Paris 1937 Worlds On Exhibition:

Paris 1937 James D. Herbert, 1998 In fact Herbert argues the exhibitions developed a particular sense of French national identity one that in managing to be at the same moment both inwardly focused and beneficently expansive would present a vivid contrast to the growing German nationalism of the Third Reich His epilogue takes a final look at these issues from the perspective of Jean Cocteau's 1950 film Orphee

Paris 1937 James D. Herbert, 2004-02 Explores the cultural significance of 6 exhibitions or new museum installations all opening in Paris between mid 1937 and early 1938 the commercially oriented world's fair titled L'Exposition Internationale des Arts et Techniques the historical Musée des Monuments Français the ethnographic Musée de l'Homme two massive art retrospectives and L'Exposition Internationale du Surréalisme They competed with and yet also complemented one another in visually rendering the full scope of human accomplishment through time and across the globe The exhibitions developed a particular sense of French national identity that would present a vivid contrast to the growing German nationalism of the third Reich A pioneering text in the field of visual studies 45 B W photos

Cultures of International Exhibitions 1840-1940 Marta Filipová, 2017-07-05 Beyond the great exhibitions expositions universelles and world fairs in London Paris or Chicago numerous smaller yet ambitious exhibitions took place in provincial cities and towns across the world Focusing on the period between 1840 and 1940 this volume takes a novel look at the exhibitionary cultures of this period and examines the motivations scope and impact of lesser known exhibitions in for example Australia Japan Brazil as well as a number of European countries The individual case studies included explore the role of these exhibitions in the global exhibitionary network and consider their marginality related to their location and omission by academic research so far The chapters also highlight a number of important issues from regional or national identities the role of modernisation and tradition to the relationship between capital cities and provincial towns present in these exhibitions They also address the key topic of colonial exhibitions as well as the displays of arts and design in the context of the so called marginal fairs Cultures of International Exhibitions 1840-1940 Great Exhibitions in the Margins therefore opens up new angles in the way the global phenomenon of a great exhibition can be examined through the prism of the regional and will make a vital contribution to those interested in exhibition studies and related fields

Locating the Global Holger Weiss, 2020-08-10 This volume adds to the plurality of global histories by locating the global through its articulation and manifestation within particular localities It accomplishes this by bringing together interlinked case studies that analyse various temporal and spatial dimensions of the global in the local and the interactions between the local and the global The case studies apply a spatial approach to analyse how global questions of space movement networks borders and territory are worked out at a local level The material draws on the Nordic countries Europe the Atlantic world Africa and Australia and ranges from the seventeenth to the twentieth century It is further divided into sections that address topics such as the translocality of humans and goods local articulations of identities and globalities parliamentarism and anti colonialism

Geppert, 2025-03-11 Imperial expositions held in fin de siècle London Paris and Berlin were knots in a world-wide web Conceptualizing expositions as meta-media Fleeting Cities constitutes a transnational and transdisciplinary investigation into how modernity was created and displayed consumed and disputed in the European metropolis around 1900

Fleeting Cities A. Geppert, 2010-11-03 Imperial expositions held in fin de siècle London Paris and Berlin were knots in a world-wide web Conceptualizing expositions as meta-media Fleeting Cities constitutes a transnational and transdisciplinary investigation into how modernity was created and displayed consumed and disputed in the European metropolis around 1900

The Essence and the Margin Laura Rorato, Anna Saunders, 2009 With the expansion of the EU and calls for a European constitution the question of a common European identity has become increasingly pressing in recent times However in the face of diverse national and regional traditions and the absence of an obvious European cultural imaginary the forging of a strong sense of European identity proves problematic This volume brings together case studies of national and regional images from across Europe which together suggest emerging patterns of identification within contemporary Europe patterns which may not necessarily amount to a European identity but rather to a European mode of identification The chronological structure of the volume demonstrates the increasingly problematic nature of national collective memories and past imaginaries in light of emergent marginal voices and images and suggests that it is both from beyond and within the national paradigm that new challenges are now reshaping the cultural imaginary of European communities Focusing on cultural images within film literature national narratives and myths museum exhibitions and architecture this volume is of interest to a wide variety of disciplines in the humanities and presents an interdisciplinary approach to questions of cultural memory and identity formation

The Global Work of Art Caroline A. Jones, 2017-06-01
Global biennials have proliferated in the contemporary art world but artists engagement with large scale international exhibitions has a much longer history that has influenced the present in important ways Going back to the earliest world s fairs in the nineteenth century this book argues that globalism was incubated in a century of international art contests and today constitutes an important tactic for artists As world s fairs brought millions of attendees into contact with foreign cultures products and processes artworks became juxtaposed in a theater of nations which challenged artists and critics to think outside their local academies From Gustave Courbet s rebel pavilion near the official art exhibit at the 1855 French World s Fair to curator Beryl Madra s choice of London based Cypriot Hussein Chalayan for the off site Turkish pavilion at the 2006 Venice Biennale artists have used these exhibitions to reflect on contemporary art speak to their own governments back home and challenge the wider geopolitical realm changing art and art history along the way Ultimately Caroline A Jones argues the modern appetite for experience and event structures which were cultivated around the art at these earlier expositions have now come to constitute contemporary art itself producing encounters that transform the public and force us to reflect critically on the global condition

Rethinking Modern Austrian Art Beyond the Metropolis Julia Secklehner, 2024-08-02
This study examines the role played by regional cultures in modern art and visual culture in Central Europe between 1918 and 1938 Analysing paintings photographs prints and illustrated magazines in relation to topics such as tourism social activism rural exoticism gender and ethnic diversity the book offers a fresh perspective on Central European art and visual culture It pays particular attention to Austria a country often ignored in histories of modernism in Central Europe yet one where the countryside gained high visibility as a part of modern culture between the wars Examples from Czechoslovakia and Hungary also play an important role in comparison and challenge the nationally fragmented histories of modernism in the region The book s approach overall is also relevant beyond Central Europe it corrects assumptions that modern art and visual culture were at home in the urban space and emphasises the role of the countryside as an agent of renewal and emancipation in order to construct a more nuanced history of modernism The book will be of interest to scholars studying art history Central European studies European Studies modernism and cultural history The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Antwerp Royal Museum Annua l2013-2014 Paul Vandembroeck, 2016-12-28 At various points over the course of the 20th century the Belgian State and its various ministries and provinces consciously chose to subsidise not only the fine arts but also the applied and decorative arts and in particular the art of weaving tapestry On the one hand orders were placed for World Exhibitions and for Belgian embassies and on the other competitions were held for tapestries to be hung in important locations such as the United Nations and NATO headquarters and the exhibitions that were organized by the various ministries over the years They provided an overview of the ways in which this branch of the arts was changing as well as representative work by the best tapestry designers The exhibitions organized by the provincial authorities give quite a different image There were the highly conventional exhibitions of Brabantine tapestries to promote the craftsmanship of the province and there were the more innovative textile exhibitions Taken as a whole the commissions competitions and exhibitions give a good overview of what was happening in Belgium in the field of tapestry over the period 1945-1980 They also make it clear what image was being projected abroad that of a country with rich traditions master craftsmanship in weaving and in the 1970s some affiliation to the latest developments in European textile art
