Materialist Feminisms:

Materialist Feminisms Donna Landry, Gerald McLean, 1993-10-08 Materialist Feminisms investigates the crucial theoretical and political debates that have determined the course of British and American feminism over the last thirty years. As intellectual terrain has shifted during these decades from Marxism to cultural materialism and poststructuralist literary theory, questions of race and ethnicity, sexuality, postcoloniality and green politics have converged and sometimes collided with the categories within feminism but analyze many of the most important texts and movements of contemporary cultural theory. Offering not so much a unified history as an analysis of important moments within these debates, this book examines the work of such feminist theorists as Michelle Barrett, Judith Butler, Rosalind Coward, Donna Haraway, bell hooks, the m/f collective, Tania Modleski, Jacqueline Rose, Gayle Rubin, Hortense Spillers and Gayatri Spivak. Materialist Feminisms includes new exemplary readings of feminist detective, African American and postcolonial fiction, three kinds of textures: commodity, currently fetishized in the literary marketplace; What might the success of these kinds of writing signify about politics and desire in contemporary Anglo American culture? Demonstrating how the poststructuralist critique of essences and identities need not end in a complete paralysis of political action as has sometimes been claimed, Materialist Feminisms argues that feminism, socialism and deconstruction are not theoretical dead ends but names for unfinished business.

Materialist Feminism Rosemary Hennessy, Chrys Ingraham, 1997 During the 1980s capitalism triumphantly secured its global reach, anti-communist ideologies hammered home socialism's inherent failure, the New Left increasingly moved into the professional middle class and many of feminism's earlier priorities were marginalized. Identity politics, often formulated in terms of social reconstructionism or multiculturalism, has increasingly suppressed materialist feminism's systematic perspective, replacing it with discourse analysis or cultural politics. Materialist Feminism: A Reader argues against the retreat to multiculturalism for keeping invisible the material links among the explosion of meaning-making practices in highly industrialized social sectors, the exploitation of women's labor and the appropriation of women's bodies that continues to undergird the scramble for profits and state power in multinational capitalism.

Materialist Feminism and the Politics of Discourse Rosemary Hennessy, 2012-10-11 Materialist Feminism and the Politics of Discourse confronts the impasses in materialist feminist work on rethinking woman as a discursively constructed subject. The book looks at the problem of examining critically the social dimensions on which theories of discourse are premised, how such theories understand materiality, the relation between women's experience and feminist politics and that between history and discourse. Rosemary Hennessy considers the work of Kristeva, Foucault, Laclau and Mouffe and argues for a materialist feminist re-articulation of discourse as ideology. Concerns over identity and difference are incorporated into a rewriting of materialist feminism's analysis of women's oppression across capitalist and patriarchal structures. In adapting postmodernist theories in this way, Hennessy develops a project of social change where feminism, while maintaining its specificity, is necessarily aligned with other emancipatory movements.

Material Feminisms Stacy Alaimo, Susan Hekman, 2008-01-02 Harnessing the energy of provocative theories generated by recent understandings of the human body the natural world and the material world Material Feminisms presents an entirely new way for feminists to conceive of the question of materiality In lively and timely essays an international group of feminist thinkers challenges the assumptions and norms that have previously defined studies about the body These wide ranging essays grapple with topics such as the material reality of race the significance of sexual difference the impact of disability experience and the complex interaction between nature and culture in traumatic events such as Hurricane Katrina By insisting on the importance of materiality this volume breaks new ground in philosophy feminist theory cultural studies science studies and other fields where the body and nature collide
