Essais critiques sur le nouveau Théâtre de Bordeaux.

1^{re} LETTRE.

Aux Auteurs du Journal.

Je suis votre officier, Messieurs, comme un nouveau tribut de mon estime & de mon zèle, quelques petites observations sur le Théâtre de Bordeaux. Les plans détaillés de ce monument viennent enfin d'être gravés dans un in-folio qui se vend chez les Libraires du Palais Royal. Je me propose de les analyser, le plus clairement qu'il me sera possible, à vos Lecteurs; d'en comparer les avantages & les inconvénients avec ceux des édifices modernes du même genre; surtout, d'appuyer dans cette discussion l'esprit de la plus exacte impartialité.

C'est un dévouement sincère, que des occupations plus utiles me rendent fort utile. Je suis charmé qu'il soit agréable aux Amateurs des beaux Arts dont vos Feuilles périodiques font souvent les délices par de piquantes variétés.

Je commence aujourd'hui par le point capital. Je considère l'ensemble du plan : c'est, je crois, le premier objet, le plus digne d'attention; c'est lui qui caractérise le mieux l'Architecte & son ouvrage.

La ville de Bordeaux, grande, saine, magnifiquement ornée, prodigieusement peuplée de nationaux & d'étrangers, possède un Théâtre, une Salle de Bal & de Concert, un Hôtel-de-Ville, dignes de figurer avec les autres édifices qui décoraient déjà le circuit de son port, & qui formaient, la réputation des connaisseurs, un des plus beaux spectacles d'Europe.

Il faut, Messieurs, que vos Lecteurs se figurent cette grande perspective, en posant leur imagination de l'écuyer à l'occident, le long de la Garonne, rivière majestueuse qui courbe en demi-cercle ses ondes couronnées d'un millier de vaisseaux, de barques & de chaloupes, d'un côté de mâts, de pavillons & de banderoles.

A main gauche, est à l'est, une anse fort étroite avec ses eaux caillouteuses. Elle est bordée d'un quai d'environ demi-lieue, que termine une

Paris Journal 19371939:

Paris 1937 James D. Herbert, 2018-10-18 This elegant and theoretically informed book illustrated with forty five photographs explores the cultural significance of six exhibitions or new museum installations all opening in Paris between mid 1937 and early 1938 the commercially oriented world's fair titled L'Exposition Internationale des Arts et Techniques de la Vie Moderne the historical Musée des Monuments Français the ethnographic Musée de l'Homme two massive art retrospectives one sponsored by the state of France and the other by the municipality of Paris and L'Exposition Internationale du Surréalisme James D. Herbert capitalizes on the proximity of these disparate exhibits to show how they competed with and yet also complemented one another in visually rendering the full scope of human accomplishment through time and across the globe In this task Herbert argues they both succeeded and failed in interesting and productive ways He asserts that the exhibitions projected and in a sense created created precisely through the act of projection the real world that they ostensibly only represented In fact Herbert argues the exhibitions developed a particular sense of French national identity one that in managing to be at the same moment both inwardly focused and beneficently expansive would present a vivid contrast to the growing German nationalism of the Third Reich His epilogue takes a final look at these issues from the perspective of Jean Cocteau's 1950 film Orphée A ground breaking work in cultural history Paris 1937 with its insightful examination of objects from a variety of fields is a pioneering text in the field of visual studies

Guernica! Guernica! Herbert Southworth, 2023-09-01 Guernica Guernica A Study of Journalism Diplomacy Propaganda and History offers a riveting exploration of one of the most infamous events of the Spanish Civil War the bombing of Guernica on April 26 1937 Through meticulous research and an incisive critique of historical narratives Southworth unpacks not only the event itself but also the layers of controversy propaganda and misinformation that have surrounded it for decades His work shines a light on how journalism political agendas and historical memory converge to shape our understanding of such tragedies Southworth approaches his subject with a passion for uncovering truth amid the fog of war and propaganda He delves into primary sources including press dispatches diplomatic archives and firsthand accounts while scrutinizing the mechanisms of censorship and misinformation The book is structured in two major parts The Event which examines the facts surrounding the destruction of Guernica and The Controversy which traces the enduring debates and manipulations that have kept this tragedy at the forefront of historical and political discourse As Southworth reveals Guernica was not just a military event but a symbolic one reverberating globally as a testament to the horrors of modern warfare and the power of propaganda This work is a masterful combination of historical scholarship and media analysis offering profound insights into the complexities of documenting and interpreting history This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which

