Material culture : critical concepts in the social sciences. Vol. 3 : Pt. 1 Victor Buchli,2004 Publisher description

The Oxford Handbook of Material Culture Studies Dan Hicks,Mary C. Beaudry,2010-09-02 Written by an international team of experts the Handbook makes accessible a full range of theoretical and applied approaches to the study of material culture and the place of materiality in social theory presenting current thinking about material culture from the fields of archaeology anthropology geography and science and technology studies Technological Choices Pierre Lemonnier,2013-10-15 Technological Choices applies the critical tools of archaeology to the subject of technology and its impact on humankind throughout the ages An examination of the challenges technological innovations present to various cultures Technological Choices asserts that in any society such choices are made on the basis of cultural values and social relations rather than on the inherent benefits in technology itself Of course this revolutionary viewpoint has critical implications for contemporary Western societies Based on case studies covering a wide range of chronologies and geographies Technological Choices moves rapidly from Neolithic Europe to the modern industrial age stopping on the way to examine the tribes of Papua New Guinea rural Indian and North African societies as well as several European peasant communities The techniques studied range from the manufacture of stone implements to the development of high tech transportation devices With its breadth of subject matter and multidisciplinary approach Technological Choices offers new insight into the interrelationship between technology and society Also unprecedented is the book s emphasis on the functional aspects of material culture Style, Society, and Person Christopher Carr,Jill E. Neitzel,2013-11-11 Style Society and Person integrates the diverse current and past understandings of the causes of style in material culture It comprehensively surveys the many factors that cause style reviews theories that address these factors builds and tests a unifying framework for integrating the theories and illustrates the framework with detailed analyses of archaeological and ethnographic data ranging from simple to complex societies Archaeologists sociocultural anthropologists and educators will appreciate the unique unifying approach this book takes to developing style theory The Anthropology of Art Howard Morphy,Morgan Perkins,2009-02-04 This anthology provides a single volume overview of the essential theoretical debates in the anthropology of art Drawing together significant work in the field from the second half of the twentieth century it enables readers to appreciate the art of different cultures at different times Advances a cross cultural concept of art that moves beyond traditional distinctions between Western and non Western art Provides the basis for the appreciation of art of different cultures and times Enhances readers appreciation of the aesthetics of art and of the important role it plays in human society Androgynous Objects Maureen A. MacKenzie,2019-01-25 Androgynous Objects explores the way meaning is encoded in material culture by focusing on the androgynous symbolism of the looped string bag or bilum of the Telef people of Central New Guinea The web of meanings woven into the bag is shown to extend beyond women s lives and bodies It is open to manipulation and reformation in a variety of contexts and is used by both Telefol women and men to explore and so explain the complexities and ambiguities inherent in their social life

Human Mobility and Technological Transfer in the Prehistoric Mediterranean Evangelia Kiriatzi, Carl Knappett, 2016-12-24

The diverse forms of regional connectivity in the ancient world have recently become an important focus for those interested in the deep history of globalisation This volume represents a significant contribution to this new trend as it engages thematically with a wide range of connectivities in the later prehistory of the Mediterranean from the later Neolithic of northern Greece to the Levantine Iron Age and with diverse forms of materiality from pottery and metal to stone and glass With theoretical overviews from leading thinkers in prehistoric mobilities and commentaries from top specialists in neighbouring domains the volume integrates detailed case studies within a comparative framework The result is a thorough treatment of many of the key issues of regional interaction and technological diversity facing archaeologists working across diverse places and periods As this book presents key case studies for human and technological mobility across the eastern Mediterranean in later prehistory it will be of interest primarily to Mediterranean archaeologists though also to historians and anthropologists

The Archaeology of Art Andrew Meirion Jones, Andrew Cochrane, 2018-05-20 How can archaeologists interpret ancient art and images if they do not treat them as symbols or signifiers of identity Traditional approaches to the archaeology of art have borrowed from the history of art and the anthropology of art by focusing on iconography meaning communication and identity This puts the archaeology of art at a disadvantage as an understanding of iconography and meaning requires a detailed knowledge of historical or ethnographic context unavailable to many archaeologists Rather than playing to archaeology s weaknesses the authors argue that an archaeology of art should instead play to archaeology s strength the material character of archaeological evidence Using case studies examining rock art figurines beadwork murals coffin decorations sculpture and architecture from Europe the Americas Asia Australia and north Africa the authors develop an understanding of the affective and effective nature of ancient art and imagery An analysis of a series of material based practices from gesture and improvisation to miniaturisation and gigantism assembly and disassembly and the use of distinctions in colour enable key concepts such as style and meaning to be re imagined as affective practices Recasting the archaeology of art as the study of affects offers a new prospectus for the study of ancient art and imagery

