Moffitt,2015-02-18 Michelangelo Merisi da Caravaggio 1571 1610 has long been recognized as one of the great innovators in the history of art Through detailed analysis of paintings from his early Roman period 1594 1602 this study now situates his art firmly within both its humanistic and its scientific context Here both his revolutionary painterly techniques pronounced naturalism and dramatic chiaroscuro and his novel subject matter still life compositions and genre scenes are finally put into their proper cultural and contemporary environment This environment included the contemporary rise of empirical scientific observation a procedure like Caravaggio s naturalism committed to a close study of the phenomenal world It also included the interests of his erudite aristocratic patrons influential Romans whose tastes reflected the Renaissance commitment to humanistic studies emblematic literature and classical lore The historical evidence entered into the record here includes both contemporary writings addressing the instructive purposes of art and the ancient literary sources commonly manipulated in Caravaggio s time that sanctioned a socially realistic art The overall result of this investigation is characterize the work of the painter as an expression of learned naturalism Provocation from the Periphery Valerie Heffernan,2007 Mapping Impressionist Painting in Transnational Contexts Emily C. Burns,Alice M. Rudy Price,2021-05-03 This book offers microhistories related to the transnational circulations of impressionism in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The contributors rethink the role of French impressionism in shaping these iterations by placing France within its global and imperialist context and arguing that impressionisms might be framed through the mobility studies concept of constellations of mobility Artists engaging with impressionism in France as in other global contexts relied on responded to appropriated and resisted elements of form and content based on fluid and interconnected political realities and market structures Written by scholars and curators the chapters demand reconsideration of impressionism as a historical construct and the meanings assigned to that term This project frames future discussion in art history cultural studies and global studies on the politics of appropriating impressionism Art After Appropriation John C. Welchman,2013-01-11 Beginning with the first comprehensive account of the discourse of appropriation that dominated the art world in the late 1970s and 1980s Art After Appropriation suggests a matrix of inflections and refusals around the culture of taking or citation each chapter loosely correlated with one year of the decade between 1989 and 1999 The opening chapters show how the Second World culture of the USSR gave rise to a new visibility for photography during the dissolution of the Soviet Union around 1989 Welchman examines how genres of ethnography documentary and travel are crossed with fictive performance and social improvisation in the videos of Steve Fagin He discusses how hybrid forms of subjectivity are delivered by a new critical narcissism and how the Korean American artist Cody Choi converts diffident gestures of appropriation from the logic of material or stylistic annexation into continuous incorporated events

Art After Appropriation also examines the creation of public art from covert actions and social feedback and how bodies participate in their own appropriation

Art After Appropriation concludes with the advent of the rainbow net an imaginary icon that governs the spaces of interactivity proliferation and media piracy at the end of the millennium

John Welchman is Professor of Modern Art History Theory and Criticism at the University of California San Diego He is the author of Modernism Relocated 1995 and Invisible Colors 1997 and editor of Rethinking Borders 1996 and a forthcoming three volume anthology of the writings of LA artist Mike Kelley

Reconciling Art and Technology Subrata Dasgupta, 2024-05-14 This book examines two venerable cultures art and technology and uses the young interdisciplinary of cognitive history combined with case studies of both ancient and modern artifacts to explore and unveil some of the bridges by which this reconciliation of two seemingly distant and oppositional cultures can be effected

Art and technology are commonly regarded as oppositional While both are concerned with made things artifacts and both have their origins in pre literate antiquity the primary purposes they are intended for are quite distinct the artifacts of technology serve utilitarian purposes while those of art serve affective needs This opposition between art and technology notably argued by such scholars as Lewis Mumford and George Kubler is challenged in this book For when we consider art and technology as creative phenomena then many significant interesting and often subtle commonalities emerge whereby a reconciliation a unity of these two great cultures seems possible This book utilizes case studies of both ancient and modern artifacts ranging from the Nataraja sculpture of ancient India a great astronomical clock of ancient China and Japanese Samurai swordmaking through Gothic cathedrals and Renaissance paintings of Europe to English Elizabethan machinery to the French Impressionists to modernist concrete structures and paintings in both East and West This book will be of interest to students and professional scholars interested in the histories of art and technology cultural history and creativity studies Figures of Ill Repute

Charles Bernheimer,1997 Ubiquitous in the streets and brothels of nineteenth century Paris the prostitute was even more so in the novels and paintings of the time Charles Bernheimer discusses how these representations of the sexually available woman express male ambivalence about desire money class and the body Interweaving close textual analysis with historical anecdote and theoretical speculation Bernheimer demonstrates how the formal properties of art can serve strategically to control anxious fantasies about female sexual power Drawing on methods derived from cultural studies psychoanalysis social history feminist theory and narrative analysis this interdisciplinary classic available now for the first time in paperback was awarded Honorable Mention in 1990 for the James Russell Lowell prize awarded by the Modern Language Association for the best book of criticism The Oxford Handbook of Aesthetics Jerrold Levinson,2005-01-27 The Oxford Handbook of Aesthetics has assembled 48 brand new essays making this a comprehensive guide available to the theory application history and future of the field Gender, Space, and the Gaze in Post-Haussmann Visual Culture

Temma Balducci,2017-03-27 Relying on a range of visual and written sources Gender Space and the Gaze offers fresh ways of considering how masculinity and femininity were lived in late nineteenth century Paris The book moves beyond shopworn dichotomies rooted in Baudelaire s The Painter of Modern Life 1863 that have shaped scholarship on this period
