, 2018-07-05 For Rebecca Bushnell English gardening books tell a fascinating tale of the human love for plants and our will to make them do as we wish These books powerfully evoke the desires of gardeners they show us gardeners who like poets imagine not just what is but what should be In particular the earliest English garden books such as Thomas Hill's The Gardeners Labyrinth or Hugh Platt's Floraes Paradise mix magical practices with mundane recipes even when the authors insist that they rely completely on their own experience in these matters Like early modern books of secrets early gardening manuals often promise the reader power to alter the essential properties of plants to make the gillyflower double to change the lily's hue or to grow a cherry without a stone Green Desire describes the innovative design of the old manuals examining how writers and printers marketed them as fiction as well as practical advice for aspiring gardeners Along with this attention to the delights of reading it analyzes the strange dignity and pleasure of garden labor and the division of men's and women's roles in creating garden art The book ends by recounting the heated debate over how much people could do to create marvels in their own gardens For writers and readers alike these green desires inspired dreams of power and self improvement fantasies of beauty achieved without work and hopes for order in an unpredictable world not so different from the dreams of gardeners today Landscapes and Gardens for Historic Buildings Rudy J.