Modernism Ihor Junyk,2013-06-17 At the beginning of the twentieth century Paris was the cosmopolitan hub of Europe and home to a vast number of foreigners including the writers painters sculptors and musicians who were creating works now synonymous with modernism itself such as Les Femmes d'Alger Olympia The Rite of Spring and Ulysses The situation at the end of the period however could not have been more different even before the violence of the Second World War the cosmopolitan avant garde had largely abandoned Paris driven out by nationalism xenophobia and intolerance Foreign Modernism investigates this tense and transitional moment for both modernism and European multiculturalism by looking at the role of foreigners in Paris s artistic scene Examining works of literature sculpture ballet and performing arts music and architecture Ihor Junyk combines cultural history with contemporary work in transnationalism and diaspora studies Junyk emphasizes how migr artists used radical new forms of art to resist the culture of virulent nationalism taking root in France and to articulate new forms of cosmopolitan identity The International Protection of Women Workers International Labour Office,1921 The Invention of Terrorism in France, 1904-1939 Chris Millington,2023-09-26 The Invention of Terrorism in France 1904 1939 investigates the political and social imaginaries of terrorism in the early twentieth century Chris Millington traces the development of how the French conceived of terrorism from the late nineteenth century notion that terrorism was the deed of the mad anarchist bomber to the fraught political clashes of the 1930s when terrorism came to be understood as a political act perpetrated against French interests by organized international movements Through a close analysis of a series of terrorist incidents and representations thereof in public discourse and the press the book argues that contemporary ideas of terrorism in France as unFrench that is contrary to the ideas and values however defined that make up Frenchness emerged in the interwar years and subsequently took root long before the terrorist campaigns of Algerian nationalists during the 1950s and 1960s Millington conceptualizes terrorism not only as the act itself but also as a political and cultural construction of violence composed from a variety of discourses and deployed in particular circumstances by commentators witnesses and perpetrators In doing so he argues that the political and cultural battles inherent to perceptions of terrorism lay bare numerous concerns not least anxieties over immigration antiparliamentarianism representations of gender and the future of European peace Cinema, Nation, and Empire in Uzbekistan, 1919-1937 Cloe Drieu,2019-01-01 Between the founding of Soviet Uzbekistan in 1924 and the Stalinist Terror of the late 1930s a nationalist cinema emerged in Uzbekistan giving rise to the first wave of national film production and an Uzbek cinematographic elite In Cinema Nation and Empire in Uzbekistan Cloe Drieu uses Uzbek films as a lens to explore the creation of the Soviet State in Central Asia starting from the collapse of the Russian Empire up through the eve of WWII Drieu argues that cinema provides a perfect angle for viewing the complex history of domination nationalism and empire here used to denote the centralization of power within the Soviet sphere By exploring all of film s dimensions as a socio political phenomenon including film production film reception and filmic discourse Drieu reveals how nation and empire were built up as institutional realities and as imaginary constructs Based on archival research in the Uzbek and Russian State Archives and on in depth analyses of 14 feature length films Drieu s work examines the lively debates within the totalitarian and so called revisionist schools that invigorated Soviet historiography positioning itself within contemporary discussions about the processes of state and nation building and the emergence of nationalism more generally Revised and expanded from the original French Cinema Nation and Empire in Uzbekistan helps us to understand how Central Asia formerly part of the Russian Empire was decolonized but later in the run up to the Stalinist period and repression of the late 1930s suffered a new style of domination

Dressing Modern Frenchwomen Mary Lynn Stewart, 2020-03-03 At a glance high fashion and feminism seem unlikely partners Between the First and Second World Wars however these forces combined femininity and modernity to create the new modern French woman In this engaging study Mary Lynn Stewart reveals the fashion industry as an integral part of women s transition into modernity Analyzing what female columnists in fashion magazines and popular women novelists wrote about the new silhouette Stewart shows how bourgeois women feminized the more severe masculine images that elite designers promoted to create a hybrid form of modern that both emancipated women and celebrated their femininity She delves into the intricacies of marketing the new clothes and the new image to middle class women and examines the nuts and bolts of a changing industry including textile production relationships between suppliers and department stores and privacy and intellectual property issues surrounding ready to wear couture designs Dressing Modern Frenchwomen draws from thousands of magazine covers advertisements fashion columns and features to uncover and untangle the fascinating relationships among the fashion industry the development of modern marketing techniques and the evolution of the modern woman as active mobile and liberated