Isbell,2015-01-28 The origins and development of civilization are vital components to the understanding of the cultural processes that create human societies Comparing and contrasting the evolutionary sequences from different civilizations is one approach to discovering their unique development One area for comparison is in the Central Andes where several societies remained in isolation without a written language As a direct result the only resource to understand these societies is their material artifacts In this second volume the focus is on the art and landscape remains and what they uncover about societies of the Central Andes region The ancient art and landscape revealing the range and richness of the societies of the area significantly shaped the development of Andean archaeology This work includes discussions on pottery and textiles iconography and symbols ideology geoglyphs and rock art This volume will be of interest to Andean archaeologists cultural and historical anthropologists material archaeologists and Latin American historians

The Swift Creek Gift Neill J. Wallis, 2011-02-23 Assesses Woodland Period interactions using technofunctional mineralogical and chemical data derived from Swift Creek Complicated Stamped sherds A unique dataset for studying past social interactions comes from Swift Creek Complicated Stamped pottery that linked sites throughout much of the Eastern Woodlands but that was primarily distributed over the lower Southeast Although connections have been demonstrated their significance has remained enigmatic How and why were apparently utilitarian vessels or the wooden tools used to make them distributed widely across the landscape This book assesses Woodland Period interactions using technofunctional mineralogical and chemical data derived from Swift Creek Complicated Stamped sherds whose provenience is fully documented from both mortuary mounds and village middens along the Atlantic coast Together these data demonstrate formal and functional differences between mortuary and village assemblages along with the nearly exclusive occurrence of foreign made cooking pots in mortuary contexts The Swift Creek Gift provides insight into the unique workings of gift exchanges to transform seemingly mundane materials like cooking pots into powerful tools of commemoration affiliation and ownership

The Gordion Excavations Final Reports, Volume III Ann Gunter, 1991-01-29 Excavations on the City Mound of Gordion in 1961 and 1962 reached to levels containing remnants of Bronze Age structures The author provides a detailed stratigraphical presentation of the pottery and small finds from these strata Bronze Age Gordion is placed in the historical and cultural context of the Anatolian Bronze Age Professor Machteld J Mellink has supplied a cross section of the Bronze Age City Mound and a brief discussion of the stratigraphy University Museum Monograph 73

The Tiny and the Fragmented S. Rebecca Martin, Stephanie M. Langin-Hooper, 2018-10-16 Miniature and fragmentary objects are both eye catching and yet easily dismissed Tiny scale entices users with visions of Lilliputian worlds The ambiguity of fragments intrigues us offering tactile reminders of reality's transience Yet the standard scholarly approach to such objects has been to see them as secondary incomplete things whose principal purpose was to refer to a complete and often life size whole The Tiny and the Fragmented offers a series of fresh perspectives on the familiar concepts of the tiny and the fragmented Written by a prestigious group of internationally acclaimed scholars the volume presents a remarkable diversity of case studies that range from Neolithic Europe to pre Colombian Honduras to the classical Mediterranean and ancient Near East Each scholar takes a different approach to issues of miniaturization and fragmentation but is united in considering the little and broken things of the past as objects in their own right Whether a life size or whole thing is made in a scaled down form deliberately broken as part of its use or only considered successful in the eyes of ancient users if it shows some signs of wear it challenges our expectations of representation and wholeness of what it means for a work of art to be finished and affective Overall The Tiny and the Fragmented demands a reconsideration of the social and contextual nature of miniaturization fragmentation and incompleteness making the case that it was because of rather than in spite of their small or partial state that these objects were valued parts of the personal and social worlds they inhabited

Engaged Anthropology Michelle

Hegmon, B. Sunday Eiselt, 2005-01-01 This collection of essays is based on the 2005 Society for American Archaeology symposium and presents research that epitomizes Richard I Ford's approach of engaged anthropology. This transdisciplinary approach integrates archaeological research with perspectives from ethnography, history, and ecology and engages the anthropologist with Native partners and with socio-natural landscapes. Research papers largely focus on the U.S. Southwest but also consider other areas of North America, issues related to museums, collections, and indigenous approaches to materials research.
