The Teacher Development Continuum in the United States and China National Research Council,Policy and Global Affairs,Board on International Scientific Organizations,U.S. National Commission on Mathematics Instruction,2010-10-28 In 1999 Liping Ma published her book Knowing and Teaching Elementary Mathematics Teachers Understanding of Fundamental Mathematics in the United States and China which probed the kinds of knowledge that elementary school teachers need to convey mathematical concepts and procedures effectively to their students Later that year Roger Howe a member of the U S National Commission on Mathematics Instruction USNC MI reviewed the book for the Notices of the American Mathematical Society concluding that it has lessons for all educational policymakers Intrigued by the idea of superrank teachers the USNC MI sponsored a workshop entitled The Teacher Development Continuum in the United States and China The purpose of the workshop was to examine the structure of the mathematics teaching profession in the United States and China The main presentations and discussion from the workshop are summarized in this volume

Transforming Teacher Preparation Through Identity, Development, and Effective Technologies Sargent, Denise LaVoie,Murphy, Kristin M.,2024-08-09 In the landscape of global education there is a dire shortage of teachers exacerbated by declining enrollment rates and a mass exodus of educators particularly in urban settings UNESCO s revelation that millions of teachers are needed by 2030 underscores the critical gaps in our ability to provide quality education As the education sector grapples with these challenges Transforming Teacher Preparation Through Identity Development and Effective Technologies offers valuable solutions This compilation responds to the pressing need for a paradigm shift in teacher preparation offering insights recommendations and diverse perspectives from experts worldwide to address the current crisis and shape the future of education Teacher shortages and diminishing enrollment rates coupled with the departure of educators pose a significant threat to the quality of education globally Urban areas in particular witness a disproportionate exodus of educators creating disparities that impact the most vulnerable students The COVID 19 pandemic has further emphasized the need for innovative technology driven solutions in teacher preparation As schools deal with these issues the imperative is to not only reflect on the current state of teacher preparation but also to set forth recommendations that will transform the field ensuring a robust and resilient education system for the years to come International Teacher Development Program ,1958 Education and Society in Hong Kong and Macao M. Bray,Ramsey Koo,2006-06-28 Hong Kong and Macao have much in common The dominant populations in both territories are Cantonese speaking Chinese both are small in area both are urban societies both have been colonies of European powers and both have undergone political transition to reunification with China Yet in education for reasons that are analysed in this book they are very different The patterns of similarities and differences in the two territories make a fascinating basis for comparative study The overarching theme of the book on continuity and change is particularly pertinent following the transition of the two societies of the postcolonial era This thoroughly revised and expanded second edition builds on the widely acclaimed first edition The work has been recognised as a significant contribution to the broad field of comparative education as well as to study of the specific societies which are its main focus Progress of Education in India India.
