Dames in the Driver's Seat Jans B. Wager,2009-03-06 With its focus on dangerous determined femmes fatales hardboiled detectives and crimes that almost but never quite succeed film noir has long been popular with moviegoers and film critics alike Film noir was a staple of classical Hollywood filmmaking during the years 1941 1958 and has enjoyed a resurgence in popularity since the 1990s Dames in the Driver s Seat offers new views of both classical era and contemporary noirs through the lenses of gender class and race Jans Wager analyzes how changes in film noir s representation of women s and men s roles class status and racial identities mirror changes in a culture that is now often referred to as postmodern and postfeminist Following introductory chapters that establish the theoretical basis of her arguments Wager engages in close readings of the classic noirs The Killers Out of the Past and Kiss Me Deadly and the contemporary noirs L A Confidential Mulholland Falls Fight Club Twilight Fargo and Jackie Brown Wager divides recent films into retro noirs made in the present but set in the 1940s and 1950s and neo noirs made and set in the present but referring to classic noir narratively or stylistically Going beyond previous studies of noir her perceptive readings of these films reveal that retro noirs fulfill a reactionary social function looking back nostalgically to outdated gender roles and racial relations while neo noirs often offer more revisionary representations of women though not necessarily of people of color

Mob Culture Lee Grieveson,Esther Sonnet,Peter Stanfield,2005 Mob Culture offers a long awaited fresh look at the American gangster film exposing its hidden histories from the Black Hand gangs of the early twentieth century to The Sopranos Departing from traditional approaches that have typically focused on the nature of the gangster the editors have collected essays that engage the larger question of how the meaning of criminality has changed over time Grouped into three thematic sections the essays examine gangster films through the lens of social gender and racial ethnic issues

Farrimond,2017-07-06 The femme fatale occupies a precarious yet highly visible space in contemporary cinema From sci fi alien women to teenage bad girls filmmakers continue to draw on the notion of the sexy deadly woman in ways which traverse boundaries of genre and narrative This book charts the articulations of the femme fatale in American cinema of the past twenty years and contends that despite her problematic relationship with feminism she offers a vital means for reading the connections between mainstream cinema and representations of female agency The films discussed raise questions about the limits and potential of positioning women who meet highly normative standards of beauty as powerful icons of female agency They point towards the constant shifting between patriarchal appropriation and feminist recuperation that inevitably accompanies such representations within mainstream media contexts More Than Night James Naremore,2008-01-14

Tinseltown to Bordertown Celestino Deleyto,2017-04-03 Close readings that look for the real Los Angeles in a selection of contemporary movies Los Angeles is a global metropolis whose history and social narrative is linked to one of its top exports cinema L A appears on screen more than almost any city since Hollywood and is home to the American film industry Historically conversations of social and racial homogeneity have dominated the construction of Los Angeles as a cosmopolitan city with Hollywood films largely contributing to this image At the same time the city is also known for its steady immigration social inequalities and exclusionary urban practices not dissimilar to any other borderland in the world The Spanish names and sounds within the city are paradoxical in relation to the striking invisibility of its Hispanic residents at many economic social and political levels given their vast numbers Additionally the impact of the 1992 Los Angeles riots left the city raw yet brought about changing discourses and provided Hollywood with the opportunity to rebrand its hometown by projecting to the world a new image in which social uniformity is challenged by diversity It is for this reason that author Celestino Deleyto decided to take a closer look at how the quintessential cinematic city contributes to the ongoing creation of its own representation on the screen From Tinseltown to Bordertown Los Angeles on Film starts from the theoretical premise that place matters Deleyto sees film as predominantly a spatial system and argues that the space of film and the space of reality are closely intertwined in complex ways and that we should acknowledge the potential of cinema to intervene in the historical process of the construction of urban space as well as its ability to record place The author asks to what extent this is also the city that is being constructed by contemporary movies From Tinseltown to Bordertown offers a unique combination of urban cultural and border theory as well as the author s direct observation and experience of the city s social and human geography with close readings of a selection of films such as Falling Down White Men Can t Jump and Collateral Through these textual analyses Deleyto tries to situate filmic narratives of Los Angeles within the city itself and find a sense of the real place in their fictional fabrications While in a certain sense Los Angeles movies continue to exist within the rather exclusive boundaries of Tinseltown the special borderliness of the city is becoming more and more evident in cinematic stories Deleyto s monograph is a fascinating case study on one of the United States most enigmatic cities Film scholars with an interest in history and place will appreciate this book New York ,1996 New York Magazine

Land of Smoke and Mirrors Vincent Brook, 2013-01-22 Unlike the more forthrightly mythic origins of other urban centers think Rome via Romulus and Remus or Mexico City via the god Huitzilopochtli Los Angeles emerged from a smoke and mirrors process that is simultaneously literal and figurative real and imagined material and metaphorical physical and textual Through penetrating analysis and personal engagement Vincent Brook uncovers the many portraits of this ever enticing ever ambivalent and increasingly multicultural megalopolis Divided into sections that probe Los Angeles's checkered history and reflect on Hollywood's own self reflections the book shows how the city despite considerable remaining challenges is finally blowing away some of the smoke of its not always proud past and rhetorically adjusting its rear view mirrors Part I is a review of the city's history through the early 1900s focusing on the seminal 1884 novel Ramona and its immediate effect but also exploring its ongoing impact through interviews with present day Tongva Indians attendance at the 88th annual Ramona pageant and analysis of its feature film adaptations Brook deals with Hollywood as geographical site film production center and frame of mind in Part II He charts the events leading up to Hollywood's emergence as the world's movie capital and explores subsequent developments of the film industry from its golden age through the so called New Hollywood citing such self reflexive films as Sunset Blvd Singin in the Rain and The Truman Show Part III considers LA noir a subset of film noir that emerged alongside the classical noir cycle in the 1940s and 1950s and continues today The city's status as a privileged noir site is analyzed in relation to its history and through discussions of such key LA noir novels and films as Double Indemnity Chinatown and Crash In Part IV Brook examines multicultural Los Angeles Using media texts as signposts he maps the history and contemporary situation of the city's major ethno racial and other minority groups looking at such films as Mi Familia Latinos Boyz n the Hood African Americans Charlotte Sometimes Asians Falling Down Whites and The Kids Are All Right LGBT
