A Global History of Modern Historiography Georg G Iggers, Q. Edward Wang, Supriya Mukherjee, 2013-09-13 So far histories of historiography have concentrated almost exclusively on the West This is the first book to offer a history of modern historiography from a global perspective Tracing the transformation of historical writings over the past two and half centuries the book portrays the transformation of historical writings under the effect of professionalization which served as a model not only for Western but also for much of non Western historical studies At the same time it critically examines the reactions in post modern and post colonial thought to established conceptions of scientific historiography A main theme of the book is how historians in the non Western world not only adopted or adapted Western ideas but also explored different approaches rooted in their own cultures

Marxism and Historiography Paolo Favilli, 2021-10-22 Eminent Italian historian Giovanni Levi once notably remarked that no one is a Marxist anymore pointing to a paradox in Italian cultural history While what is called Marxism was supposedly hegemonic over Italian culture and especially history writing for decades in the postwar period it then seems to have suddenly disappeared This study questions such a vision of a monolithic and hegemonic Marxism It starts from the most effective anecdote to all ideologising narratives that is research into the texts themselves It sees the Marxist historiography of the post 1945 period as a history in the making in which references to Marxian theory were a fundamental factor driving historiographical innovation This allows the book to bring to light a highly original experience in the development of historiography based on the long Italian tradition of reflection on historical knowledge
