Red Hills Migrants And The State In The Highlands Of:

Red Hills Andrew Hardy, 2003-03-31 Several million rural inhabitants of Vietnam's northern deltas made the decision to move during the twentieth century seeking to make new homes in the country's highlands. This book offers a historical analysis of the political economy of migration stimulated by the French colonial and independent socialist states. It shows how socialist policies especially changed the face of the highlands as settlers from the plains turned the hills red. Red Hills

Andrew David Hardy, 2005 During the twentieth century several million rural inhabitants of Vietnam's northern delta made the decision to move home seeking new space for themselves in the country's highlands. Their decisions and the settlements they created had wide-ranging effects on their home communities and on the people and environment of their destinations. Many migrations were made in response to policy decisions made in Hanoi first by the French colonial authorities and later by Vietnam's independent socialist states. This ground-breaking study of the settlements of Vietnam's highland regions offers a historical analysis of and provides profound insights into the political economy of migration both in Vietnam and elsewhere. The Vietnamese highlands as settlers from the plains turned the hills red. Placing people's experiences in the context of government policy and national history, this book explores their anticipations, difficulties, achievements, and disappointments, highlighting the geopolitical importance of the highlands. The study can be read as a contribution to migration studies in South-east Asia but also as a grassroots history of 20th-century Vietnam. Written in a lively reading style and illustrated by numerous maps and photographs, this study promises to become a classic in Vietnamese historical studies. Bonded

Labour Sabine Damir-Geilsdorf, Ulrike Lindner, Gesine Müller, Oliver Tappe, Michael Zeuske, 2016-11-25 Parallel to the abolition of Atlantic slavery, new forms of indentured labour stilled global capitalism's need for cheap disposable labour. The famous coolie trade, mainly Asian labourers transferred to French and British islands in the Indian Ocean, Australia, Indonesia, South Africa, the Caribbean, the Americas, as well as to Portuguese colonies in Africa, was one of the largest migration movements in global history. Indentured contract workers are perhaps the most revealing example of bonded labour in the grey area between the poles of chattel slavery and free wage labour. This interdisciplinary volume addresses historically and regionally specific cases of bonded labour relations from the 18th century to sponsorship systems in the Arab Gulf States today.

Human Security Benny Teh Cheng Guan, 2012-01-03 Human security is becoming increasingly pronounced in recent years due to changes in the security landscape of world politics. Yet inter-state relations have continued to dominate security concerns in East Asia. This has unfortunately eluded the broader understanding of issues and challenges facing the peoples of East Asia. Home to nations with rapid economic growth and development, East Asia is at the core of what some individuals have termed as the coming Asian Century. Years of economic liberalization and exposure to globalization have permitted the region to achieve high levels of interconnectedness from within and without in unprecedented ways. This has certainly reduced state control and opened up spaces for cross-border human activities. While economic wealth have increased substantially over the years it has also brought about bigger income disparities unsustainable safety nets and a surge in social problems from health issues to migratory concerns that threaten the safety and well being of individuals Human Security Securing East Asia's Future timely examines the fundamental issues causing human insecurities and evaluates the extent of which human security plays a role at the state and regional levels Covering the different areas of threats to humans and applying case study materials this volume provides an intellectual mix of perspectives that captures the relationship between people state and region This book will be of interest to those studying traditional and non traditional security threats Asian human development and critical policy analysis Space Is Power John

Hickman,2016-02-29 From Russia's annexation of Crimea to China's nine dash line in the South China Sea it is clear that territory is as important in international politics now as it has ever been Yet too few contemporary foreign policy makers journalists and scholars are able to speak coherently about territorial issues Space Is Power The Seven Rules of Territory challenges the intellectual conceits that human territoriality is merely a social construct that territorial sovereignty is atavistic that territorial annexation is always irrational and that territorial disputes are provoked by foreign policy makers who seek to divert public attention from more important issues Space Is Power argues that territoriality is too basic to human nature to be denied and territorial sovereignty is too important to the survival of the modern state to be ignored The truths about territory are captured in seven rules some of which are intuitive while others contradict conventional wisdom Rather than anticipating the transcendence of the territorial states this book argues that the unmistakable direction of international politics is toward encompassing ever more physical space as the territory of states Rural-Urban Dynamics Jytte

Agergaard,Niels Fold,Katherine Gough,2009-09-11 It has increasingly been recognised that rural and urban areas are inextricably interlinked This book adopts a fresh approach to the issue of rural urban dynamics through a study of the changing nature of livelihoods mobility and markets in ten study sites across four countries of Africa and Asia Building on detailed fieldwork conducted in Ghana Tanzania Vietnam and Thailand the authors explore how settlements and livelihoods are being transformed as long term inhabitants and recent migrants embrace new economic activities many of which are linked to global markets The book is structured around the concept of frontier which is conceptualized as being a dynamic space where the forces of economic demographic and social change are brought to bear The study sites include agricultural frontiers coffee cocoa pineapples and fresh fruit handicraft and manufacturing frontiers and mining frontiers gold and diamonds In all of the cases global value chain dynamics have played a pivotal role in shaping local livelihoods Some settlements are developing into new urban centres whilst others are suffering from a boom and bust experience due to the unreliability of export markets The similarities and differences between the frontier settlements are drawn out by comparing frontiers of similar types and by highlighting the theoretical and policy implications of the findings from all the frontier types The originality of the book lies in its combination of conceptual clarity methodological coherence and empirical richness By combining detailed empirical findings with theoretical insight from debates on livelihoods global value chains mobility patterns settlement dynamics and rural urban relations the book sheds new light on these issues within an overall framework of development trajectories in Africa and Asia Given scholars and international agencies current interest in the spatial dimensions of economic development this contribution is particularly timely with its fresh geographical approach to development issues this book is a pertinent and authoritative read for anyone researching or learning in the field of development
