Maid In Taiwan:

Maid in Taiwan Barbara North, 1984      Factory Women in Taiwan Lydia Kung, 1994 An important study of Taiwan's first generation of working women documenting their and their families' views of their employment and the effects that wage earning has on the status and lives of these women      The Minor Arts of Daily Life David K. Jordan, Andrew D. Morris, Marc L. Moskowitz, 2004-03-31 The Minor Arts of Daily Life is an account of the many ways in which contemporary Taiwanese approach their ordinary existence and activities. It presents a wide range of aspects of day to day living to convey something of the world as experienced by the Taiwanese themselves. Contributors: Alice Chu, Chien Juh Gu, David K. Jordan, Paul R. Katz, Chin Ju Lin, Andrew D. Morris, Marc L. Moskowitz, Scott Simon, Shuenn Der Yu      Working Women and State Policies in Taiwan Fen-ling Chen, 2000-09-29 This book concentrates on exploring the changing relationship between the state and working women in Taiwan by incorporating social, economic, political, and ideological factors into the historical analysis. It traces the history of state policies on women's employment, the impact of family and gender ideology on women's employment, women's roles in capitalist development, and the influence of women's movements on policy making in Taiwan. Finally, it analyses the Taiwanese welfare regime in a gender critical way      Framing the Bride Bonnie Adrian, 2003-12-08 With a wedding impending, the Taiwanese bride-to-be turns to bridal photographers, makeup artists, and hair stylists to transform her image beyond recognition. They give her fairer skin, eyes like a Western baby doll, and gowns inspired by sources from Victorian England to MTV. An absorbing consideration of contemporary bridal practices in Taiwan, Framing the Bride shows how the lavish photographs represent more than mere conspicuous consumption. They are artifacts infused with cultural meaning and emotional significance, products of the gender and generation-based conflicts in Taiwan's hybrid system of modern matrimony. From the bridal photographs, the book opens out into broader issues such as courtship, marriage, kinship, globalization, and the meaning of the West and Western cultural images of beauty. Bonnie Adrian argues that in compiling enormous bridal albums full of photographs of brides and grooms in varieties of finery posed in different places and exuding romance, Taiwanese brides engage in a new rite of passage, one that challenges the terms of marriage set out in conventional wedding rites. In Framing the Bride, we see how this practice is also a creative response to U.S. domination of transnational visual imagery, how bridal photographers and their subjects take the project of globalization into their own hands, defining its terms for their lives even as they expose the emptiness of its images      Custom Maid War for New World Disorder Peter De Krassel, 2005-08 Following on from Custom Maid Spin, Peter de Krassel turns his unique international perspective and controversial pen onto the business of war. In the course of reviewing the conflicts of the 20th century and today, he argues that to end or at least minimize the cycle of 21st century violence, humanity is inflicting on itself. America must lead the peaceful charge for change. To do so, Americans need to learn and understand the reasons for war and how future wars can be stopped. War is not the answer to hunger, oil, territorial expansion, ethnic cleansing, or the survival of America On the contrary it is its escalating destructive downfall He points to China's re emergence as a global power as America's greatest challenge and one that must be resolved peacefully America must keep in mind the warning by the Greek historian Thucydides more than 2 000 years ago that belief in the inevitability of conflict can become one of its main causes In other words America cannot afford to become a victim of its own political spin Peter de Krassel's treatment on war reads like a journalistic account of Heart of Darkness We are like Marlow journeying down a political river with each chapter forcing us to shed another layer of ignorance in order to acquire new insight But this work also brings with it a sense of hope for we the people are capable of molding our own destiny as long as we have the wisdom and courage to change things

Brandon Royal Author The Little Red Writing Book An anecdotal and passionate polemic on modern history An unabashed racy weltanschauung that would not sit well on a White House shelf Stuart Wolfendale Columnist The Standard Peter deKrassel was born in England of a Russian father and Palestinian Jewish mother He has lived all over the world including Switzerland Israel and the United States Currently he lives in Hong Kong He has a unique perspective on world events both from the influences of the places he's lived in and the people he has met as well as from his varied career in the law and the media

Identity Politics and Popular Culture in Taiwan Hsin-I Sydney Yueh, 2016-12-07 In the past two decades a uniform representation of cutified femininity prevails in the Taiwanese media evidenced by the shift of Taiwan's popular cultural taste from a Chinese centered tradition to a mixed absorption from neighboring cultural capitals in the global market. This book argues that the native term sajiao is the key to understand the phenomenon. Originally referring to a set of persuasive tactics through imitating a spoiled child's gestures and ways of speaking to get attention or material goods sajiao is commonly understood to be women's weapon to manipulate men in the Mandarin speaking communities. By re interpreting sajiao as a feminine tactic or the tactic of the weak the book aims to propose a feminine framework in exploring identity politics in the following three aspects: the rising obsession with the immature female image in Taiwan's popular culture the adoption of the feminine communication style in native speakers everyday language and interactions and the competing discourses between dominant subordinate central peripheral global local and Chinese Taiwanese in shaping the identity politics in current Taiwanese society. The micro analysis of everyday language politics leads the reader to examine layers of discourse about gender identity and communication and finally to inquire how to situate or categorize Taiwan in area studies. The feminine framework is a useful theoretical tool that not only deconstructs everyday communication practice but also provides a bottom up alternative angle in analyzing Taiwan's role in political economic and cultural flows in East Asia. The massive imports of popular cultural products in the late 80s mainly from Japan fermented the kawaii Japanese cute type of femininity in regulating everyday communication and the perception of gender roles in Taiwan. The popularity of the baby like female image is concurrent with the simmering debate on Taiwanese identity Taiwan offers a unique perspective for observing identity politics because it still holds an undetermined status in the international community The collective uncertainty about the island's future and the diminishing voice in the international society become the backdrop for the growth of defining interpreting and appropriating sajiao elements in the popular culture This book offers an in depth examination of the interplay among local historical contexts cross border capitalist exchange and everyday communication that shapes the dialogism of Taiwanese identity

Translation of Contemporary Taiwan Literature in a Cross-Cultural Context Szu-Wen Kung, 2021-03-01 Translation of Contemporary Taiwan Literature in a Cross Cultural Context explores the social cultural and linguistic implications of translation of Taiwan literature for transnational cultural exchange It demonstrates principally how asymmetrical cultural relationships mediation processes and ideologies of the translation players constitute the culture specific translation activity as a highly contested site where translation can reconstruct and rewrite the literature and the culture it represents Four main theoretical themes are explored in relation to such translation activity sociological studies cultural and rewriting studies English as a lingua franca and social and performative linguistics These offer insightful perspectives on the translation as an interpretive encounter between not only two languages two cultural systems and assumptions taking place but also among various translation mediators This book will be useful to scholars and students working on translation and cultural studies China Taiwan literature studies and literature studies in cross cultural contexts
