Christophilopoulou, 2020-08-31 The Material Cultures in Public Engagement volume seeks to document and explore the significant change in the relationship of Museums with collections of the Ancient World and their audiences The volume establishes a new approach to the study of public archaeology as a discipline and application within Museums by bringing together the voices and experiences of museum professionals curators conservators and researchers and public engagement professionals Chapters in this volume present clear case studies of the variety and diversity of public engagement projects conducted currently within European Museums and beyond While the majority of case studies presented in the volume s chapters stem from European Museum programmes plenty of reference is made on parallel strategies and successful public engagement programmes outside Europe e g recently implemented projects by the Pointe Calli re Museum Montreal the Dallas and Cleveland Museums of Art or the Metropolitan Museum of Art New York to name but a few Case studies within the volume provide important insights as to why public engagement programmes have developed in different ways between

Europe and the Americas as well as whether these differences may stem from different curatorial practices Finally a number of studies included in this volume point out that methodologies and practices of public engagement applied currently by Museums in or outside Europe are rarely the subject of theoretical and methodological scrutiny unlike other fields of study of the Ancient World or other social sciences In summary chapters within the book promise to contribute to the advancement of public engagement with the Ancient World as well as to the advancement of public archaeology itself as a practice close attention is paid to the distinctive forms of financialisation arising from commodification commodity form and commodity calculation The differences in the extent to which and how these prevail are addressed through the innovative system of provision approach and its framing of material culture through use of ten distinctive attributes of such cultures known as the 10Cs Constructed Construed Conforming Commodified Contextual Contradictory Closed Contested Collective and Chaotic This framing of the cultures attached to financialisation is then illustrated through case studies demonstrating the diverse ways in which shifting cultures have served to embed financialisation in our daily lives After a discussion of the material culture of financialisation itself there are two sector examples which review financial cultures in the provision of water and housing These are followed by considerations of financialisation in financial literacy and financial inclusion the media and finally well being The chapters in this book were originally published in a special issue of New Political Economy
