The Real Work Adam Gopnik, 2023-03-14 Wise companionable and often extremely funny Oliver Burkeman The Atlantic Best selling author and New Yorker writer Adam Gopnik investigates a foundational human question How do we learn and master a new skill For decades now Adam Gopnik has been one of our most beloved writers a brilliantly perceptive critic of art food France and more But recently he became obsessed by a more fundamental matter one he had often meditated on in The New Yorker How do masters learn their miraculous skill whether it was drawing a museum ready nude or baking a perfect sourdough loaf How could anyone become so good at anything There seemed to be a fundamental mystery to mastery Was it possible to unravel it In The Real Work the term magicians use for the accumulated craft that makes for a great trick Gopnik becomes a dedicated student of several masters of their craft a classical painter a boxer a dancing instructor a driving instructor and others Rejecting self help bromides and bullet points he nevertheless shows that the top people in any field share a set of common qualities and methods For one their mastery is always a process of breaking down and building up of identifying and perfecting the small constituent parts of a skill and the combining them for an overall effect greater than the sum of those parts For another mastery almost always involves intentional imperfection as in music where vibrato a way of not quite landing on the right note carries maximum expressiveness Gopnik's simplest and most invigorating lesson however is that we are surrounded by mastery Far from rare mastery is commonplace if we only know where to look from the parent who can whip up a professional strudel to the social worker who in one of the most personally revealing passages Gopnik has ever written helps him master his own demons Spirited and profound The Real Work will help you understand how mastery can happen in your own life and significantly why each of us relentlessly seeks to better ourselves in the first place
