Looking For A Needle:

The Perfect Learners' Dictionary (?) Thomas Herbst, Kerstin Popp, 2011-08-25 This volume undertakes a detailed analysis of the latest generation of learners dictionaries of English. It assembles the papers delivered at the eponymous symposium held at the University of Erlangen-Nürnberg in April 1997. There are a number of reasons why these dictionaries are of special lexicographic interest: 1. the type of learners dictionary associated notably with the name of Hornby can look back on a long tradition in British lexicography; 2. competition between various publishers since the late 70s has given crucial impetus to the development of these dictionaries; 3. these new dictionaries are decisively marked by the evaluation of large-scale computer corpora. Central to the volume is the in-depth comparison of four dictionaries published in 1995: OALD5, LDOCE3, COBUILD2, CIDE. The aim is to exemplify specific differences of approach in the four dictionaries from a wide range of viewpoints: definitions, information on valency and collocations, policy on usage, examples, political correctness, etc. A number of articles also enlarge on the history of learners dictionaries of English, the significance of corpus linguistics for lexicography, and perspectives for the future, notably in connection with the electronic media. My loving wife donated her kidney to me, but the Lord had other unforeseen plans. Join me on our journey. I will tell you our story and many unbelievable supernatural miracles we witnessed. Become your voice from the dialysis chair. Bring you my extensive practical experience with kidney disease and take you on my journey from a rock bottom of disappointment to the growing faith of understanding the Lord's plan. My story is an honest attempt to pull back the curtain on real-life challenges, overcoming difficulties, finding truths, and growing a deeper faith. I hope that you find comfort and validation in what you might be experiencing yourself and to find strength and solid faith that may have been hidden from your eyes deep inside your inner being and within your own grasp. My story is a story of hope and discouragement, fear and strength, denial and embrace faith and mistrust, miracles and letdowns, and weakness and supernatural strength.
