Oil in the People's Republic of China Wolfgang Bartke,1977-01-01 China's Energy Security and Relations With Petrostates Anna Kuteleva,2021-07-26 This book examines the development of bilateral energy relations between China and the two oil rich countries Kazakhstan and Russia Challenging conventional assumptions about energy politics and China's global quest for oil this book examines the interplay of politics and sociocultural contexts It shows how energy resources become ideas and how these ideas are mobilized in the realm of international relations China's relations with Kazakhstan and Russia are simultaneously enabled and constrained by the discursive politics of oil It is argued that to build collaborative and constructive energy relations with China its partners in Kazakhstan Russia and elsewhere must consider not only the material realities of China's energy industry and the institutional settings of China's energy policy but also the multiple symbolic meanings that energy resources and particularly oil acquire in China China's Energy Security and Relations with Petrostates offers a nuanced understanding of China's bilateral energy relations with Kazakhstan and Russia raising essential questions about the social logic of international energy politics It will appeal to students and scholars of international relations energy security Chinese and post Soviet studies along with researchers working in the fields of energy policy and environmental sustainability China's Economic Relations with the West and Japan, 1949-1979 Chad Mitcham,2005-09-16 During the period 1949 to 1979 communist China was officially pursuing a policy of self sufficiency and the United States and its allies were officially implementing a trade embargo against communist China However this book based on extensive original research demonstrates that China was highly dependent on Western Japanese grain imports The text shows that groups lobbying on behalf of Western Japanese grain producers and related industries had successfully found ways of by passing the embargo This book charts the complicated picture of how economic relations between China the West and Japan developed in these years China's Economic Relations with the West and Japan, 1949-79 Chad J. Mitcham,2005 During the period 1949 to 1979 communist China was officially pursuing a policy of self sufficiency and the United States and its allies were officially implementing a trade embargo against communist China However this book based on extensive original research demonstrates that China was highly dependent on Western Japanese grain imports The text shows that groups lobbying on behalf of Western Japanese grain producers and related industries had successfully found ways of by passing the embargo This book charts the complicated picture of how economic relations between China the West and Japan developed in these years China at 60 Lai-Ha Chan,Gerald Chan,Fung Kwan,2011 This edited volume China at 60 explores the interactions between China and the world over the course of 60 years of Communist Party rule since 1949 and the impact of these interactions on China's domestic development To understand China's development experience and its transformation it is necessary to examine the trajectory of development from pre reform to post reform periods While the book may concur with previous findings on the changing development of China under economic reform more importantly it demonstrates the areas of continuity of the PRC's existence over the entire six decades To that end a dual theme change and continuity and global local interactions on China's development is adopted to assess the historical development of China's policies in various issue areas over the past 60 years The focus is chiefly on the domestic impacts of China's increasing engagement with the world the global implications of China's reform efforts and growing power and the long lasting uniqueness of this rising non European nation The book brings together a team of international experts to share their perspectives on global local interactions within a range of different topics including foreign policy domestic politics macroeconomic policy the central local relations the People's Liberation Army public health energy security finance and banking foreign trade and intellectual property rights as well as changes in the state's policies towards interest groups such as ethnic minorities and women

China's Foreign Policy in the Arab World, 1955-75 Hashim S.H. Behbehani, 2020-09-10

China's foreign policy in the Arab world is important because it reflects China's general foreign policy In this study first published in 1981 the author draws upon a wealth of previously unpublished and inaccessible material to analyse Chinese attitudes in three cases the two Arab liberation movements the Palestine Resistance Movement and the Popular Front for the Liberation of the Oman and the established and independent State of Kuwait Since the Arab liberation movements played a significant political role within their fields of operation it was necessary for China to decide whether these movements did actually fit in with Chinese foreign policy objectives Dr Behbehani's analysis of these two case studies provides the basis for a discussion of whether China's motives in supporting the liberation movements are theoretical or purely practical China's support for Kuwait's political internal continuity is related to the stability of the whole Gulf region The author analyses Chinese support for Kuwait and the surrounding conservative states on two main bases political and economic in the form of trade It is through these channels particularly the economic one that China has sought to establish itself in the Gulf and the Arabian peninsula

Availability of World Energy Resources D.C. Ion, 2012-12-06

Energy will be a most important topic in the 1980s The speed with which a dozen or more trends will develop will be critical Most of these trends are interdependent and interacting and include the degree of constraint on oil and gas supplies exercised by the producers whether inside or outside the OPEC as they each attempt to match production to their own energy needs and the funding of their own economic growth from exports the depth of the appreciation by industrialized countries that energy supplies will be tight and fossil fuels will be very expensive at least until the end of the century the actions taken by those countries to ameliorate this situation in exploration for new oil and gas sources in exploitation effort for new coal supplies in acceptance of the need for expansion of nuclear energy supplies the balancing of energy supply and demand in centrally planned economies the rate of development within developing countries including China the development and adoption of unconventional energy sources the adaptation of the world financial system to new situations These examples highlight some of the continuing problems in the energy field These problems will be discussed in all sorts of meetings of all sorts of people in all sorts of places and through all forms of the communication media Other trends will materialize and take the centre of the stage often only for a short time
